If later calculations show that the offender's physical release date on this order was wrong, the supervision expiration date will be modified as needed. If offender is released to a detainer of 30 days or longer instead of to the streets, that may also result in an adjustment to the post-prison supervision start date and expiration date.

I have read, or have had read to me, and fully understand and recognize the conditions under which I am being released. I understand that I must follow these conditions whether or not I sign this form, and whether or not I agree with the conditions. I understand that violation of any condition may result in sanctions, including jail time, up to and including return to prison. If I am returned to prison, I understand that any good time I earned before going out on parole may be lost. (ORS 421.120.)

Pursuant to OAR 255-080-0005 through OAR 255-080-0015, you may seek administrative review of this order by submitting a written request for administrative review to the board's chairperson within 45 days from the date you signed the order or the date the supervisory authority acknowledged you received the order. After the board has issued an administrative review response, you may seek judicial review of this order by filing a petition for judicial review in the Court of Appeals, State of Oregon Supreme Court Building, Salem, OR 97310, within 60 days after the date the board mails the administrative review response.
