HOW WE WORK WITH OUR PARTNERS

OYA is one of many organizations that make up Oregon's juvenile justice and public safety systems.

Members of this continuum include county juvenile departments, courts and district attorneys, law enforcement agencies, tribes, local communities, residential providers, mental health and addiction counseling programs, victim advocacy groups, social service agencies, communities of color, the faith community, the Oregon Department of Corrections (DOC), the Oregon Department of Human Services, the Oregon Department of Education, the Youth Development Council, and a range of non-profit and volunteer organizations. These partners coordinate their efforts through an exchange of information made possible by the Juvenile Justice Information System (JJIS).

JJIS is a statewide integrated electronic information system designed, developed, and implemented to support the shared use of a single database by Oregon's juvenile justice and public safety agencies. It is a result of collaboration between OYA and county juvenile departments.

The JJIS Steering Committee meets monthly to prioritize development of software features, make policy decisions, and allocate project resources.

Steering Committee members represent county juvenile departments, OYA, and DOC.

THE ROLE OF THE OREGON YOUTH AUTHORITY

The mission of the Oregon Youth Authority is to protect the public and reduce crime by holding youth offenders accountable and providing opportunities for reformation in safe environments.

OYA does this by exercising legal and physical custody of offenders committed to OYA by juvenile courts, and physical custody of young offenders committed to the Oregon Department of Corrections by adult courts.

The agency serves the state's most delinquent youth ages 12 through 24 who commit crimes prior to their 18th birthday. These offenders' criminal activities include murder, rape, arson, robbery, substance abuse, other violent and anti-social behaviors, and gang activity.

OYA staff and partners provide these youth with a range of evidence-based treatment and education programs designed to address the criminogenic factors that contributed to their criminal behavior.

These services are available to youth on probation, in close custody, and on parole.

THE YOUTH WE SERVE

OYA serves approximately 1,550 youth at any given time. The majority of OYA offenders — approximately 900 youth — are on probation or parole. The remainder, approximately 650 youth, live in one of OYA's 10 close-custody facilities located throughout Oregon.

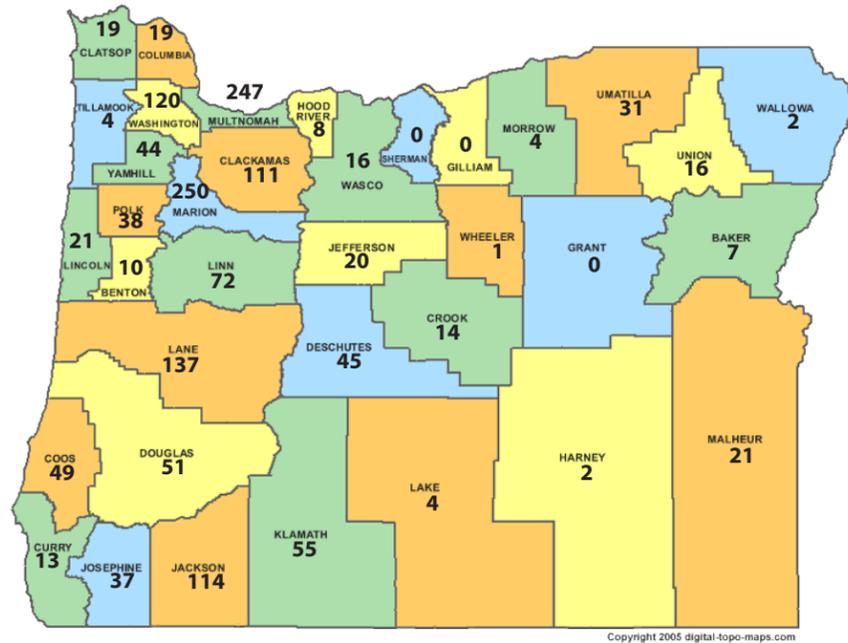

Many of the youth in OYA custody share several key social characteristics:

Social characteristics	Percent males	Percent females
Use of alcohol or drugs	69 %	81 %
Parental use of alcohol or drugs	58 %	72 %
Diagnosed conduct disorder	48 %	40 %
Other diagnosed mental health disorder	40 %	65 %
Special education student	29 %	35 %
Victim of sexual abuse	14 %	37 %
Past suicidal behavior	6 %	21 %

Information Services oversees the agency's Office of Research and Data Analysis, maintains the agency's information technology infrastructure, and provides technical support for JJIS.

The Director's Office provides leadership for agency operations. Functions include Communications, Inclusion and Intercultural Affairs, Internal Audits, Performance Management, Professional Standards, Public Policy and Government Relations, and Rules and Policy Coordination.

OUR VISION FOR THE YOUTH WE SERVE

Our vision is that all youth who leave OYA go on to lead productive, crime-free lives.

HOW WE MEASURE SUCCESS

OYA tracks 15 performance measures to monitor the success of its services. The measures fall within five areas — public safety, accountability, reformation, youth safety, and customer service.

Public safety goals are achieved through the use of interventions and graduated sanctions that target and reduce youth offenders' criminogenic risk factors. Four measures support OYA's public safety goals:

- Probation recidivism
- Parole recidivism
- Escapes
- Runaways

Youth offenders learn and practice accountability by making restitution payments to their victims. OYA tracks accountability through one measure:

- Restitution paid

Reformation is the underlying goal for all youth in OYA's care and custody.

OYA uses standardized risk assessments and structured case planning processes to develop the most effective plans and intervention strategies. Five measures track the effectiveness of these intervention and reformation efforts:

- Intake assessments
- Case planning
- Education services
- Transition planning
- School and work engagement

Youth at OYA are provided with safe environments. OYA tracks safety through three measures:

- Suicidal behavior
- Staff-to-youth injuries
- Youth-to-youth injuries

Customer service is measured by the satisfaction ratings in two areas:

- Youth satisfaction
- Family satisfaction
