

The Oregon Health Authority wants to hear from you!

What types of health care services are essential for all people in Oregon to be healthy?

The Oregon Health Authority reviews business deals that involve health care companies in Oregon. These reviews help make sure that these deals will help – and not hurt – people in Oregon. Specifically, OHA looks at how the deal affects health equity, consumer costs, access and care.

Please join us for a virtual public meeting on Monday July 25 from 4pm-7pm and share what types of health care services are important to you

We'll talk about different types of health care services, including:

- Primary care
- Surgeries
- Visits to the emergency department
- Services related to chronic conditions like asthma, diabetes, and more
- Pregnancy-related services
- Services that prevent disease such as screenings
- Services that help people navigate the health care system such as care coordination

This information will help define which business deals OHA must review.

Monday
July 25
