Topic: Adopt recruitment plan for OPRD director’s position

Presented by: Chris Havel

Working in concert with the Department of Administrative Services, Oregon Parks and Recreation Department (OPRD) staff have drafted a recruitment plan for the position of OPRD director. The plan includes a calendar, names of people on the screening panel, and a set of survey questions for public and partners.

Action Requested:
We request the Commission adopt the recruitment plan.

Commission = Oregon State Parks and Recreation Commission. Chair = Oregon State Parks and Recreation Commission Chair Jay Graves. Chris = OPRD Associate Director Chris Havel. Susan = OPRD Sr. HR Analyst Susan Kirschenmann.
MISSION: To provide and protect outstanding natural, scenic, cultural, historic and recreational sites for the enjoyment and education of present and future generations.

Background

Oregon Parks and Recreation Department (OPRD) is conducting an executive search for a highly skilled leader to serve as the agency’s Director. This position is appointed by and serves at the pleasure of a seven-member commission appointed by the Governor.

OPRD is the state’s outdoor recreation advocate, responsible for a park system composed of 105,000-plus acres across more than 360 properties. It also manages and protects other natural, scenic, historic, and recreational properties, and operates programs such as the Scenic Waterways, Recreational Trails, All-Terrain Vehicles, and Ocean Shores. The latter encompasses management and regulation of 362 miles of ocean shoreline, all owned by the people of Oregon and protected from development.

The agency also administers several substantial grant programs that infuse local communities with dollars for recreational properties and park improvements. OPRD is home to the State Historic Preservation Office, and works with a number of commissions and advisory committees related to historic preservation, and cultural and archeological heritage.

The agency’s headquarters are in Salem, Oregon, with field offices in several dozen locations across the state. OPRD employs approximately 865 permanent and seasonal full-time employees (about 600 full-time equivalents) and has a biennial budget of approximately $209 million. OPRD also benefits from the services of more than 30,000 volunteers, corrections crews, and other staffing resources. About 40 million day use visitors—usually in the top five nationally—and 2 million overnight campers—in the top 10 nationally—come to our parks every year. More information is available at www.oregon.gov/OPRD.

Duties [link to current position description]

- Works with the Commission to provide leadership and direction for the agency. Oversees the development of long-range plans and short-range goals.
- Meets with legislative members and the public individually and in formal public meetings, to provide information, and solicit comments and views about agency decisions.
- Is the State Historic Preservation Officer, leading OPRD’s Heritage Conservation Division.
- Provides policy direction to staff to implement Commission-adopted goals.
- Serves as a member of the Governor’s Natural Resources Cabinet, and works with other state agencies to ensure understanding and consistency of programs across agency lines.
- Oversees coordination with heads of federal agencies and tribal governments to develop cooperative programs.
Desired attributes

The successful candidate must have extensive management experience within a public or private organization responsible for the operation of a complex system including parks, historic places, or natural resources. The candidate we are seeking is:

- An innovative, creative leader with integrity, and who has passion and conviction for the agency and its mission;
- Skilled in articulating the Commission’s vision for conservation, stewardship and management of Oregon’s special natural, recreational, scenic, and historic places;
- Demonstrated skill in working collaboratively with many and disparate stakeholders, many of whom hold competing viewpoints, to bring heritage and outdoor recreation services to a diverse spectrum of Oregon citizens;
- Able to work closely with the Governor’s office and the Legislature as an active advocate to address the full range of recreation and heritage needs in every Oregon community as the state faces long-term financial challenges.

The ideal candidate would have a Bachelor’s degree in Parks and Recreation, Public Administration or a related field, plus extensive experience in natural, historic, recreation or public agency executive management.

Salary and benefits

This is an Executive Service position, appointed by the Oregon State Parks and Recreation Commission to four year terms, with a salary range of $89,256 to $131,688 annually. The Commission may re-appoint the director as needed to additional terms. The State of Oregon provides an attractive, cafeteria-style benefit plan that includes an employer contribution toward a variety of medical, dental and vision plans, options for life insurance, disability insurance, and a retirement plan.

How to apply

Please refer to the full job announcement at http://Oregon.gov/oprd for the application materials.

Agenda Item:  4             Action

Topic:   Approve director’s final service date and name interim director

Presented by:  Lisa VanLaanen

Oregon Parks and Recreation Department Director Tim Wood intends to retire in January 2014, but the exact date is not yet settled. As the commission sets a final date, it must also name an interim director who will serve until a new director is hired.

Action Requested:
We request the Commission decide Director Wood’s final leave schedule, including any exceptional performance leave, and name an interim director.

Prepared by:  Susan Kirschenmann and Chris Havel
Agenda Item: 5
Topic: Select a Commission Vice Chair

Presented by: Chris Havel

The Oregon State Parks and Recreation Commission is authorized by Oregon Revised Statute 390.117 to select officers, except for the Governor-appointed chair. The Commission may select a vice chair from among its current members. The vice chair holds the position until the regular end of his or her term, or until replaced by another action of the commission. Typically, the vice chair acts on behalf at the chair to conduct commission meetings when the chair is unavailable.

Action Requested:
Select a vice chair.
