Oregon recruiting for director of Department of Consumer and Business Services

(Salem) – The State of Oregon has begun the process of selecting the next director of the Department of Consumer and Business Services (DCBS). The job posting is now open on the state’s job page (www.oregonjobs.org). Those interested in the position can view the complete announcement and apply online. Applications can be submitted through Monday, June 20, 2011.

Scott L. Harra, the previous director of the Department of Administrative Services, is currently serving as the acting director of DCBS.

DCBS is Oregon’s largest business regulatory and consumer protection agency. The agency’s mission is to protect and serve Oregon’s consumers and workers while supporting a positive business climate in the state. The department administers state laws and rules to protect consumers and workers and support a positive business climate in the areas of:

- Workers’ compensation
- Occupational safety and health (Oregon OSHA)
- Financial products, services, and institutions
- Insurance
- Building codes

DCBS staff members are committed to carrying out the department’s statutory responsibilities and fulfilling the mission and goals in a manner that serves the needs of the public and the businesses and professionals who are regulated. The agency has 922 full-time-equivalent positions and a two-year budget of approximately $394 million.
