Through the funding provided under the African American Black Student Success Plan, Washington County and CAIRO have implemented the SPACE program to support students. The SPACE program is founded on the vision of a more just and equitable society where children, youth, and families live in sustained, supportive communities that reinforce the cultural wealth and lived experience of the family. The program focuses on 3 Strategic Priority Areas: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Equitable Education Focuses on a multitier system of support, affinity spaces for African immigrant students, tutoring, STEAM programs, and increased graduation rates 2. Health Equity 3. Economic Development With this grant funding the partnership strives to expand CAIRO's preschool sites and services, STEAM/STEM Early Learning, home visiting and perinatal support. Q: With the language opportunities for students, are there any plans to help students continue through the K-12 system? What opportunities are there for continuous learning? Are other students in the county encouraged to participate in learning the languages? A: Other students are able to engage with the language learning opportunities that are being offered. However, the current core of the engagement is in promoting and growing the SPACE program. Expanding the language opportunities is something that is planned to be considered for future grant opportunities.

Q: What is being done to combat anti-black and racism in the country?

A: There are workshops that students can participate in, but the greatest effort is done through modeling and making sure there is staff that looks like the students in the schools supporting the students every day.

African Youth Community Organization

Supported through the AABSS Plan funding, AYCO's UPLIFT Program provides support and mentorship to youth. Embedded in the program is the promotion of youth's cultural identity and leadership skills.

The UPLIFT Program includes the following supports to youth:

- Academic Support
- Athletic Programs
- Summer Programs
- Girls Group
- Environmental Education
- Refugee Support
- Youth Violence Prevention
- Special Needs Children Support

UPLIFT's Academic Support program is the largest program within the organization providing students with leadership development, and engaging in culturally-specific academic, athletic, and mentorship programs. Students are supported by Cultural Navigators that serve as a bridge between youth, schools, and parents.

AYCO's UPLIFT Program also offers Refugee Support to 15-24 year olds that have lived in the U.S. for less than 2 years. The main purpose of the program is social integration and academic support for these students, and helping them overcome the challenges of adjusting to a new culture.

Q: Has your program run into any comments of discomfort from the LGBTQ2SIA+ community regarding the separate boys and girls groups?

A: There haven't been any issues that have arisen with this - the separation was an ask from students within the program.

Q: What is done to let students know that they deserve to be in college, and what is being done early to tie college to careers for students?

A: The target for this is students in high school. The Cultural Navigator for this program is in constant communication with high school students in motivating and informing students about college opportunities. Students have a better understanding of college and its possibilities by connecting with people that look like them that have achieved post-secondary education.
