

Helpful Hints for Opening Files in Different Web Browsers

1. ERROR Message when Opening a pdf in Firefox

If you open the form link in Firefox, you may get a message like this:

To view the document, click the button named “Open With Different Viewer,” located in the upper right corner of the browser. This will open a dialogue box, select “Open with” and choose your preferred PDF viewer (such as Adobe Reader). Click OK.

The document should then automatically open in your PDF reader:

The screenshot shows the Adobe Reader interface with a PDF document titled '2722-1.pdf'. The document is a form titled 'SUMMARY REPORT OF SUBCONTRACTORS PAID' from the Oregon Department of Transportation. The form includes fields for project name, contractor name, address, city/state/zip, phone, fax, and a table for contractor/consultant details. A dialog box with a red 'X' icon is overlaid on the form, containing the following text:

Warning: JavaScript Window - Important information for users

IMPORTANT NOTE: Fill out the form BEFORE printing for best results.

This Summary Report of Contractors Paid form has interactive features that will allow you to add as many firms as necessary, and will create new pages for additional rows.

If you print before filling out the form and fill it manually, click the plus button at the end of the first row to add enough lines for all the firms you need to include.

BONUS: While you are working on the form, you can save the filled form on your computer for completion later, if you are using the free Adobe Reader application or Adobe Acrobat.

This form works best with Adobe Reader 9 or Acrobat 9 or above. Adobe Reader 9 is available free at get.adobe.com/reader.

OK

The form also includes instructions for the contractor, agency project manager, and OCR representative, and a footer with the page number 'Page 1 of 1'.

2. ERROR Message When Using Internet Explorer

- If the user receives an error message
- PC users can Right Click the link select "save target as" save the pdf to their computer and open the document from the save file.
- MAC users Control Click the link

If these helpful hints don't work please contact your computer support.