While 2022 is far from over, the State Park Centennial is in the home stretch. COVID threw a wicked curveball in the midst of planning, but a joint agency team adjusted and swung with all their might, connecting to produce a low-key, but meaningful, combination of online and real-life public engagement with a couple keystone events, volunteer projects, social media posts, and merchandise.

Staff will present a summary covering the past 10.5 months and the forthcoming six weeks, concluding the year at the stroke of midnight on December 31.
