PROCEDURES FOR EXAM CANDIDATES REQUESTING ACCOMMODATIONS FOR DISABILITIES

The Oregon Board of Accountancy (BOA) recognizes its responsibilities under Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act to provide appropriate and effective accommodations, including auxiliary aids, to qualified exam candidates with disabilities. However, the BOA will not fundamentally alter the measurement of the skills or knowledge the examination is intended to test, nor create an unreasonable risk to the security and integrity of the examination process.

All exam facilities will be physically accessible to disabled candidates.

A disability, with respect to an individual, is defined as: (1) a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more of the major life activities of such individual; (2) a record of such an impairment; or (3) being regarded as having such an impairment. Major life activities include: walking, speaking, seeing, hearing, breathing, learning, working, caring for one's self, etc. Mental impairment includes any mental or psychological disorder such as organic brain syndrome, emotional or mental illness and specific learning disabilities.

A candidate seeking an accommodation is responsible for making the request and providing documentation of the need. This information will be kept confidential to the extent provided by law. The BOA will evaluate each request individually, in accordance with the guidelines set forth herein, to provide an appropriate and effective accommodation. All requests to the BOA for accommodation must be submitted on the prescribed form.

All applicants requesting accommodations will be provided with:

- Request for Accommodation of Disabilities form.
- Professional Evaluation and Documentation of Disability for a professional to recommend appropriate accommodation.
- Policies and Procedures for Exam Candidates Requesting Accommodations for Disabilities.
- List of Most Commonly Used Reliable Standardized Psychometric Tests

I. The Uniform CPA Examination.

An applicant for licensure as a CPA is required to pass a computer-based examination, which is uniform throughout the United States and its territories. The examination is administered during two months of every three-month period throughout the year. Each three-month period is called a testing window.

The computer-based test is comprised of four parts, titled:

- Auditing and Attestation (AUD) 4 hours.
- Financial Accounting and Reporting (FAR) 4 hours.
- Regulation (REG) 3 hours.
- Business Environment and Concepts (BEC) 4 hours.

Types of Questions

Questions offered on the computer-based examination will be objective and simulations.

- Objective questions will be presented in a multiple-choice format and will appear as sequential testlets. Testlets are groups of questions that are constructed to appear together. Each exam section will include approximately three multiple-choice testlets. Each testlet will contain approximately 25 questions.
- Simulations are condensed case studies that will assess accounting knowledge and skills using real life work-related situations and may require the use of word processing skills, spreadsheet skills, and research of authoritative literature. Each exam section, except BEC, will include two simulations. Each simulation is also considered a testlet.

Understanding, Analysis, and Judgment

CPA candidates will be asked to demonstrate understanding, analysis, and judgment on the Uniform CPA Examination through questions that will require them to:

- Interpret and apply relevant professional literature.
- Comprehend professional standards and apply these standards during the course of an engagement.
- Recognize business-related issues and their relevance to evaluating an entity’s financial condition.
- Evaluate, analyze, and process entity information for reporting in financial statements.
- Identify financial accounting and reporting methods and select those that are suitable.
- Address, analyze, and resolve issues in the conduct of an engagement.

Communication

Candidates will demonstrate their written communication skills through the use of short constructed response questions. Written communication skills will be tested in the context of specific subject matter.

Research

Candidates will demonstrate their research ability, searching the professional literature, identifying relevant information, and drawing conclusions.

Skills Target Weighting.

The percentages listed below represent the range of total test points associated with that skill for each section, and for the examination as a whole.

	Communication	Research	Analysis	Judgement	Understanding
AUD	10% - 20%	6% - 16%	12% - 22%	12% - 22%	35% - 45%
FAR	6% - 16%	11% - 21%	13% - 23%	10% - 20%	35% - 45%
REG	0% - 14%	9% - 19%	9% - 19%	8% - 18%	45% - 55%
BEC	0% - 13%	0% - 13%	8% - 18%	6% - 16%	55% - 65%

Credit status is established by passing one section of the computer-based examination.

A first-time candidate who passes any section of the computer-based CPA Exam during the six months (two windows) immediately following commencement of computer-based testing shall retain credit for that section for a 24-month period beginning with the date the section of the examination was passed. A first-time candidate who passes any section of the computer-based CPA Exam after the initial six months shall retain credit for that section for an 18-month period beginning with the date the section of the examination was passed.

A repeat candidate transitioning examination section credits from the paper-and-pencil based examination will receive credit for the computer-based equivalent of those sections. This candidate will be allowed; an 18-month period from commencement of the computer-based examination to pass any remaining examination sections, or the number of attempts remaining under paper-and-pencil, whichever is exhausted first.

When a candidate has credit for all four sections of the examination at the same time, the candidate has passed the examination.

Once the CPA Exam is passed, an applicant for the CPA license must demonstrate qualifying experience of up to four years in order to obtain licensure as a CPA.

II. Documenting the Need for an Accommodation.

A. Conditions Applicable to all Candidates Requesting Accommodation.

To protect the integrity of the testing process, the BOA requires documentation of the existence of a disability and how the requested accommodation is necessary to provide the candidate with an equal opportunity to exhibit his/her knowledge, skills and ability through the examination.

The BOA will review the history of accommodation in relation to the currently identified impact of the disability.

Candidates requesting an accommodation must provide all the information listed in Professional Evaluation and Documentation of Disability Form (to be completed by the professional certifying to the disability). For subsequent examinations, the candidate may submit a statement, signed under penalty of perjury, indicating the disability condition has not changed to the extent it would modify the accommodation previously provided.

An evaluation and documentation supporting a disability shall be valid for three years from the date submitted to the BOA; except that no further documentation will be required where the evaluation clearly states the disability will not change in the future.

B. Additional Conditions Applicable to Learning Disabled Candidates.

A learning disability is defined as individual evidence of significant learning difficulties which substantially affect or limit one or more major life activities, and which are not primarily due to cultural, emotional, or motivational factors. The term does not include learning problems which are primarily the result of visual, hearing, or motor disabilities, mental retardation, emotional disturbance, or of environmental, cultural, or economic disadvantage. Note that while some of these factors may be involved in other types of disabilities, such factors are excluded from the determination of a learning disability.

The individual must demonstrate: a) at least average overall intellectual functioning as measured by general cognitive ability tests (see attachments); and b) show evidence of a significant impairment in one or more of the following areas of intellectual functioning and information processing:

- Attention and concentration.
- Efficiency and speed of information processing.
- Reception (perception and verbal comprehension).
- Memory (ability for new learning).
- Cognition (thinking).
- Expression.

Significant impairment is generally determined by a discrepancy of 1.5 standard deviations, or more, between the individual's intellectual functioning, as measured by general cognitive ability tests (see attachments), and actual performance on reliable standardized measures of attention and concentration, memory, language reception and expression, cognition, as well as academic areas of reading, spelling, writing and mathematics. Further, determination of the learning disability shall be based on reliable standardized psychometric tests of achievement and ability and a complete clinical history including medical, family, developmental, educational and occupational information. Attachment C specifies the acceptable standardized psychometric tests for specific types of learning disabilities.

C. Information Required to Evaluate Disabilities.

A candidate who requests an accommodation and/or auxiliary aid must provide the Board with the necessary information to evaluate the request. The Board will evaluate each request on a case-by-case basis. The following information is required to support requests for an accommodation and/or auxiliary aid:

1. Identification of the type of disability (physical, mental, learning).
2. Credential requirements of the evaluator.
 - a) For physical or mental disabilities (not including learning), the evaluator must be a licensed physician or psychologist with special expertise in the area of the disability. If someone else who does not fit this criterion completes the evaluation, the BOA may require another evaluation by a professional of their choosing, and the request may be delayed.

- b) In the case of learning disabilities, a qualified evaluator must have sufficient experience to be considered qualified to evaluate the existence of and proposed accommodations needed for specific learning disabilities. The evaluator must be one of the following:

A licensed psychologist or physician who possesses a minimum of three years experience working with adults with learning disabilities, and who has training in all of the areas described below.

or

Another professional who possesses a master's or doctorate degree in special education or educational psychology from a regionally accredited institution, and who has at least three years of equivalent training and experience in all of the areas described below.

- Assessing intellectual ability level and interpreting tests of such ability.
- Screening for cultural, emotional and motivational factors.
- Assessing achievement level.
- Administering tests to measure attention and concentration, memory, language reception and expression, cognition, reading, spelling, writing and mathematics.

3. Professional verification of the disability, which must include:

- (a) The nature and extent of the disability.
- (b) The test(s) performed to diagnose the disability (if applicable).
- (c) The effect of the disability on the candidate's ability to perform under standard testing conditions.
- (d) The recommended accommodation and how it relates to the candidate's disability, given the format of the examination.
- (e) The professional's name, title, telephone number, professional license or certification number, educational credential, and his or her original signature.
- (f) A description of the professional's educational experience which qualifies him or her to make the determination.
