New OLCC Inspector in Coos Bay

Medford, Ore. – Oregon Liquor Control Commission announces Summer Schwenninger as the new liquor inspector for the Coos Bay OLCC office.

Schwenninger comes to the Commission from the Coos Bay Police Department and has previous work experience as a Sheriff's Deputy at the Coos County Sheriff's Office. Other experience includes serving as a Sheriff's Deputy at the Gallatin County Sheriff's Office, Montana; Detention Officer at Gallatin County Sheriff's Office, Montana; and Correctional Officer at Dawson County Corrections, Montana.

"Summer has a lot of experience working with people and a strong background in helping businesses understand laws," says Jeff Jett, Medford Regional Manager. "As a Southern Oregon native, I think she'll be a great fit for the Coos Bay area community."

Schwenninger will be responsible for liquor licensing and compliance in both Coos and Curry Counties. The office is located at 500 Central, Coos Bay.

The five citizen commissioners are the policy-making body of the OLCC. They meet monthly for one or two days to make decisions on liquor licenses, rules, contested case hearings and appointments of liquor store agents. Commission meetings are held every other month at OLCC's main office, 9079 SE McLoughlin Blvd., Room 103A in Portland. Subsequent months, the meetings are held via phone. Agenda items can be obtained on-line at http://www.oregon.gov/OLCC/public_meetings.shtml

Did you know that in the last two years, the OLCC distributed more than $350 million to Oregon's General Fund, Cities, Counties, and Drug and Alcohol Abuse Programs? See the distribution of dollars on OLCC's Website.
