

Meeting of the Water Subcommittee of the Natural Resources Committee of the Oregon Global Warming Commission

"Efficiency in the Face of Climate Change: Agricultural and Municipal Perspectives"

Friday, August 8, 2008
10:00 to 1:00
Oregon Water Resources Department
725 Summer St., NE, Room 124
Salem, Oregon

1. Welcome and Introductions from the Co-Chairs                      Joe Whitworth, Executive Director of Oregon Trout and Phil Ward, Director of the Oregon Water Resources Dept.
2. Review the "No Regrets Strategy" Discussion from the July Meeting
3. Prof. Marshall English, Dept. of Biological and Ecological Engineering, Oregon State University
4. Lorna Stickel, Portland Water Bureau / Regional Water Providers Consortium
5. Group Discussion:    What would the "perfect" demonstration project look like?
                                  What characteristics must such projects have?
                                  What outcomes would we like to demonstrate from such projects?
                                  What barriers exist; what incentives do we need?
                                  What's missing?
                                  What's scary?
6. Next Steps
