

DEVELOPMENTAL SCREENING WEBINARS

What is Developmental Screening? 12/1/15

Audience: Parents, Early Child Caregivers & Early Learning Professionals

Level: Beginner

We will explain developmental screening and discuss how it and early intervention help children enter school ready to learn. You will learn about programs supporting developmental screening, including a free on-line site where parents can screen their children. We will share Oregon resources that support parents, children and providers.

Working with Parents to Screen their Young Children 1/12/16

Audience: Early Child Caregivers & Early Learning Professionals

Level: Beginner-Intermediate

We will discuss how providers can support parents with developmental screening using the ASQ Oregon Website. Providers play an important role in introducing families to the purpose of screening, supporting parents to screen their young child and access resources in their communities. We will share resources on asqoregon.com that support providers in their work with families.

Introduction to the ASQ-SE 2/2/16

Audience: Parents, Early Child Caregivers & Early Learning Professionals

Level: Beginner

We will introduce the Ages and Stages Questionnaire: Social Emotional (ASQ: SE) screening tool, available on asqoregon.com. You will learn more about social-emotional development, and how the ASQ: SE can identify early behavioral concerns. We will share related resources available at the national, state and local levels.

Presenters: Liz Twombly & Kimberly Murphy, University of Oregon

What is Developmental Screening?

Tuesday, 12/1/15

11:00 am- 12:00 pm

Register here:

<http://bit.ly/1GwN4Vg>

Working with Parents to Screen their Young Children

Tuesday, 1/12/16

11:00 am- 12:00 pm

register here:

<http://bit.ly/1N0Bp5V>

Introduction to the ASQ-SE

Tuesday, 2/2/16

11:00am- 12:00 pm

Register here:

<http://bit.ly/1j9AUML>

All sessions will be recorded and posted online. If you have questions, please contact: Kerry Norton, Early Childhood Comprehensive Systems Project Coordinator at kerry.l.norton@state.or.us