John Van Landingham IV Joins the State's Land Conservation and Development Commission

The State of Oregon's Land Conservation and Development Commission (LCDC) welcomes John Van Landingham to its seven member assembly. Mr. Van Landingham attends his second Commission meeting in Salem today.

Steve Pfeiffer, the newly elected chairman of LCDC, praised Mr. Van Landingham's appointment, saying, "John Van Landingham has extensive public planning and legal experience. His skills and background will round out the Commission. As a former member of the Eugene City Planning Commission and numerous advisory committees, he brings a wealth of experience with housing and other land use issues."

John Van Landingham attended the University of Oregon, and is staff attorney at the Lane County Law & Advocacy Center. He is a former staff attorney with Lane County Legal Aid Service. He currently chairs the Housing Policy Board for Lane County and the cities of Eugene and Springfield, and is active with the Oregon Housing Lobby Coalition, the Network for Oregon Affordable Housing, Lane ShelterCare, the Fair Housing Council of Oregon, the Oregon Affordable Housing Preservation Work Group, and Looking Glass (non profit serving at-risk youth).
