

OHLA

The Oregon Health Licensing Agency (OHLA) is a state department of licensing and regulation. OHLA is unique among Oregon's regulatory agencies — it oversees multiple professions under a central agency administration.

For more information, visit our Web site at www.oregon.gov/OHLA.

Board of Cosmetology

The Board of Cosmetology consists of six certified practitioners (who are not associated with the manufacture, sale or distribution of cosmetic appliances or supplies) and one public member.

OHLA boards and councils provide profession-specific expertise and consultation but are not responsible for OHLA central agency administration.

Consumer Protection

If you can't resolve a problem or issue with a practitioner or business, OHLA can help.

Contact us at (503) 378-8667, ext. 4314 or via e-mail at ohla.info@state.or.us.

We respond to every inquiry and have the authority to take disciplinary action against practitioners and businesses.

NAIL TECHNOLOGY

Safe in the Salon

We want to keep Oregon safe from bacterial skin infection outbreaks that have harmed hundreds of customers of nail salons in other states.

Thankfully, Oregon has avoided such outbreaks. And we want to keep it that way, with your help.

We've launched a new education campaign, Safe Salons, focusing on salon safety, health and infection control.

For more information on salon safety, visit www.oregon.gov/OHLA/COS.

Nail Services

Nail technology is one of four individual fields of practice in cosmetology licensed and regulated in Oregon. The other three fields are barbering, esthetics and hair design.

Nail technicians are licensed practitioners who may provide the following in a licensed facility:

- Cut, trim, clean, polish, color or tint natural nails
- Massage the hands and feet and cleanse, treat and beautify the hands and arms (below the elbow) and legs (below the knee)
- Apply, sculpt and remove artificial nails

Look for Licenses

Salons are required to post a facility license. Practitioners must also post a license listing the fields of practice in which they are certified.

These licenses must be posted in public view and can't be photocopies.

Unlicensed salons and practitioners are prohibited.

Disinfect or Dispose

After hand washing with soap, nail technicians are required to take the following steps between each customer:

- Clean and disinfect tools approved for reuse, or
- Dispose of tools not approved for reuse, such as single-use files and buffer blocks; and products such as powders and lotions

Customers may keep their own nail files and bring them back for use at the next appointment, but it is prohibited for salons to keep a customer's nail files, buffer blocks, orangewood sticks, and sanding drums, wheels and bands.

For more information, see the brochure Tool Safety for Nail Technicians.

- Nail practitioners are also required to obtain basic customer information such as your name and address (in case of an infection outbreak). For details, see the brochure Required Customer Records.

Pedicure Pointers

Here are a few tips to keep your pedicure experience a safe one:

- Don't shave your legs 24 hours or less before a pedicure to avoid creating microscopic tears that increase the risk of infection.
- Avoid receiving a pedicure if you have any open cuts or sores on skin where services will be performed.
- Observe the foot spa before receiving a pedicure. Has it been properly cleaned and disinfected? Ask if you're not sure. For details, see the brochure Nail Technician Foot Spa Safety.
- Be particularly observant of the screen in circulating foot spas. Screens MUST be cleaned and disinfected after each customer.

The Air in There

Methyl methacrylate monomer (MMA) emits an odor described as a "pungent, bitter chemical smell" that's strong enough to make your eyes water. The U.S. Food & Drug Administration (FDA) calls MMA a "poisonous and deleterious substance."

The use of MMA is prohibited in Oregon. For details, see the brochure Stay Away from MMA.
