Miscellaneous

New Oregon Partnership Changes Name to Lines for Life ~ After 20 years of leadership in preventing substance abuse and suicide, Oregon Partnership is changing its name to Lines for Life. The new name, officially rolled out last week, better reflects our mission. "We have had literally thousands of life-saving success stories," said CEO Judy Cushing. "What we haven't had is a name that comes close to describing what we do so others will know how to join our mission." Lines for Life provides a unique combination of prevention education, policy advocacy, and crisis intervention and substance abuse treatment referral.

New Apply for Mental and Behavioral Health Education and Training Grants From HRSA The Health Resources and Services Administration's (HRSA's) Mental and Behavioral Health Education and Training Grants Program supports eligible institutions of higher education to recruit students and provide education and clinical experience in mental and behavioral health.

The program aims to increase the number of social workers and psychologists who pursue clinical work with high-need and high-demand populations. For this funding opportunity, "high need" and "high demand" refer to rural, vulnerable, and/or underserved populations, and veterans and military personnel and their families. Eligible applicants are accredited schools of social work and psychology. Up to 20 grants at a maximum level of $480,275 will be awarded. The submission deadline is June 15, 2012.
