SECTION 2. PROGRAM AND POSITION INFORMATION

a. Describe the program in which this position exists. Include program purpose, who's affected, size, and scope. Include relationship to agency mission.

The mission of the Oregon Department of Corrections is to promote public safety by holding offenders accountable for their actions and reducing the risk of future criminal behavior. In support of this, the Correctional Rehabilitation section of Snake River Correctional Institution (SRCI) is responsible for the delivery and/or operation of inmate counseling services, inmate legal services, programming for the Intensive Management Unit (IMU) and Administrative Segregation, general library and law libraries operations, inmate visiting, Circuit Court coordination, cognitive restructuring skill programs, leisure time activities, and other programming development for the inmate population. Additionally, the Correctional Rehabilitation Section works in liaison with Department operated services, i.e., Behavioral Health Services, Inmate Work Programs, Pathfinders, Religious Services, and Health Services. Within the Correctional Rehabilitation section of SRCI this position is responsible for providing direct services to inmates, establishing self-help and rehabilitation opportunities for inmates who are motivated to improve their possibility of success upon release from incarceration. These services help assess the potential for an inmate's transition into the community.

The basis of the Oregon Accountability Model is the strong belief about the importance of strengthening staff-to-inmate and staff-to-staff modeling, particularly the directing and shaping of pro-social behavior. Our job is to move inmates from anti-social to pro-social citizens and our interactions with inmates on a daily basis are without a doubt our most powerful tool to reinforce pro-social behavior. Thus, the nature of our relationships and communications with those we have been charged to keep secure and change are core to our success. Since relationships and respect are built through repeated experiences and communications about those experiences, then what we do and say to inmates are key to achieving long term public safety. Each employee is expected to model appropriate pro-social behavior, support positive change in individual offenders and actively support the Oregon Accountability Model through their day-to-day interactions with others.

The Department of Corrections Snake River Correctional Institution is a 538-acre site located in southeastern Oregon seven miles northwest of Ontario. The 1,025,000 square foot facility, valued at $217,000,000, houses 3,000 inmates with approximately 1,000 employees, 50 contractors, and 350 volunteers managing and supporting the institution's operation. The institution maintains a safe and secure environment to carry out sanctions provided by statutes and as ordered by the courts to manage offender behavior consistent with the Department's mission. The majority of the 1,025,000 square footage of buildings is located within a 103-acre secure perimeter, which contains all but 154 of the 3,000 inmates housed at the institution. The 154 minimum-security inmates are housed in a fenced 30,000 square foot facility adjacent to the secure facility. Within the secure perimeter there are three housing complexes which contain approximately 800 general population inmates each. In addition to the three complexes there is the disciplinary segregation/intensive management unit, which has 432 beds, and a medical services unit that provides 16 infirmary beds and 22 special management unit beds.
