

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Can someone else drive my vehicle with my installed IID?

Yes. They will need to follow the device requests while driving the vehicle.

Can I drive a rental/loaner car without an interlock until my vehicle is fixed?

No. Any vehicle driven by the required driver requires an IID device installed.

How long do I have to provide a breath sample when the device requests a test?

You have 10 minutes to provide a sample once requested by the device.

Will the IID shut off or stop my car while I'm driving?

No. The device is there for reporting purposes only and will not control the operation of the vehicle.

How do I get an early removal?

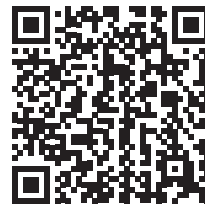

If you are currently on a diversion order and have had 6 consecutive months with no disqualifying factors, you may be eligible for an early device removal. Contact OSP or visit OSP's website (on the back of this brochure) for further details.

Need an Ignition Interlock Device?

Here is what you need to know.

IID
OREGON STATE POLICE
IGNITION INTERLOCK DEVICE PROGRAM

Introduction

When a person is convicted of driving while under the influence of intoxicants, they are required by law to have an approved ignition interlock device (IID) in any vehicle they operate. This requirement is added to a person's driving record. Without it, driving is illegal and leads to increased penalties.

To satisfy this requirement, you must install an IID from an OSP approved company and submit proof to DMV/OSP/Court or court designee indicating you installed the device and have had no disqualifying factors in the last 90 consecutive days.

What is an Ignition Interlock Device?

The Breath Alcohol Ignition Interlock Device (BAIID or simply IID) is attached to the ignition of a motor vehicle. When properly installed and calibrated, the IID will prevent a driver from starting a motor vehicle if the device detects a breath alcohol concentration (BAC) above the allowed alcohol set point.

About the IID Program

The Oregon State Police (OSP) provides the oversight for the ignition interlock device, companies, service centers and technicians throughout the state of Oregon. The program consists of law enforcement officers and support staff dedicated to IID standardization, service center compliance and public safety.

How to Get Started

There are multiple companies throughout Oregon qualified to provide and service Ignition Interlock Devices. If you need one, here's how to get started:

- 1. Visit www.oregon.gov/osp and click on "Programs." Then select "Ignition Interlock Device Program."
- 2. Click on the map of qualified installers. You will find information about the program and a link to a map for approved IID service centers near you. Each company is listed under the map with the direct numbers for you to call and set up your device installation.
- 3. Have your IID Requirement information ready. You will need to provide the IID company with accurate information, which they will report to DMV, OSP, the court and the court-appointed designee.

Financial Assistance

If you have a current Oregon Trail Card issued by the Oregon Department of Human Services, you may qualify for financial assistance through LifeSafer. For more information, please contact the Oregon Health Authority.

Know the Rules

- ✓ To start your vehicle, provide a passing breath sample.
- ✓ Additional samples must be provided within 10 minutes.
- ✓ You have 10 minutes to provide a passing sample if the device records an alcohol violation.
- ✓ The vehicle is required to have regular device servicing.

Violations of the IID Program

- ✗ If you fail a breath test and don't provide a passing sample within 10 minutes.
- ✗ If you fail to have your device calibrated on the schedule set by the company.
- ✗ If you tamper with your device or camera.
- ✗ If you solicit another to provide a sample into your device or provide a sample outside the camera view.
- ✗ If you fail to provide a rolling retest requested by the device.
