SUMMARY OF ITEM 02-OR-2026

Item 02-OR-2026—Revisions to Basic Manual Classifications for Bakeries and Restaurants in OregonFiling Memorandum

Applies in: ORPurpose

This item revises the treatment for classifications related to bakery and restaurant operations, including mobile food vendors in NCCI's Basic Manual for Workers Compensation and Employers Liability Insurance for Oregon (Basic Manual for Oregon).

Background

NCCI conducted a comprehensive review of the classification treatments for food-related operations, focusing on bakery operations, the restaurant industry, and mobile food vendors.

Bakery operations

Bakery operations have evolved significantly in recent years. Traditionally, many bakeries operated primarily as wholesale producers, distributing baked goods to retailers and other commercial outlets. Today, the industry has shifted as modern bakeries increasingly offer direct-to-consumer services. Examples of these services include providing dine-in seating for a cafe-like experience, the availability of convenient takeout options for items such as pastries and coffee, and additional options for off-premises consumption, like delivery and catering. This transformation has led many bakeries to adopt hybrid models that combine wholesale and restaurant-style services. In some cases, bakeries have moved entirely to a restaurant-style approach, eliminating the wholesale component altogether.

To reflect these operational shifts, NCCI determined that revisions are necessary to clarify the classification treatment for bakery operations in Oregon. The Oregon-specific Code 2003—Bakery & Drivers, Route Supervisors is to be eliminated and reassigned to the newly established Oregon-specific Code 2003—Bakery—Wholesale & Drivers. Oregon-specific Code 2003 provides a detailed description of employers that manufacture bakery products and includes examples within the categories of baked goods, cooked or uncooked frozen bakery items, and cookies and crackers. Additionally, direction is provided to separately rate retail stores operated by wholesale bakeries and baked goods shop operations.

To appropriately classify bakery operations that sell baked goods directly to customers for dine-in or takeout, a new classification phraseology is to be established under Code 9083 for Baked Goods Shop & Drivers. This new classification phraseology applies to neighborhood or retail bakeries and specialty baked goods shops that provide direct consumer sales for on-premises consumption or takeout.

In addition, retail sales of prepackaged baked goods with no food preparation will continue to be classified to the appropriate mercantile code. The Oregon-specific phraseology note for Code 8017—Bakeries—Retail Store Sales, is to be revised to clarify the scope of operations for retail bakery stores and to update the reference to Code 9079 to the appropriate restaurant classification.

These revisions will improve clarity and support consistent classification of bakery operations in accordance with current practices.

Restaurant industry

The restaurant industry has also undergone significant transformation in recent years, resulting in notable changes in both operational models and the overall dining experience. As a result, the distinctions among various restaurant categories have become increasingly blurred. Examples include

- casual dining establishments that now routinely offer bar services and expanded alcohol menus as part of their standard offerings

Item 02-OR-2026—Revisions to Basic Manual Classifications for Bakeries and Restaurants in OregonFiling Memorandum

- family-style restaurants which, despite similarities to casual dining, may operate with buffet or self-service formats and minimal waitstaff, and
- fast-casual restaurants that blend elements of fast-food and casual dining, typically offering higher-quality menu items at elevated price points, often without full-service staff.

Takeout and delivery services have become common services across all restaurant types, reflecting the industry's adaptation to consumer demand for convenience and flexibility. "Ghost kitchens" have emerged as a modern food service model using professional food service facilities or commercial kitchens to prepare made-to-order meals exclusively for off-premises consumption. These operations do not provide on-site dining and do not maintain a customer storefront. Orders are typically received through online platforms or delivery applications. Although ghost kitchens do not offer traditional dine-in service, they perform the same core food preparation functions as restaurant kitchens. This development further diversifies restaurant operations and introduces unique exposure considerations.

Currently, Code 9079 is used in Oregon to classify restaurant and bar operations under the following classification phraseologies:

- Code 9079—Hotel—Restaurant Employees
- Code 9079—Restaurant & Drivers
- Code 9079—Restaurant—Movie/Dinner Theater & Drivers
- Code 9079—Specialty Baked Goods Shops & Drivers

NCCI's review determined that revisions to the restaurant classifications are necessary to better reflect the full range of current restaurant and bar operations and to support consistent and uniform application of payroll. These revisions will reflect food service operations such as buffets; ice cream shops; specialty drink shops primarily serving coffee, tea, and other made-to-order nonalcoholic beverages; and ghost kitchens.

The Oregon-specific classification code and associated classification phraseologies for Code 9079 are to be eliminated and reassigned to the applicable Code 9082, Code 9083, and Code 9084 multistate restaurant codes and associated classification phraseologies or applicable Oregon-specific classification phraseologies.

The following Code 9058 multistate classification phraseologies are to be established to address restaurant employees of commissaries, hotels, motels, motor courts, tourist courts, and cabins:

- Code 9058—Commissary Work—Restaurant Employees & Drivers
- Code 9058—Hotel—Restaurant Employees & Drivers
- Code 9058—Motel, Motor Court, Tourist Court, or Cabin—Restaurant Employees & Drivers

Additionally, the following Code 9052 classification phraseologies for commissaries, hotels, motels, motor courts, tourist courts, and cabins are to be revised to include a cross-reference to the related Code 9058 restaurant classification phraseologies:

- Code 9052—Commissary Work—All Other Employees & Salespersons, Drivers
- Code 9052—Hotel—All Other Employees & Salespersons, Drivers
- Code 9052—Motel, Motor Court, Tourist Court, or Cabin—All Other Employees & Salespersons, Drivers

Item 02-OR-2026—Revisions to Basic Manual Classifications for Bakeries and Restaurants in OregonFiling Memorandum

These revisions clarify the classification of restaurant employees and drivers for commissary, hotel, motel, motor court, tourist court, or cabin operations. Drivers supporting restaurant operations will be classified under Code 9058, while drivers supporting nonrestaurant operations remain classified under Code 9052. When an employee performs both restaurant and nonrestaurant driving duties, payroll is to be assigned in accordance with NCCI's interchange of labor rules.

Delivery services conducted by third-party providers that operate independently from restaurants are not included within restaurant classifications and are instead assigned to applicable driver-related codes.

NCCI's review also identified that revisions are needed for the following Oregon-specific classification phraseologies to promote clarity and classification consistency:

- Code 8017—Coffee Retailer is to be eliminated and reassigned to the new multistate Code 9083—Specialty Drink Shop & Drivers classification phraseology
- Code 8017—Ice Cream Stores is to be eliminated and reassigned to the new multistate Code 9083—Ice Cream Shops & Drivers classification phraseology
- Code 8017—Food Cart or Stand is to be revised to clarify the operations within this phraseology and update the reference to Code 9079 to the appropriate restaurant classification
- Code 0008—Farm—Vineyard & Drivers is to be revised to update the reference to Code 9079 to the appropriate restaurant classification
- Code 2121—Beer or Ale Dealer—Brewery & Drivers is to be revised to update the reference to Code 9079 to the appropriate restaurant classification
- Code 2130—Distillery—Spirituous Liquor. is to be revised to update the reference to Code 9079 to the appropriate restaurant classification and remove the period at the end of the phraseology caption
- Code 2143—Winery & Drivers is to be revised to update the reference to Code 9079 to the appropriate restaurant classification
- Code 9154—Theater NOC: All Other Employees is to be revised to update the reference to Code 9079 to the appropriate restaurant classification, and
- Code 9154—Theater—Drive-In—All Employees is to be revised to update the reference to Code 9079 to the appropriate restaurant classification.

Mobile food vendors

Mobile food vendors have emerged as one of the fastest-growing segments within the food service industry. These businesses typically operate from carts, converted buses, pull trailers, lunch wagons, or trucks and are often equipped with small commercial kitchens. Their menus have expanded beyond traditional items to include upscale and gourmet menu items. Mobile food vendor operations vary widely; some vendors operate on a mobile basis and change locations frequently, while others maintain fixed setups for extended periods. In addition, many mobile food vendors operate seasonally, offer catering services, or serve at specific events.

Historically, mobile food vendors have generally been assigned to Code 7380—Drivers, Chauffeurs, Messengers, and Their Helpers NOC—Commercial because of the driving exposure. However, these businesses are primarily engaged in food preparation and service and would therefore be more appropriately classified under restaurant codes rather than driver-related codes. To address this, a new classification phraseology for Mobile Food Vendor & Drivers is to be established under Code 9083 to better reflect their current practices and primary exposure to food preparation.

Item 02-OR-2026—Revisions to Basic Manual Classifications for Bakeries and Restaurants in OregonFiling Memorandum

- Individual employers currently classified to proposed discontinued Code 9079 are expected to transfer to newly created Code 9058, Code 9082, Code 9083, and Code 9084. The initial loss cost and rating values of Code 9058, Code 9082, Code 9083, and Code 9084 will be equal to the loss cost and rating values of Code 9079 until Code 9058, Code 9082, Code 9083, and Code 9084 develop experience to determine their own loss costs. Individual employers currently classified to Code 9079 are expected to see no change in premium due to the transfer of payroll to Code 9058, Code 9082, Code 9083, and Code 9084.
- Individual employers identified as baked goods shops that are currently classified to Code 2003 are expected to transfer to the newly established Code 9083. These employers are expected to see a premium decrease. The impact to individual employers will depend on the amount of payroll that transfers from Code 2003 to Code 9083 and their associated loss costs.
- Individual employers identified as ice cream stores or coffee retailers that are currently classified to Code 8017 are expected to transfer to the newly established Code 9083. These employers are expected to see a premium increase. The impact to individual employers will depend on the amount of payroll that transfers from Code 8017 to Code 9083 and their associated loss costs.
- Individual employers identified as mobile food truck vendors, including ice cream mobile unit vendors, that are currently classified to Code 7380 are expected to transfer to the newly established Code 9083. These employers are expected to see a premium decrease. The impact to individual employers will depend on the amount of payroll that transfers from Code 7380 to Code 9083 and their associated loss costs.

In addition to the movements noted above, it is possible that some payroll may transfer between the codes included in the proposal. The amount of payroll transferred cannot be identified using current industry data sources. The impact to individual employers will depend on the amount of payroll, if any, that transfers from code to code and their associated loss costs.

Negligible impact to overall statewide premium is expected as a result of these changes.
