

NORTHWEST DISTILLERY

In a rustic barn, stainless distillery tanks and high purity piping are now home in a converted dilapidated hay storage area as the foundation of a state-of-the-art vodka distillery.

Meghan Zonich, a Bellevue, Washington native and mother of two, has shed her corporate shackles for the craft beverage business.

Northwest Distillery is owned and operated by the Zonich family in Warren, Oregon, located just 25 miles northwest of Portland.

Northwest Distillery produces handcrafted spirits, including the award-winning Liquid Vodka, Hello Lovely - a pre-mixed strawberry lemonade vodka cocktail, and award-winning Lavishmint Vodka. Lavishmint is derived from a precise mixture of spearmint and peppermint essential oils.

Northwest Distillery avoids chemically flavored vodka, and uses mint from Northwest farms for an authentic mint flavor when added to crisp vodka based with pure Oregon water. Lavishmint can be enjoyed 'straight up,' over a cool bed of ice, or as the base for favorite cocktails.
