Parks and Recreation Branch

525 TRADE STREET S.E., SALEM, OREGON 97310

July 28, 1977

TO ALL LOCAL GOVERNMENTS, PLANNING BODIES AND PUBLIC LIBRARIES

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Enclosed herewith is a copy of the appropriate section of the Statewide Inventory of Historic Properties as expanded under special contract by Stephen Dow Beckham in 1976.

We hope and trust that the Inventory will assist you in the development of your comprehensive plans and other matters. It should be remembered that the Inventory is not complete in this form. It will be revised and enlarged continually. Moreover, archeological sites are not included for purposes of site protection. In many cases, properties which have been entered into the National Register of Historic Places are not included. We are including as an addendum a listing of properties in your area which were included in the Inventory prior to 1976.

If questions regarding the Inventory arise, please contact us at 378-5001.

Sincerely,

Paul B. Hartwig
Historic Preservation Coordinator

NATIONAL REGISTER OF HISTORIC PLACES:

The National Register of Historic Places is the official list of the nation's cultural resources worthy of preservation. It is maintained by the National Park Service under authority of the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966. The list contains districts, sites, archeological sites, buildings, structures and objects of national, state or local significance. National Historic Landmarks are automatically included. A cumulative listing of all National Register properties is published annually in the February issue of the Federal Register, the regular Congressional publication. Under certain circumstances, National Register properties are eligible for federal preservation assistance.

Dr. William J. Murtagh
Keeper of the National Register
US Department of the Interior
National Park Service
Washington, DC 20240

National Historic Sites - Properties of outstanding historical value to the nation as a whole. They may be under federal, state or local ownership. In the latter cases, the National Park Service acts in an advisory capacity.

National Memorials - Properties commemorating historic events and/or personages of exceptional significance to the nation. Usually they are under National Park Service jurisdiction, but ownership may be mixed.

National Historic Landmarks - Outstanding examples of the nation's historical and/or cultural patrimony. They are evaluated and recommended for designation by the Advisory Board on National Parks, Historic Sites, Buildings, and Monuments. Federal ownership is not implied. Ownership may be public or private, but owner must agree to maintain property in accord with accepted preservation precepts if he accepts designation. Landmark status offers higher priority in the distribution of grants-in-aid under the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966 and is acknowledged by a bronze plaque and a certificate from the Secretary of the Interior.

National Survey of Historic Sites and Buildings - Conducted by the National Park Service under authority of the Historic Sites Act of 1935 for purposes of identifying historic and prehistoric places of national significance. The Survey forms the basis of National Historic Landmark designations.

HABS - Historic American Buildings Survey - Initiated by the National Park Service in 1933 for purposes of assembling a national collection of detailed records of historically and architecturally significant buildings. Conducted in cooperation with the American Institute of Architects and the Library of Congress.

HAER - Historic American Engineering Record - Established by the National Park Service in 1969 for purposes of documenting historic engineering, industrial and technological works. Conducted in cooperation with the American Society of Civil Engineers and the Library of Congress.

Cultural Resources In Oregon

To date, some 70% of the State of Oregon has been surveyed by historians to identify historic sites and buildings important to Oregon's past. At the same time, only some three percent of the state has been surveyed by archeologists. The results of these cultural resource surveys indicate that Oregon contains some 2,500 historic sites worthy of placement on the Statewide Inventory and perhaps some 120,000 archeological sites, for a density of about 1.3 cultural sites per square mile.

The large difference between numbers of historic and archeologic sites is merely a reflection of the fact that Indians have lived here for some 20,000 years while Euro-Americans have been in Oregon only about 173 years. The large gap between seventy percent and three percent in completeness of surveys is due to several factors: 1) archeological sites are "buried" to a greater degree and therefore more difficult to locate 2) historians have written records to utilize, often telling them where to look 3) the Indian societies were pre-literate and most of their oral traditions telling of old village site locations were never recorded by early settlers.

Since the year of 1906 the federal government has passed several laws and executive orders in order to try and preserve the cultural remains of both Indian and early Euro-American history. The government realized that the native cultures had been largely destroyed and their cultural remains were likewise disappearing under the shovel of "pot-hunters", the construction of towns, and the activities of road builders, loggers, miners and others.

Each archeologic site is like a book of which only one copy exists. Properly excavated and analyzed, a site can tell who lived there, when they lived there, how large the group was, what the people ate, the climate at the time, the type of social organization the group practiced, average life spans, religious practices and even some of the diseases they suffered from. If this site is destroyed, either through the purposeful digging of relic hunters or through the accidental activities of house, road, sewer line, water line, or other developers, then the book, which is public property has been burned.

Physical description of property and statement of historical significance:

The Merrill Bank Building is a rectangular, two story stucco building which stands at the southeast corner of Front and Main streets in Merrill, Oregon. This brick building has had some alterations. The brick facade at the roof level has been removed and replaced by a wood facade. The windows are one-over-one, double hung sash set in semi-elliptical bays on the second story. The first floor elevation has a main entry with sidelights and transom panes and two large window bays. The building measures 30 x 60 feet. A new addition has been attached on the south (rear) elevation. The building has its original three brick chimneys.

This structure was built to house the Merrill Bank. In 1976 the building has Bowman's Real Estate Office, the city clerk's office, and the city police department. This structure is one of the few which survived a major fire in 1920 in the business section of Merrill. Merrill was incorporated in 1903 and re-incorporated in 1908. The town was founded by Nathan Merrill. The city streets were platted on May 22, 1894 by Nathan and Nancy Merrill.

Physical description of property and statement of historical significance:

The Levi F. Willits Building is a two story, rectangular brick structure which faces north on Main Street. This building stands next to the I.O.O.F. Hall erected in 1910-11. The building has two sections and bears the inscription "Willits 1910" at the roof level facade. The windows on the second story of the front elevation are one-over-one, double hung sash with transom panes. These window bays have a concrete decorative band above them (see photo). The first floor elevation is presently occupied by Nyback's Flowers and Davis Floor Covering. Originally the east side of the building was adjacent to Houston's Temple Theatre which occupied the first floor of the I.O.O.F. Hall.

Judge Levi F. Willits was born in Cedar County, Iowa, on February 27, 1850. He was a son of Amos and Sarah Anna (Thornton) Willits. The Willits family settled in Ashland, Oregon, in 1875. Levi Willits graduated from business college in Iowa in 1873 and joined his parents in Ashland in 1876 where he was a school principal. In 1884 he headed the Lakeview schools and in 1891 he came to Klamath County to head the Yainax Indian Industrial and Boarding School. He later settled in Klamath Falls.

Physical description of property and statement of historical significance:

The Methodist Indian Mission Church on the Williamson River Road near Chiloquin, Oregon, is a rectangular, wood frame building with a gable roof. This structure measures approximately 30 by 40 feet. Lumber for the building was cut at the Klamath Indian Agency and was hauled with horses and wagons by the Indians to this site on a hill. The nails are made by a blacksmith. The building has four bays of four-over-four, double hung sash windows in its east and west elevations. The main entry is located in the north elevation. Above it rises a square bell tower with an enclosed belfry surmounted by a hip roof with a steep four-sided cone and a cross. The bell tower roof is covered with imbricated shingles. The exterior is shiplap. The building has one, brick chimney.

This church was dedicated in January, 1876. The church was connected to the "Amity Charge" and was served by a circuit rider for many years. Indians often filled the pulpit between appearances of the regular minister. Approximately 80% of the congregation is Indian in 1976. Jack Palmer, a white, dedicated the land or gave it for this building. In the summer of 1976 young church workers from Covina, California, painted and panelled the interior of this building. The original wainscoting was covered over with wood panels. This church is served in 1976 by Rev. Gerald McCray, Sr., who also serves the Beatty Methodist Church.

Physical description of property and statement of historical significance:

The Emma Mary Wilde landmark is a bronze plaque mounted on a brick planter at the base of a flagpole next to the Masonic Lodge at Third and Railroad streets in Malin. The plaque reads:

"In memory of Emma Mary Wilde August 13, 1913-January 29, 1964
An outstanding citizen of Malin, Oregon."

Emma Mary Wilde was the only daughter of Alois and Marie Kalina, pioneer settlers of Malin in 1909. Her father named the city for a Bohemian settlement in Czechslovakia. The Kalinas built the first house in Malin in 1909. In 1935 Emma married Mervyn Wilde. In 1947 Mrs. Wilde took over the clothing, drug, and stationery departments of the Kalina General Merchandise Store when the family divided the business's stock. Louis Kalina took the grocery and hardware division.

The nearby Masonic Lodge Building is used also as a church and was erected in 1923.

The Van Brimmer brothers were sons of George Van Brimmer of Pennsylvania. Clinton D. Van Brimmer was born in 1835 in Delaware, Ohio. He came overland to California in 1861 with his brothers and located in Klamath County in 1887. He and his brothers constructed the county's first irrigation ditch. Clinton Van Brimmer married in 1888 to Martha Allen. Benjamin Franklin Van Brimmer was born in Livingston County, Missouri, January 27, 1841. Ben Van Brimmer settled in Klamath Falls in 1891 and married Mrs. Lydia Brewer. Daniel Van Brimmer was born in Missouri in February, 1838. He married Mrs. Leatha Calmes in Klamath County in 1895.

Physical description of property and statement of historical significance:

The Dan, Clinton, and Ben Van Brimmer Cabin is a rectangular, hewn-log building with gable roof which now stands on the lawn of the Klamath County Museum. This building has been re-sited from its location astraddle Willow Creek in Siskiyou County, California. A sign outside the building reads:

"Van Brimmer Cabin 1864-1928. Originally built as a milkhouse straddling Willow Creek, this structure was located on the Van Brimmer Ranch, west of Tulelake, California, 13 miles from the Modoc Stronghold, Lava Beds.

During the Modoc Indian war of 1872-73, the cabin was converted into a fort, with loop holes cut through the walls for defense, but it primarily served as a storehouse for the military.

In 1880 the window and fireplace were added and it served as a residence until 1928.

The cabin was moved to Gillem's Camp, Lava Beds National Monument in 1949 and relocated at the Klamath County Museum in 1974."

Physical description of property and statement of historical significance:

The Tower Theater is a 'movie palace' constructed of concrete which stands at the southeast corner of Washburn Way and south Sixth streets in Klamath Falls. The building has a long entry concourse and a set of shops for commercial use on its front elevation. The structure is dominated by a tall tower with art deco style or appearance.

The Evening Herald of April 24, 1941, noted:

"The final brush of paint, the last section of tile, and the polishing of the blue glass windows marked the completion Thursday of the new $150,000 Tower Theatre at Washburn Way and South Sixth St. which opens its doors Friday evening, April 25 at 6:00 P.M. This is Klamath Falls' first suburban theatre. The theatre is the most recent of a string owned and operated by George M. Mann of San Francisco and is part of the Northwest Theatres Co. of which Al Fourmet is manager... The auditorium of the theatre is on a single floor and will seat 1200 patrons. The decorating was done under the supervision of R. A. Eckels, well known theatre decorator. The spacious foyer will boast a concession counter, referred to as a 'Kandy Bar' in modern theatre jargon...."

The buiding was designed by William David, architect.
