RULE SUMMARY

This amendment makes permanent the temporary rule in effect since 2/18/14, which deleted the following language that had been added by the previous temporary rule adopted on 12/15/13:

"Public employers shall include in the job recruitment announcement any special qualifications and transferable skills required or requested for a civil service position in addition to the minimum qualifications of the position."

This language is hereby omitted from the permanent rule because of concerns that it is difficult to administer.
