Call to order

Chair William Davis called the Sex Offender Treatment Board meeting to order at 9 a.m. Roll was called.

Items for board action

◆ Approval of agenda

Jane Allen made a motion, with a second by Randy Settell, to approve the agenda. The motion passed unanimously.

◆ Approval of minutes

Randy Settell made a motion, with a second by Jane Allen, to approve the minutes for Aug. 8, 2014. The motion passed unanimously.

Public comment I

None.

Adopt permanent administrative rules

◆ Hearing report

Anne Thompson, Policy Analyst, told the Board that she received one email during the public comment period. The email concerned the deletion of the word “individualized” from the definition of “treatment plan” in the rules. The writer was concerned that meant that all sex offenders will get a standardized treatment. The Board discussed the concern and looked at the phrasing; they concluded that the rules could stand as written.

Jane Allen made a motion to approve the permanent administrative rules; the motion was seconded by Randy Settell. The motion passed unanimously.

Director report

Director Holly Mercer outlined staff changes and anticipated hiring, including the approval to hire a communication person. She said that as the legislature heads into session, there was no indication of legislative concepts for this Board but the Board's fiscal problems may be an issue in the future. Mercer said that with a few Board members' terms coming to an end, recruitment would be a focus.

Public comment II

None.

Executive session

William Davis called for the Sex Offender Treatment Board to enter executive session pursuant to ORS 192.660(2)(f) at 9:17 a.m. on Friday, Dec. 5, 2014, for the purpose of considering information or records exempt from public inspection.

Davis concluded executive session and the Board reconvened regular session at 10:52 a.m. It was noted that no decisions were made and no votes were taken in executive session.

In 13-7354, 13-7361, 14-7525, 14-7526, 14-7527 and 14-7533, it was proposed that the cases be closed. Jane Allen moved to accept the proposal, with a second by Michele Roland-Schwartz. The motion passed unanimously.

In case 13-7222, it was proposed that the licensee will be issued a notice proposing a $5,000 civil penalty, which would be stayed with a mentorship of one year. The mentor must have an active Oregon mental health license, be a certified clinical sex offender therapist and be approved by the Board. The mentorship plan must be approved by the Board and the Board must be given quarterly reports and informed of the plan's successful completion. Jane Allen moved to accept the proposal with a second by Debra Patterson. The motion passed unanimously.

Other board business

The Board opened the discussion on replacing the three members who are leaving the Board. Davis said that as Board members are nominated by associations, members should go to their respective groups and ask for recommendations. He urged members to look for replacements among those who are on association boards.

The meeting adjourned at 11:08 a.m.

Education Review

Issue Statement

HEALTH LICENSING OFFICE

BACKGROUND AND DISCUSSION:

The Sex Offender Treatment Board met on Oct. 7, 2011, and approved a list of behavioral science degrees for applicants.

ISSUE:

An applicant is seeking registration with the Board and has a degree that is not on the list, but feels that her degree is a behavioral science degree. The Board can choose to review educational degrees and amend the list.

STATEMENT:

The Board chooses/declines to amend the list of approved behavioral science degrees.

BOARD APPROVED BEHAVIORAL SCIENCE DEGREES

The Sex Offender Treatment Board met on October 7, 2011 and approved Behavioral Science degrees to include, but not limited to, the following:

MULTI/INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES

PSYCHOLOGY

42.0101 Psychology, General. A general program that focuses on the scientific study of individual and collective behavior, the physical and environmental bases of behavior, and the analysis and treatment of behavior problems and disorders. Includes instruction in the principles of the various subfields of psychology, research methods, and psychological assessment and testing methods.

42.0201 Clinical Psychology. A program that prepares individuals for the independent professional practice of clinical psychology, involving the analysis, diagnosis, and clinical treatment of psychological disorders and behavioral pathologies. Includes instruction in clinical assessment and diagnosis, personality appraisal, psychopathology, clinical psychopharmacology, behavior modification, therapeutic intervention skills, patient interviewing, personalized and group therapy, child and adolescent therapy, cognitive and behavioral therapy, supervised clinical practice, ethical standards, and applicable regulations.

42.0301 Cognitive Psychology and Psycholinguistics. A program that focuses on the scientific study of the mechanisms and processes of learning and thinking, and associated information encoding, decoding, processing and transmitting systems. Includes instruction in theories of cognition and intelligence; studies of cognitive processes such as memory, sensation, perception, pattern recognition, problem solving, and conceptual thinking; cybernetics; psycholinguistics; and the study of biological and social communications mechanisms and processes.

42.0401 Community Psychology. A program that prepares individuals to apply psychological principles to the analysis of social problems, and the implementation of intervention strategies for addressing these problems. Includes instruction in social ecology, primary and secondary prevention of social pathologies, social intervention strategies and tactics, large group counseling, social services systems behavior, creating settings, cultural stress, and the dynamics of social change.

42.0501 Comparative Psychology. A program that focuses on the behavior of members of particular species or groups and the relationship of the behaviors of the species or group to their evolutionary origins. Includes instruction in differential psychology, experimental and physiological psychology, psychopharmacology, psychology of individual differences, reinforcement theory, and neurophysiology.

42.0601 Counseling Psychology. A program that prepares individuals for the independent professional practice of psychological counseling, involving the rendering of therapeutic services to individuals and groups experiencing psychological problems and exhibiting distress symptoms. Includes instruction in counseling theory, therapeutic intervention strategies, patient/counselor relationships, testing and assessment methods and procedures, group therapy, marital and family therapy, child and adolescent therapy, supervised counseling practice, ethical standards, and applicable regulations.

42.0701 Developmental and Child Psychology. A program that focuses on the scientific study of the psychological growth and development of individuals from infancy through adulthood. Includes instruction in cognitive and perceptual development, emotional development, personality development, the effects of biological maturation on behavior, theories of cognitive growth and related research methods, testing and assessment methods for different age levels, research on child and adolescent behavior therapy, and the psychology of aging. Note (Family and Human Development Studies/Individual and Family Development Studies, General, have been integrated into Developmental and Child Psychology because the definitions are virtually the same for the two programs.

42.0801 Experimental Psychology. A program that focuses on the scientific study of behavior under experimental conditions and the analysis of controlled behavioral responses. Includes instruction in learning theory, research design and experimental methods, psychological measurement, statistical design and methods, analysis of cognitive and behavioral variables, and the conduct of specialized and large-scale studies.

42.0901 Industrial and Organizational Psychology. A program that focuses on the scientific study of individual and group behavior in institutional settings, applications to related problems of organization and industry, and that may prepare individuals to apply such principles in industrial and organizational settings. Includes instruction in group behavior theory, organizational theory, reward/punishment structures, human-machine and human-computer interactions, motivation dynamics, human stress studies, environmental and organizational influences on behavior, alienation and satisfaction, and job testing and assessment.

42.1001 Personality Psychology. A program that focuses on the unique organization of fairly permanent characteristics that set the individual apart from other individuals and, at the same time, determine how others respond to that individual. Includes instruction in Freudian, Skinnerian, Rogerian, and Ellisonian psychology; neo-Freudian psychology; psychological systems, neurophysiology, and psychopharmacology.

42.1101 Physiological Psychology/Psychobiology. A program that focuses on the scientific course study of the biological bases of psychological functioning, and their application to experimental and therapeutic research problems. Includes instruction in functional neuroanatomy, neural system development, biochemical neural regulatory mechanisms, neurological biophysics, memory storage and retrieval, physiology of cognition and perception, physiological bases of psychopathology and behavioral disorders, psychopharmacology, comparative psychobiology, and specialized experimental design and research methods.

42.1601 Social Psychology. A program that focuses on the scientific study of individual behavior in group contexts, group behavior, and associated phenomena. Includes instruction in social learning theory, group theory and dynamics, sex roles, social cognition and inference, attribution theory, attitude formation, criminal behavior and other social pathologies, altruistic behavior, social development, and social ecology.

42.1701 School Psychology. A program that prepares individuals to apply clinical and counseling psychology principles to the diagnosis and treatment of student behavioral problems. Includes instruction in child and/or adolescent development; learning theory; testing, observation and other procedures for assessing educational, personality, intelligence and motor skill development; therapeutic intervention strategies for students and families; identification and classification of disabilities and disorders affecting learning; school psychological services planning; supervised counseling practice; ethical standards; and applicable regulations.

42.1801 Educational Psychology. A program that focuses on the application of psychology to the study of the behavior of individuals in the roles of teacher and learner, the nature and effects of learning environments, and the psychological effects of methods, resources, organization and non-school experience on the educational process. Includes instruction in learning theory, human growth and development, research methods, and psychological evaluation.

42.1901 Psychometrics and Quantitative Psychology. A program that focuses on the mathematical and statistical procedures used in psychological test construction and validation; the general problems of the measurement of behavior; and the application of quantitative methods to research design and other methodological topics.

42.2001 Clinical Child Psychology. A program that focuses on the developmental processes of children and associated disorders and that prepares individuals for the independent professional practice of clinical child psychology. Includes instruction in developmental neuropsychology, child psychopathology, testing of children and adolescents, pediatric psychology, psychosocial variables in child development, clinical skills, family therapy, behavioral assessment and intervention, clinical skills, consultation, professional standards and ethics, and applications to topics such as infancy, childhood, and adolescence.

42.2101 Environmental Psychology. A program that focuses on the study of behavioral interactions between human beings and the environment in individual and group contexts, and ways to improve them. Includes instruction in contextual theory; statistics; physiological, social, and psychological responses to natural and technological hazards and disease; environmental perception and cognition; loneliness and stress; and psychological aspects of environmental design and planning.

42.2201 Geropsychology. A program that focuses on the psychology of aging and of elderly individuals and populations, with reference to growth and decline across the life span. Includes instruction in gerontology, developmental and adult psychology, age-related development and decline of cognitive processes, age-related psychological and neurological disorders, social and personality development in aging populations and individuals, and applications to the clinical treatment and care of older adults.

42.2301 Health/Medical Psychology. A program that focuses on the psychological study of health and illness, and recovery, from the perspective that these phenomena arise from a combination of physical, behavioral, and social conditions. Includes instruction in abnormal and social psychology, psychophysiology, psychopharmacology, learning processes, clinical and behavioral therapies, biopsychosocial modeling, clinical procedures and assessment, preventive education, psychotherapy, rehabilitation processes, and research methods.

42.2401 Psychopharmacology. A program that focuses on the study of the behavioral effects of medications, drugs, nutrients, and chemicals (including natural and artificial toxins) in laboratory and clinical settings. Includes instruction in pharmacology, behavioral toxicology and pharmacology, neuroscience, physiology, clinical psychopharmacology, substance abuse treatments and antidotes, neurochemical mechanisms, epidemiology of chemicals and substances, biochemical interactions, and psychoactive drugs.

42.2501 Family Psychology. A program that prepares individuals to provide therapeutic, evaluative, and research services to families and individuals in the family unit context. Includes instruction in natural and family systems theory, family and group rituals, family evaluation and assessment, marital and couples therapy, sex therapy, parenting, interviewing techniques, genogram construction, family sculpting, diversity issues, family violence, family law, and professional standards and ethics.

42.2601 Forensic Psychology. A program that prepares individuals to apply clinical, counseling, school, and neuropsychology skills to the provision of psychological services within the criminal justice and civil legal systems, including consultation, assessment, and interventions. Includes instruction in the epidemiology of mental/behavioral disorders, risk factors for violence and criminality, profiling and patterning, psychological testing, prediction and intervention measurement, forensic assessment, criminal and civil law and procedures, secure environments, forensic treatment and intervention skills, and professional standards and ethics.
