SECTION 2. PROGRAM AND POSITION INFORMATION

a. Describe the program in which this position exists. Include program purpose, who's affected, size, and scope. Include relationship to agency mission.

The program in which this position exists is the Health Services section of the Oregon Department of Corrections. The purpose of this program is to provide health care to inmates at each state institution operated by the Department of Corrections. State and federal laws have established that inmates are entitled to health care during incarceration. Health care services available to inmates must be consistent with health care provided in the community in order to meet the legal obligation the state has when persons are incarcerated. This means that all types and levels of health care must be provided in a clinically appropriate manner by properly credentialed professionals in settings equipped and designed for the delivery of health care. Health care includes medical, dental and psychiatric/mental health services.

The Health Services section is comprised of an administrative unit which sets policy and long term direction and a series of operational units representing the health care program at each facility or a division wide clinical service. The health care program at each of the correctional institutions operated by the Department is responsible for delivering health care to inmates consistent with policy established by the Section. The average daily population for whom the entire range of services must be available is 14,500 inmates. The Health Services section employs more than 500 health care personnel and manages a number of agreements with health care organizations in communities throughout Oregon and the surrounding states in order to deliver constitutionally adequate health care. The biennial budget for the Health Services section exceeds $210 million dollars.

The Oregon Accountability Model (OAM) depends upon a team approach to custody with the security-series personnel and non-security personnel communicating effectively to maintain safe, secure, and sanitary correctional environments while preparing inmates for successful reentry into the community. The vast majority of DOC inmates will return to Oregon communities. Enhanced public safety, lower crime rates, and reduced recidivism can all be tied directly to attitudes and actions of correctional staff who must effectively apply ODOC rules and transition initiatives in their daily interaction with inmates. All staff are expected to model pro-social behaviors; reinforce positive behaviors: redirect negative behaviors; and effectively communicate observed behaviors to responsible program staff, administrators, and supervisors in support of OAM.

In support of the OAM and the Department's Affirmative Action goals, all Management and Executive Services employees are expected to recognize the value of individual and cultural differences. Employees are expected to consistently treat customers, stakeholders/partners and co-workers with dignity and respect creating a work environment where individuals' differences are sought and valued.

b. Describe the primary purpose of this position, and how it functions within this program. Complete this statement. The primary purpose of this position is to:

The primary purpose of this position is to administratively oversee the comprehensive health care delivery programs of Oregon Department of Corrections institutions located throughout the state. The ODOC currently serves approximately 14,500 inmates with over 400 Medical Services positions located in 14 minimum, medium and close custody institutions throughout the state. This position directly co-supervises the Medical Service Managers by developing program standards and best practices to ensure health care is delivered in accordance with Administrative Rules, ODOC Policies, Health Service Policies, and standards set forth by the National Commission on Correctional Health Care (NCCHC) in such a manner that the care delivered is timely, efficient, clinically appropriate and meets community standards. This position shares in the ultimate responsibility for hiring, promoting, demoting, terminating, and deciding on levels of formal discipline for Medical Services staff within the institutions. This position is responsible for ensuring that budgeted health care positions are allocated appropriately to the institutions and if there is a need for change, appropriate administrative and budgetary steps are taken. This position is a member of the Health Services Executive team and works closely with the other Health Services Administrators through participating in the planning of short and long range strategies and goals, writing and updating division wide policies and procedures for all areas and sections within Medical Services, and advocates for improvements in the delivery of quality health care based on program reviews and continuous quality improvement activities. This position participates in new prison construction planning to ensure the physical plant needs of the Medical Services section are met. This position then determines the staffing requirements based on the size and complexity of the facility as well as the types of care that will be made available. This position works in partnership with other ODOC administrators to problem solve and develop strategies for operational improvements. This position serves as a liaison with the Oregon State Board of Nursing, the Oregon Health Division, the Oregon Department of Justice, and the Employee Relations Board. And finally, this position is responsible for establishing and/or maintaining accreditation of Institution Health Care sections by the National Commission on Correctional Health Care.

SECTION 3. DESCRIPTION OF DUTIES

The employee in this position is expected to recognize their responsibility to act ethically at all times in accordance with the very highest standards of integrity.

Regular attendance is an essential function required to meet the demands of this job and to provide necessary services.

The incumbent is expected to perform position duties in a manner which promotes customer service and harmonious working relationships, including treating all persons courteously and respectfully; engage in effective team participation through willingness to assist and support co-workers, supervisors, and other work-related associations; develop good working relationships with division and agency staff and supervisors through active participation in cross-divisional group projects and in identifying and resolving problems in a constructive, collaborative manner; demonstrate openness to constructive feedback and suggestions, in an effort to strengthen work performance, and contribute to a positive, respectful and productive work atmosphere.

The Oregon Accountability Model (OAM) depends upon a team approach to custody with security-series personnel and non-security personnel communicating effectively to maintain safe, secure, and sanitary correctional environments while preparing inmates for successful reentry into the community. The vast majority of ODOC inmates will return to Oregon communities. Enhanced public safety, lower crime rates, and reduced recidivism can all be tied directly to attitudes and actions of correctional staff who must effectively apply ODOC rules and transition initiatives in their daily interaction with inmates. All staff are expected to model pro-social behaviors; reinforce positive behaviors; redirect negative behaviors; and effectively communicate observed behaviors to responsible program staff, administrators, and supervisors in support of the OAM.

Correctional Case Management (CCM), the critical next step toward implementation of the Oregon Accountability Model, is a proactive, collaborative, multi-disciplinary process. The CCM process unifies procedures and personnel to balance departmental resources and an inmate's needs throughout his/her incarceration and community supervision.

Correctional Outcomes through Research and Engagement (CORE), is designed to monitor and measure the work we do every day. This allows DOC to identify opportunities to improve and/or streamline processes, use data to identify constraints, effectively use resources and, ultimately, promote public safety. CORE provides employees with opportunities to influence and improve the fundamental ways we do business.

The Oregon Department of Corrections has a zero-tolerance of sexual abuse and sexual harassment within it's Institutions/Administration Buildings/Facilities owned, operated, or contracted. The intent of the Prison Rape Elimination Act (PREA) is to ensure a safe, humane, and secure environment, free from the threat of sexual abuse and sexual harassment for all inmates and employee/volunteer/contact/intern workers.
All forms of sexual contact and sexual harassment between inmates and employees/volunteers/ contractors/interns are prohibited by Oregon Department of Corrections policy. Therefore, if you are aware of any such incidents, you have a duty to report them to your supervisor.

All Department of Corrections staff have a valuable role in the delivery of multi-disciplinary services. Despite differences in their training, culture, and job specific mission, they all have some common goals. When all DOC staff share appropriate information and assist in the case planning of inmates, both the quality of change and the safety of the correctional environment improve. Mutual respect, proper orientation and training, and ongoing communication and cooperation provide the foundation of correctional case management. All staff are expected to follow CCM principles and practices.

Managers and supervisors are expected to provide leadership that contributes to the establishment of a working environment that is positive, productive and free from harassment and discrimination. As part of this effort, managers and supervisors are expected to participate in and encourage others to participate in the agency's activities that support affirmative action. This includes recruiting, selecting, retaining and promoting individuals with diverse background who are committed to the mission and values of the Department.
