Beaver Fumbles in First Half are Cashed in for Touchdowns

Joe Gray Makes Thrilling Kickoff Return but Luck Lacking

By JAMES E. NUTTER

EUGENE, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Oregon's Webfoots ran wild in the second period of the annual football game between today to defeating Oregon State Beavers, 13 to 0, in the annual "civil war."

The Webfoots clashed their first touchdown drives when they succeeded without state fumbles.

Coach Lon Stiner surprised the 15,000 fans by starting an entire second team. The regulars did not see action in the game until they left the contest in the game's closing minutes. The Webfoots maintained control throughout the game, but the Beavers threatened to score in the last period when they carried the ball to the Webfoot 3-yard line, only to lose it on downs.

Beaver Center Kicks
Help Webfoot Cause

The Webfoots had all the best of it throughout the game. Their kicking was good and on several occasions the Beaver center lost the ball on poor passes and line plunges. Beaver ends were unable to get down under punts and the Webfoots gained consistently with the aerial attack.

Webfoot backfield men, particularly Joe Gray, Jimmy Lee Carpenter, Glenn Hall and Jack Hall, were the ground gainers for the Webfoots. Gray was the outstanding player on the field. He was responsible for the Webfoots' first touchdown when he drove to the Beaver 10-yard line. Moments later Gray drove individually over the goal line.

Carpenter had the ball on the Beaver 20-yard line, second and one, and gave it to Hall who scored. Carpenter converted for the extra point.

Webfoots Strike Early on 20-Yard Line

The Webfoots struck early in the game when they received the kickoff and after running the ball to the Webfoot 20-yard line, lost it on downs.

Then Gray got away for a 50-yard run around right end to the Beaver 20-yard line. Hall made it first down on the next play and Carpenter added 3 more. Gray then drove to the 10 down the Hyde minority conference report to accept the senate bill of Friday for a $2,500,000 project. The Angell-Barnes majority report was then adopted, 33 to 26 for the $3,000,000 project; and the bill was then passed by the house 33 to 26.

Adopt Fisher Plan For State Capitol

The bill did not reach the senate until eight at night. The senate made short shift of it. Senator Duncan moved to concur in the house amendments; Francischovich, Burke, Fisher, Zimmerman, Staples opposed and the motion was lost, 12 to 17. The roll call was:

Aye (12): Aitken, Barratt, Bynon, Duncan, Hazlett, McCornack, McKay, Pearson, Spaulding, Walker, Wallace, Corbett.

Nay (17): Best, Boody, Burke, Carney, Chinnock, Dunn, Fisher, Francischovich, Hess, Lee, Lessard, Staples, Steiwer, Strayer, Stringer, Wheeler, Zimmerman.

Bynon, McCornack, Walker and Spaulding, who had voted for the Fisher motion the day before swung to the $3,000,000 compromise.

Conferees then appointed were Senators Hazlett, Walker and Barratt; and Honeyman, Gouley and Rennie. About eleven the conference committee reported to the house inability to agree. Representative Fuhrer then moved to reconsider the vote by which the bill had passed the house. This carried 40 to 19. Fuhrer then moved to reconsider the vote by which Hyde's report for $2,500,000 was defeated.

An effort by Barnes, chairman of the house committee on public institutions, to refer to the people a capitol to cost $1,500,000 was badly defeated. Then the Fuhrer motion prevailed, the Hyde report was adopted and SB 54 was adopted 44 to 15. Those voting no on final passage were: Alber, Angell, Barnes, Boivin, Graham, Grant, Honeyman, Krier, Leach, Nelson, Norblad, Rankin, Rodman, Semon, Snider.
