To Whom It May Concern:

With the passage of House Bill 2435, the Oregon Medical Board adopted licensure by Expedited Endorsement for physician (MD and DO) applications received November 2009 and later.

For MD and DO licensees who were licensed by Expedited Endorsement, the Board may have accepted copies of the medical school diploma and post-graduate training certificates in lieu of primary source verification of medical school and post-graduate education at time of licensure.

For MD and DO licensees who were not licensed by Expedited Endorsement, the Board obtains primary source verification of the medical school education, including date of graduation, as well as the post-graduate education completed at time of licensure.

The Board obtains primary source verification of the medical school education, including date of graduation, of its podiatric physician (DPM) licensees, as well as the post-graduate education completed at time of licensure.

The Oregon Medical Board obtains primary source verification of the physician assistant (PA) and acupuncture (LAc) education from the school, academy, institute, college or university from which the licensee graduated, including date of graduation.

For physician (MD/DO) and physician assistant applicants who use the Federation Credentials Verification Service (FCVS), which is operated by the Federation of State Medical Boards, the Board will receive a copy of the primary source records verified by the FCVS.

The information obtained through primary source verification is true and complete to the best of our knowledge.

Sincerely,

Kathleen Haley
Executive Director
