Where: Columbia County Range Complex 63341 Columbia River Highway, Deer Island, Oregon, 97054

Cost: $650

Instructors: Will Petty, Centrifuge Training

Overview: Vehicle CQB Instructor is an accelerated shooting class focused on positional shooting and critical light manipulations in and around vehicles. Students will push the boundaries of "traditional" cover and concealment utilizing various cars and trucks in a true 3D environment. Drills will incorporate critical weapon employment while engaging threats in, around, from, over and under vehicles with a heavy emphasis on problem solving. Lighting principles and threat assessment all play a major factor in this course. Live ballistic demos with a variety of ammunition will be conducted as the class explores ballistic deflection, deformation, penetration and terminal effect in direct correlation to various vehicle mediums. Classroom portions will include video diagnostics, statistics, tactics and the science behind why we win and lose around vehicles. This course will have long days and a night shoot (depending on range logistics).

Instructors: Ellis Amdur, M.A.

Overview: Safe Behind Bars: Tactical Verbal De-escalation of Aggressive and Emotionally Disturbed Individuals

Because correctional officers and other jail staff must protect their own safety as well as the safety of others, including inmates, they often have limited time in which to establish a communication mode that minimizes the risk of violence.

Agitated individuals can often be directed away from violence by specific communication skills.

Successful verbal de-escalation also sets a precedent with emotionally disturbed inmates who are likely to have many such events while in custody. At the next incident, they are more likely to have an expectation that they will be talked down. Therefore, at the sight of correctional officers, they are often more cooperative.

Presenter: Ellis Amdur, M.A., Edgework founder, received his B.A. in psychology from Yale University in 1974, and his M.A. in psychology from Seattle University in 1990. He is both a National Certified Counselor and a State Certified Child Mental Health Specialist. Mr. Amdur has worked in the field of crisis intervention since 1988. He is one of the most prominent trainers in the Pacific Northwest on verbal de-escalation of aggressive and mentally ill individuals. His work focuses on communication specific for first responders to calm and control people manifesting mental illness and emotional disturbance, particularly those who are exhibiting potentially dangerous behaviors.

Overview: The Thin Blue Lifeline: Tactical Verbal De-escalation of People Experiencing A Mental Health Crisis

Because officers have to protect their own safety as well as the safety of others, they often have limited time in which to establish a communication mode that minimizes the risk of violence. Agitated individuals can often be directed away from violence by specific communication skills. Verbal de-escalation techniques are geared to "set up" those being contained so that physical control techniques are enhanced, if they become necessary. When the public is witness to successful verbal de-escalation, they better understand and respect the challenges facing officers, which contributes to future officer safety.

Presenter: Ellis Amdur, M.A., Edgework founder, received his B.A. in psychology from Yale University in 1974, and his M.A. in psychology from Seattle University in 1990.

He is both a National Certified Counselor and a State Certified Child Mental Health Specialist. Mr. Amdur has worked in the field of crisis intervention since 1988. Overview: The Thin Blue Lifeline: Tactical Verbal De-escalation of People Experiencing A Mental Health Crisis

Because officers have to protect their own safety as well as the safety of others, they often have limited time in which to establish a communication mode that minimizes the risk of violence. Agitated individuals can often be directed away from violence by specific communication skills. Verbal de-escalation techniques are geared to "set up" those being contained so that physical control techniques are enhanced, if they become necessary. When the public is witness to successful verbal de-escalation, they better understand and respect the challenges facing officers, which contributes to future officer safety.

Presenter: Ellis Amdur, M.A., Edgework founder, received his B.A. in psychology from Yale University in 1974, and his M.A. in psychology from Seattle University in 1990.

He is both a National Certified Counselor and a State Certified Child Mental Health Specialist. Mr. Amdur has worked in the field of crisis intervention since 1988. He is one of the most prominent trainers in the Pacific Northwest on verbal de-escalation of aggressive and mentally ill individuals. His work focuses on communication specific for first responders to calm and control people manifesting mental illness and emotional disturbance, particularly those who are exhibiting potentially dangerous behaviors.

Overview: This course is designed to prepare Telecommunicators for deployment as part of a Telecommunicator Emergency Response Taskforce (TERT) team. It will teach participants how to mentally and physically prepare for deployment, give an understanding to working in a disaster environment, discuss interpersonal skills of working with other members of other PSAPs, and review the TERT process in Oregon.

Instructors:

George Long is a Communications Shift Supervisor for Willamette Valley Communications Center in Salem, Oregon. As an additional duty, George oversees emergency preparedness aspects of the PSAP. He holds a Master's in Emergency and Disaster Management and a Master's in National Security Studies. He is also a student pursuing a PhD in Public Service Leadership. As a volunteer with the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary, he worked as an assistant contingency planner for USCG Sector Columbia River, and spent time deployed in support of the Deepwater Horizon Response working in communications. George is also a part time instructor for DPSST.

Kim Foster is a Communications Supervisor for Washington County Consolidated Communications Center (WCCCA) in Beaverton, Oregon. Kim has been with WCCCA for 20 years, 8 years as a Supervisor and 12 years as a Dispatcher, Lead and Coach. Kim has trained both dispatchers and Police users on all aspects of telecommunications over the past 20 years, and is the centers expert for staffing and scheduling. Kim has an Advanced Certificate from DPSST, and is a team member of Oregon TERT.

Cost: Free (meals and lodging not provided)

Instructors: DPSST staff

Overview: The Reno Police Training Officer (PTO) model is based on the teaching principles of Problem-Based Learning (PBL) and emphasizes the need for the PTO to function primarily as a trainer rather than as an evaluator. PBL is firmly established in the fields of medicine and education, where it is used to facilitate the transfer of knowledge. Similarly, in policing, recruits need to learn much more than just laws and police procedures. They must also understand how to transfer their academy knowledge effectively when dealing with individuals and issues within a community. As demands on police continue to increase, agencies must provide officers with the resources and the training necessary to fulfill their expanded role. This approach will help police recruits think about their roles and responsibilities as they approach specific problems in their daily work. Problem solving is an integral part of police work and requires a creative and flexible method of thinking.

The PBL model encourages flexibility and creativity and this training model is designed to emphasize community-oriented policing principles and leadership development and train new recruits to be problem-solvers as they enter the field. This model is adaptable to any discipline within the criminal justice system (Corrections, P & P, etc.).

Prerequisites: None

Registration: THIS CLASS IS NOW FULL. APPLICATIONS WILL CONTINUE TO BE ACCEPTED FOR A WAITING LIST.

*PLEASE NOTE* The curriculum for this class was developed for full-time police, corrections, parole and probation, telecommunicator/emergency medical dispatch and fire personnel.

Priority in selection will be given to those individuals who work as a full-time police, corrections or P&P officer, a telecommunicator/emergency medical dispatcher or a firefighter first.

Those individuals who are employed full-time within those disciplines, but whose duties fall outside of those job titles will still be able to submit their application for consideration. The application will be placed on a waiting list pending space availability. Approximately seven business days before the class starts the applicant will be notified of their attendance status.

Overview: The Oregon Drug Evaluation Classification (DEC) Program has received national acclaim for its success in identifying the drug-impaired driver. Officers trained as Drug Recognition Experts (DREs) are frequently called upon to differentiate between drug influence and medical and/or mental disorders. The certified DRE is an extremely valuable tool in combating the adverse impact of drug and alcohol impaired driving in our communities.

DRE School is a demanding course. To receive certification as a DRE, three phases of training must be completed. The following summarizes each phase:

ACADEMIC TRAINING (Phase I & II): This phase is conducted over nine days (72 hours). It includes courses in physiology, vital signs, standardized field sobriety testing (SFST), and extensive material on each of the seven categories of the drugs of abuse. The training includes three written examinations, an SFST proficiency examination and five written quizzes. Students must achieve a minimum of 80% on the three examinations, and must demonstrate proficiency in administering SFST's.

CERTIFICATION PHASE (Phase III): After successfully completing the academic portion, the students must complete the certification phase. Certification Training will take place on September 5th-9th in Portland, OR. This is an additional five days of training after phase 1 & 2. At this time, the above certification dates are the only dates available in Oregon for 2017. With the recommendation of the DRE State Coordinator, out of state certification training is an option, but will be at the expense of the student's agency. It is the student's responsibility to attend and complete the certification requirements within six months following DRE School. The requirements include: conducting a minimum of 12 drug influence evaluations while under the supervision of a DRE instructor; identifying subjects under the influence, and attaining a 80% toxicological confirmation rate. Written reports will be submitted to the DRE instructor observing the evaluation for review and approval. In addition, the student must maintain an accurate progress certification log, DRE rolling log and submit a curriculum vitae. Lastly, the student must pass a comprehensive final knowledge examination, and obtain the written endorsement from two certified DRE instructors and the DRE State Coordinator before obtaining certification and IACP credentials.

The International Association of Chiefs of Police (IACP) and the Oregon DECP Policies and Procedures are the regulating body for Oregon's DEC Program. Certification and credentials are valid for two years. In order to maintain certification, DRE's must conduct a minimum of four evaluations (one observed in front of an instructor) every two years, submit an updated rolling log and curriculum vitae,

Instructors: Mark Linville, DPSST, Jeff Waite, DPSST

Overview: The Reno Police Training Officer (PTO) model is based on the teaching principles of Problem-Based Learning (PBL) and emphasizes the need for the PTO to function primarily as a trainer rather than as an evaluator. PBL is firmly established in the fields of medicine and education, where it is used to facilitate the transfer of knowledge. Similarly, in policing, recruits need to learn much more than just laws and police procedures. They must also understand how to transfer their academy knowledge effectively when dealing with individuals and issues within a community. As demands on police continue to increase, agencies must provide officers with the resources and the training necessary to fulfill their expanded role. This approach will help police recruits think about their roles and responsibilities as they approach specific problems in their daily work. Problem solving is an integral part of police work and requires a creative and flexible method of thinking.

The PBL model encourages flexibility and creativity and this training model is designed to emphasize community-oriented policing principles and leadership development and train new recruits to be problem-solvers as they enter the field. This model is adaptable to any discipline within the criminal justice system (Corrections, P & P, etc.).

Overview: "How Being Trauma-Informed Improves Criminal Justice System Responses" Train-the-Trainer Event
Although prevalence estimates vary, there is consensus that high percentages of justice-involved women and men have experienced serious trauma throughout their lifetime. The reverberating effects of trauma experiences can challenge a person's capacity for recovery and pose significant barriers to accessing services, often resulting in an increased risk of coming into contact with the criminal justice system.

SAMHSA's GAINS Center has developed the "How Being Trauma-Informed Improved Criminal Justice System Responses" Train-the-Trainer event in order to foster the distillation of trauma-informed response concepts and behaviors across the country through the development of local, certificate holding, and community-based trainers.

This highly interactive training is specifically tailored to community-based criminal justice professionals including: *Community corrections (Parole and Probation), *Police, *Corrections, *Mental Health Professionals working within the criminal justice system. Participants should have the capacity to conduct future trainings in their communities.

Instructors: Kim Menjou & Dean Alft

Overview: Overview: In 2015, the President's Task Force on 21st Century Policing emphasized the importance of problem-based learning and adult learning theories in field training. Lane County Parole and Probation has fashioned the problem-based Reno Police Training Officer (PTO) model to fit the unique goals, philosophies, and practices in the field of adult community corrections. Through facilitated dialogue, this interactive workshop will explore the specialized components of PTO as they relate to the parole and probation discipline. Participants will be exposed to the application of problem-based learning and collaborative coaching in the context of field training. This presentation will relate the model to best practices in offender supervision, and will also discuss impacts on hiring and performance evaluation. This workshop will include perspectives from a training supervisor, field trainer, and recent PTO graduate.

Training/Learning Objectives:

1. Explore the core competencies and phases of the PTO model specific to Parole and Probation.
2. Discuss the use of problem-based learning and collaborative coaching in field training.
3. Identify potential impacts of competency-based training to hiring processes and performance evaluation.

The workshop will use facilitation as the primary method of presentation. Participants will help identify competencies essential to the position of a parole and probation officer. In addition, the participants will engage in a problem-based learning exercise, and asked to apply the problem-solving model to explore various solutions. This exercise will provide them with an experience reflective of the foundation of the training program.

Instructors: see 'Overview'

Overview: Since 2003, OSROA's School Safety Conference has set the standard for school safety training in Oregon. Our 2017 annual conference promises to be one of the best yet.

Keynote Speaker: Dr. Bernard James - Pepperdine University

Presenters: Captain Christopher Vanghele - Newtown (CT) Police Department, Sheriff John Hanlin - Douglas County Sheriff's Office, Mandi Puckett - Certified Prevention Specialist w/ CLEAR Alliance, John Van Dreal - Salem-Keizer School District Psychologist, Sharon Lacey - Motivational Humorist

Dr. Bernie James, Professor of Law at Pepperdine University, will cover legal issues facing schools and school-based law enforcement. Legal updates, recent case law, search and seizure, immigration, students' rights and much more will be covered. Dr. James' presentations are interactive and he will provide Oregon-specific information to attendees.

Capt. Christopher Vanghele was the first officer to lead an entry team into Sandy Hook Elementary School. Capt. Vanghele will share his experiences from that day and the weeks and months that followed. Mental Health, Trauma, Resiliency, Community Assistance, and Preparing for the "New Normal" will be just some of the lessons learned from that tragic day.

Sheriff John Hanlin has been with the Douglas County Sheriff's Office since 1989. Sheriff Hanlin will debrief the tragic events that took place on 10/01/15 at Umpqua Community College. This tragedy reinforces the dire need for a strong safety commitment from both law enforcement and educational facilities all around our state.

Overview: NATIONAL TRAFFIC INCIDENT MANAGEMENT (TIM) RESPONDER TRAINING PROGRAM

LAW ENFORCEMENT | FIRE | EMS | TRANSPORTATION | TOWING & RECOVERY | COMMUNICATIONS

The Train-the-Trainer (TtT) course is intended to provide participants (i.e., trainers) the knowledge and materials necessary for them to conduct TIM training for responders in their area or state.

The TtT is a one-day course that covers 8 hours of material and includes classroom training as well as hands-on table top activities.

Those who complete the course will join Oregon's cross- disciplined TIM training team, and will be expected to cooperatively assist with the delivery of the course to fellow responders within Oregon.

Why train your responders in TIM?

Responders are being struck and killed at traffic incidents in the US on an average of:

- * 5 fire fighters each year,
- * 1 law enforcement officer each month,
- * 1 tow truck operator each week and numerous transportation professionals from DOT, Public Works and Safety Service Patrols each year. It is time to collaboratively enhance our safety and efficiency on incident scenes by training as a single cross disciplined team!

Many Disciplines, One Mission -Safe, Quick Clearance.

THIS TtT EVENT IS COLLABORATIVELY HOSTED BY THE OREGON DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION, OREGON STATE POLICE IN COOPERATION WITH THE FEDERAL HIGHWAY ADMINISTRATION & GENEROUSLY HOSTED BY THE SANDY FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Hours: 0800-1700 daily (except 8/24 1200-2230)

Where: Oregon Public Safety Academy, Salem, OR

Cost: Free. Lunch provided.

Instructors: DPSST

Overview: Basic Emergency Vehicle Operator Instructor Course EVOIC #26

General Information:

The Department of Public Safety Standards and Training is offering an Emergency Vehicle Operations Instructor Development Course (EVOIC 26) August 14-25, 2017. This course is intended to develop certified instructors capable of delivering basic recruit Emergency Vehicle Operations (EVO) training for DPSST Basic Police and Regional Training programs.

The emphasis of EVOIC #26 will be to train individuals that will be readily available and willing to teach basic academy classes in Salem and to deliver regional training classes sponsored by DPSST throughout the state. Priority in selection will be given to applicants/agencies who demonstrate support of this mission by participation in the Basic Academy programs.

Applicants who are selected to participate as instructor candidates will be sent the EVOIC training materials in an electronic format at least 30 days prior to the start of the course. The candidate may print the information at their agency's expense.

NOTE: The candidate will be expected to pass a driving skill assessment at least two weeks prior to the beginning of the course. This qualification process will be conducted by a DPSST Senior Instructor at the DPSST facility in Salem and the candidate must achieve a minimum passing grade on the basic police qualification course.

Passing grades on a written test and a driving skills assessment will be required to complete the course. Candidates must score a minimum of 90% on the written assessment of DPSST EVO theory and techniques, instructor development materials, and general vehicle knowledge. All of the materials necessary for this written test will be provided electronically when a candidate is accepted to the course.

Candidates who are not successful with their driving skills assessment will be allowed additional opportunities on dates, however all assessments must be complete prior to August 4, 2017. Candidates failing to demonstrate the minimum driving assessment score will not be able to participate in this EVOIC.

Candidates are encouraged to visit one or more DPSST Basic Police EVO sessions prior to a testing session to brush up on their driving skills. This will give candidates some one-on-one time with senior instructors. A schedule of practice and testing dates are at the end of this announcement.

Additional Agency considerations/requirements:

1. Participation in a Basic Facilitator Course prior to this instructor course is highly recommended. Many of the instructional techniques used to deliver the EVO Instructor course will be presented and practiced during the Basic Facilitator Course.
2. Vehicles used during all driving exercises will be provided by DPSST.
3. Participants will be expected to sign a waiver of liability for DPSST.
4. All salaries and benefits of participants shall be borne by the agency. One of the training days will include an adjusted swing shift.
5. Agencies need to ensure that they have adequate insurance coverage covering participation in this training.
6. All candidates will be required to complete a minimum of ninety-six (96) hours of supervised "shadow" instruction to receive certification as a DPSST EVO Instructor.

This instruction will occur in conjunction with regularly scheduled EVO training at DPSST once the EVOIC is completed.

Any questions can be directed to Steve Westerberg; EVO Program Coordinator at the above address OR at 503-378-4412 OR via state email at steve.westerberg@state.or.us

Candidate Driving Practice / Testing Sessions:

Following are several dates that are available to candidates interested in honing their physical driving skills, spending time with a senior instructor, and looking at the EVO program at DPSST. Candidates can be tested on the same date as a practice is scheduled. Candidates are encouraged to attend at least one practice date prior to testing.

To schedule dates for practice and testing, contact Steve Westerberg via email at steve.westerberg@state.or.us or by telephone at 503-378-4412.

Instructors:

Overview: International Association of Law Enforcement Firearms Instructors (IALEFI) - Master Instructor Development Course

The IALEFI Master Instructor Development Program (MIDP) was designed to provide continuing education to individuals certified as firearms instructors. Foundation courses of the MIDP include instructor level training on the three most commonly utilized law enforcement weapon systems----- handgun, rifle and shotgun.

Different proven methodologies will be used to enhance the teaching skills of the police firearms instructor. Hands-on skills will progress from the basics to the more complex and all participants regardless of skill level will find themselves challenged. Practical exercise will put an emphasis on both practical marksmanship and operational skills.

Throughout the 3 day program, participants will be shown a number of drills designed to improve the performance of both proficient and problem shooters. The information presented will prove especially useful in creating a positive training experience that will ultimately result in greater officer safety.

Topics covered:

- * range safety
- * review of shooting fundamentals/positions
- * operational skills
- * basic tactics such as movement, use of cover, light management, etc.
- * shooter remediation
- * adult learning concepts
- * coaching strategies
- * course design

The Handgun: This will be a handgun course aimed at building the instructional skills of the police firearms instructor. We will start with a review and discussion of the basics, including: stance, grip, sight, alignment, trigger control, follow through, holster placement, draw, presentation and scanning. Students will then be shown a series of drills and tools designed to improve problem shooters and enhance the skills of all their shooters.

The Rifle: The rifle / carbine portion of the Master Instructor Development Course is an 8-hour class. In the first half of the class emphasis will be placed on individual skill enhancement. Topics will include balancing speed and accuracy, multiple target engagements, dynamic moving and shooting, and bi-lateral shooting. In the second half of the course, the emphasis will be on instructor development for creating and conducting advance tactical multi-person live fire drills for the rifle / carbine operators. Students will participate in the drills as both a "student" and as an "instructor".

8/28-8/30/2017

Class Title: IALEFI Master Instructor Development Course

The Shotgun: Despite its tremendous utility value, the shotgun remains an underutilized and misunderstood tool. Many of the negative attitudes relative to the shotgun stem from improper training, and as a result officers never develop confidence in this particular weapon system. This block of instruction will explore alternate instructional techniques to make training with the shotgun a positive rather than negative experience

Overview: DPSST has been selected to host the Federal Law Enforcement Training Center (FLETC's) Leadership for Women in Law Enforcement class.

The LWLE is designed for women in law enforcement with a desire to further develop their leadership skills. The program provides a unique opportunity to examine leadership principles from the female law enforcement professionals perspective. The courses in this program are tailored to concentrate on issues and challenges common to female leaders in law enforcement such as Gender Differences and Work Life Balance. The program will facilitate open, candid discussions and exercises to identify and develop approaches to deal with common issues and challenges. The competency areas include leadership skills through understanding and adapting to human behaviors, communication skills, team building, situational decision-making skills, and emotional intelligence. Taking into consideration life and work experience, participants will explore these topics and develop skills by means of an adult learning model that employs lecture, laboratory, case studies and self-directed learning.

During the program, distinguished law enforcement executives will lead a panel discussion on participant-selected law enforcement leadership topics. Although the program focuses on Women in Law Enforcement, the leadership competencies developed will apply across the law enforcement community.

Hours: 0800-1600

Where: Deschutes County 9-1-1 20355 Poe Sholes Drive Suite 300, Bend, Oregon 97703

Cost: see 'Registration'

Instructors: D.J. Van Meter Ph.D./ Van Meter & Associates, Inc.

Overview: This course teaches that the employment relationship is an enforceable contract wherein management has inherent and enforceable rights. These rights include requiring employees to: attend work on a regular basis, give a fair days work, be subordinate, lawful to directives, perform to standards, get along with others and to be loyal to their employer's lawful business needs. The problem is that the traditional people-oriented style of management has been seriously weakened by 40 years of employee labor and employee rights laws. A performance-oriented model of management based on principles found in contract law, economics and Performance Theory is a more powerful, practical, simpler and enforceable alternative.

Prerequisites: None

Registration: Deadline to Register: October 11, 2017.

Cost: see 'Registration'

Instructors: D.J. Van Meter Ph.D./Van Meter & Associates Inc.

Overview: Performance Improvement Programs are well accepted by courts, arbiters, civil review boards and employees as a non-punitive means for dealing with employee performance deficiencies. They reduce the burden on management by placing the responsibility squarely on the employee's shoulders for improvement, reduces the basis for grievances because they are non-punitive methods for correcting deficient performance, and they provide a valid offense against claims of illegal discrimination.

Instructors: Cutting Edge Training Staff

Overview: As an instructor course, this course is not about you. It is about training you to train your officers to be effective and to save their lives on the street while meeting constitutional requirements of objectively reasonable force.

Problem-solving is the foundation of all effective fighting--"techniques" just aren't successfully applied like on the mat--you knew that the first time you ever tried to apply that nifty wrist lock to someone who didn't understand how cool the technique was. The last fight you were in required you to figure out--under threat--how to take the suspect into custody.

When it comes to fighting, how do you learn to successfully "problem-solve" against a bigger, stronger, determined suspect. As an instructor, more importantly, how do you teach others to problem-solve?

This truly revolutionary concept forms the basis of the most effective method of teaching armed professionals to prevail in the very short period of time permitted for training. Centering on "Integrated Combatives Problem-Solving"(c) featuring the "Universal Rules and Principles of Combatives"(c), the application of simple yet effective physical skills, "Applied OODA Theory"(c), through the application of current legal and policy provisions for the force response, creates the formula to achieve problem-solving competency.

We provide simple-to-learn, simple-to-employ skills--with NO techniques--and combine them with universal rules and principles based on the natural reflexes and instincts that have helped humans survive for all of history. There is nothing to memorize and then forget in a week's time. We know there is no single "right way" to conclude any defense or control situation. We measure success in any defense situation by the following inflexible standards:

- * Did the officer prevail (preferably uninjured)--or, at least, survive?
- * Did the outcome of the incident meet constitutional, legal, and policy standards?
- * Was the officer able to take the subject into custody?

If the answer to each of these questions is "yes," then the officer did his/her job, and we did ours. We teach officers to do what officers do best: problem-solve force responses within a constitutional framework.

Developed from the street "in," NOT from the matroom "out."

10/16-10/20/2017

Class Title: Defensive Tactics Instructor: Integ. Combatives Prob. Solving T-t-T

No "martial arts" or high skill-based techniques are forced on officers in this program. Rather than taking complicated, contextually-critical techniques (specific defenses to specific attacks from cooperative partners) from the training floor and expecting them to work in the uncontrolled environment of the street, we base our program on the uncomplicated nature of the dynamic human response to conflict. We bring street reality and functionality "in" to the training for your benefit.

Average officers practice little and generally remember almost nothing of their complicated, martial arts-intensive training. Strong, skilled men generally develop training that is suited for big, strong, skilled men...however, this system works for them until they are confronted by another big, strong, skilled man--then they will need to problem-solve their way through this fight. All of your officers appreciate this system for its simplicity and tactically-sound approach to increasing their ability to effectively put hands on a resistive or even combative subject. Highly trained officers appreciate the depth of the system in answering questions of why they have been successfully performing--and for increasing their abilities to apply their previous training. Big or small, strong or weak, highly trained or relatively less-trained...all benefit greatly from our problem-solving approach.

How the Course Works

The "Integrated Combatives Problem-Solving: Train-the-Trainer" course is highly structured in its concept, with each block of instruction layered upon the foundation of all physical conflict problem-solving: the "Universal Rules and Principles of Combatives."(c) As the new instructor learns the concepts involved with Defensive Tactics, and then teaches it, the foundation for Police GroundCombatives training is laid. Police GroundCombatives leads to Arrest & Control, which leads to Real-World Weapon Retention, and so on through the entire course.

The following topics are the minimum in course content covered during this week-long instructor training course:

- * Constitutional Limits to the Police Force Response
- * Integrated Combatives Problem-Solving(c) Theory
- * Applied OODA Theory
- * M.A.P.S. Pre-Assault Indicators
- * Teaching Defensive Tactics and Combatives
- * Teaching Real-World Police GroundCombatives
- * Teaching Real-World Weapon Retention
- * Teaching Real-World Bladed Weapon Defense
- * Teaching Emergency Weapon Recovery
- * Teaching Tactical Arrest & Control
- * Teaching Multiple Officer Takedowns
- * Police Physical Training Skills Theory and Practice
- * Instructional Documentation Requirements

This course brings outstanding instructional skill to officer defense and subject control and arrest in a simple format that is constitutionally-based, tactically sound, effective, and easy to apply for every officer in your agency. This completely different process of bringing ordinary officers into the category of "competent police trainer" is something you'd expect from CUTTING EDGE TRAINING. We are the original, and, so far, the only police trainers to bring you training that is:

* Outcome-based: We train officers and their agency trainers to respond to every day threats --as well as extraordinarily dangerous circumstances--by employing "Integrated Combatives Problem-Solving"(c) featuring the "Universal Rules and Principles of Combatives,"(c) and "Applied OODA Theory."(c) The only determination of whether the officer's method of defense and control was "correct" is that the officer was not injured and survived, and his/her force response was legally reasonable and within policy--just like in the real-world of force evaluation and justification.

*Gross-motor skills dependent: We never forget that these lessons are applied in the real world of fear and hazard and consequence, where nothing ever goes as planned. We have the only system that depends solely upon gross-motor skills in our combatives problem-solving efforts. We employ zero techniques to be forgotten a week later. Instead, we provide simple to employ, effective skills that have a high likelihood of success in any combative circumstance.

*Non-Technical: "Techniques" are fine-motor skills that routinely fail in the street. We teach no techniques because techniques only work against willing police officers on the mat and small children. Instead, we teach you to solve your combatives problems using naturally hard-wired solutions that are easy for every officer, regardless of level of ability.

Overview: This course takes the position that the responsibility for quality-control enforcement in an organization depends on the loyalty and abilities of its first first-line supervisors. Effective supervisors are those that know when to motivate, when to lead, when to discipline, when to subordinate, and when to just get out of the way. Attendees are taught the legal and fiduciary responsibilities of a first-line supervisor, how to build a positive supervisor to subordinate relationship, how to apply basic principles of employee motivation, leadership and performance management to day-to-day performance problems. How to establish accountability with the difficult employee, how to conduct a problem-solving conference and document a plan for performance improvement.

Instructor: John Detchon has 38 years' experience as a sworn office, serving five years with a major state highway patrol and 32 years with a sheriff's department. John is a former detective, 911, jail and patrol operations commander. He has conducted IA investigations for 15 years while serving as a division on commander in various assignments. He is a graduate of the Ohio State Highway Patrol Academy, Ohio Peace Officers Academy, Attended Kent State University and is a certified corrections academy instructor and Ohio Police Basic instructor.

Inside the Tape has been committed to providing quality training to law-enforcement agencies since 2001 without raising tuition rates or cancelling classes. We have added more in depth topics and several new case reviews to our program which continues to receive high marks from law enforcement agencies at all levels across the country, and has been used as a model for homicide scene management by agencies such as the Cincinnati, Austin, Detroit, Atlanta and St Paul Police in Minnesota. Several agencies contract our program out for in-service training and have implemented our methodologies and crime scene management principles with great success resulting in higher clearance and conviction rates.

The instructor for this training course will be investigator David Newman (RET) from the Norfolk Police Department in Virginia. Investigator Newman began his career in law enforcement in 1984 and retired from Norfolk in late 2008. His experience with the Norfolk P.D. includes over 15 years in the bureau serving in homicide & forensics and involvement in over 500 death investigations and high profile homicides. While serving in forensics he has investigated over 2500 cases including an additional 65 homicide investigations and over 500 crime scenes.

Overview: Law enforcement officers hold a position of visible authority within their communities and are held to a tremendously high standard of honesty, integrity, fairness and professionalism. Likewise, law enforcement leaders are directly responsible for maintaining the public trust and implementing policies, practices and a culture that are open to the public and address allegations of misconduct levied against its officers. Utilizing videos, lecture, case studies and interactive scenarios, professional policies, standards and practices will describe a framework for accepting complaints, conducting internal investigations of its officers and appropriately dealing with officers who have breached high ethical standards. Additionally, this course will address innovative and proactive steps that law enforcement leaders should consider as they foster a culture that respects the community it serves. Finally, this course will alert law enforcement leaders and those responsible for conducting those investigations to the legal implications that can result from improperly conducted investigations or a department's failure to address alleged misconduct by its officers.
