Class Title: Centrifuge Training: VCQB Instructor
Target Audience: Law enforcement Force Options instructors
Sponsoring Agency: Columbia City Police Department
When: 9/10-9/14/2018

Contact: Jeromy Hasenkamp; (503) 610-8886;mailto:jhasenkamp@columbia-city.org#
Hours: 0900-1700
Where: Columbia County Range Complex; 63301 Columbia River Hwy, Deer Island, OR
Cost:

Instructors: Will Petty, Centrifuge Training

Overview: Vehicle CQB Instructor is now a full 5-day program with an NLTA program. With current use by the FBI, TX DPS, RCMP, Michigan State Police, NYPD, USMS, Texas Tactical Police Officers Association, Ohio Tactical Officers Association and many others, the VCQB program has become the national standard within the law enforcement community for vehicle based engagements.

VCQB Instructor is an accelerated shooting class focused on positional shooting and critical light manipulations in and around vehicles. Students will push the boundaries of "traditional" cover and concealment utilizing various cars and trucks in a true 3D environment. Drills will incorporate critical weapon employment while engaging threats in, around, from, over and under vehicles with a heavy emphasis on problem solving. Lighting principles and threat assessment all play a major factor in this course. Live ballistic demos with a variety of ammunition will be conducted as the class explores ballistic deflection, deformation, penetration and terminal effect in direct correlation to various vehicle mediums. Classroom portions will include video diagnostics, statistics, tactics and the science behind why we win and lose around vehicles.

The final day of the VCQB instructor program will give students non-lethal training ammo curriculum to advance their department’s status quo past static square range tactics. This dynamic curriculum is developed in a drill format that allows students to experience common avenues of attack by motivated threats in and around vehicles. The curriculum is based on the UTM training model and ensures the highest performance from students prior to them encountering an actual engagement.

Students will leave with a full instructor packet to include extensive lesson plans, a power point, video diagnostics, diagrams and relevant studies.

This course will have long days and a night shoot (depending on range logistics).

Upon satisfactory completion of this 40 hour course students will be awarded:

VCQB Instructor Certification

Pre-requisites:

- Current LE / MIL / GOV credentials.

<td>Overview:</td>
<td>NRA Law Enforcement Firearm Instructor Development Schools develop and enhance both instructor skills and firearm handling skills of all students so they can effectively teach their officers to win lethal encounters. These schools are intended for public and private law enforcement officers and military personnel who are currently assigned, or about to be assigned, duties as law enforcement firearm instructors. The curriculum is designed to prepare students to develop and conduct safe, effective, reality-based and agency-related firearm training. Classroom instruction and practical exercises on the range provide a model for students to use in building their own agency programs. In addition, the school will enhance each student's firearm knowledge and handling skills. All classes and range exercises are conducted at the instructor level, with students conducting many of the range exercises to gain experience. Students are exposed to a wide variety of shooting techniques, training methods, and tactical philosophies, which allows them to choose what best serves their students. Each of our Instructor Development Schools consists of a minimum of forty-four (44) contact hours during a five (5) day school. &quot;Contact hours&quot; refers to actual instructional time in the classroom and on the range, and does not include travel time between the lodging and training site, meal times, or range clean-up. Classes will be conducted from approximately 0730 to 1800 Monday, and 0800 to 1730 hours, Tuesday through Friday, plus one late night to accommodate reduced light shooting. 100% attendance and participation is MANDATORY for successful school completion. When: 9/7/2018

Registration Deadline:

Contact: ;

Hours: 0900-1600

Where: 2955 NE 172nd Pl., Portland, OR 97230

Cost: $325.00 per student.

Instructors: National Law Enforcement & Corrections Center (NLECTC) has established a group of Certified Field Search Instructors (CFSIs) to deliver the training on this software tool nationally. Confront offenders with pre-viewed and recovered digital evidence while on scene, or during enforcement activity. This tool will help determine what digital information is not of investigative value and what items should possibly be sent to the crime laboratory for additional analysis. Officers will be able to save time and money by being able to pre-view digital evidence immediately. Call us if you have questions or visit https://www.ekitsupply.com/field-search.html.

How does it work? Field Search software is deployed from a USB drive by officers in the field and plugged into the suspect computer (probation enforcement, search warrants, knock and talks, etc.). Displays information and can read media attached to computer; digital camera, CD’s, external hard drive, sims/SD cards, etc. Software is designed for all levels of computer users from the novice to experienced. Collects and create a court worthy report of the evidence found with ease.

All students will receive a licensed copy of this software in class. No hidden costs- or- re-occurring fee’s. Students will be able to use the tools in the field by the end of the class. Officers receive a 4GB USB drive with Field Search V5 Pre-Installed, 15+ additional easy to use investigative software tools (Hashing tools, GEO tag tracing, etc.). Officers will learn how to search a suspect’s computer using the latest proven technology. We provide a mobile computer lab complete with case studies to aid with the hands on learning experience. Preview different operating systems; Win 10, Win 8, Win 7, XP, etc./ Example of files- Field Search will find and display (MACs & Windows):

- URL records (i.e. www.field.com), even some records the suspect believes he deleted!
- Images (Pictures) several different formats....JPEG, GIF, BMT, PNG, and many more.
- Videos (Movies) several different formats....WMV, MPEG, FLV etc.
- Files sitting in the recycle bin (user believes they deleted these files, date and time they were deleted).
- Keyword Search tool allows an investigator look for email addresses, victim names and numbers, credit

Chief Matthew Carmichael of the University of Oregon Police Department, the California Victim Compensation Board and the Oregon Department of Justice are once again presenting a conference on mass violence response and effective partnerships between law enforcement and victim services to assist victims of crime. The conference will take place in the great Pacific Northwest from September 5-7, 2018 at the University of Oregon in Eugene. This year, our conference will be held in a larger venue and will include better deals on accommodations.

This year’s national conference will follow up on last year’s sold out conference theme of Best Practices for Mass Violence Response and we plan to include detailed presentations regarding some of the more recent mass violence incidents including the Route 91 Harvest Festival concert shooting in Las Vegas, the Marshall County High School shooting in western Kentucky, the First Baptist Church shooting in Sutherland Springs, Texas, the Marjory Stoneman Douglas High School shooting in Parkland, Florida and the shooting at the Pathway Home at the Veteran’s Home in Yountville, California. We also plan to present an in-depth look at issues surrounding the Sikh Temple shooting in Wisconsin and the train stabbing in Portland, Oregon last year. In addition, the conference agenda will devote time to learning about effective community partnerships that provide unique services to victims of crime.

Our diverse group of subject matter experts will include speakers from our tribal communities who will address the impact mass violence has had on them, especially the recent tragedy in Las Vegas and an incident in California a few years ago that taught us about how best to work with tribal communities. In addition, we will provide technical training sessions on the federal Office for Victims of Crime mass violence response toolkit and best practices for creating local integrated crisis response plans with County emergency management partners.

Attendees at this conference will include law enforcement, victim service providers, first responders, community based organizations, campus officials, crisis response teams and emergency management professionals. This year’s conference is the third installment in the Leave No Victim Behind series and will build upon the excellence demonstrated in our first two sold out conferences which in the past have been supported by our local, state and federal partners which have included the federal Office for Victims of Crime and the Oregon Department of Justice.

This one of a kind nonstop barrage of experts is a must attend conference for 2018. Our non-traditional approach to adult learning will of course include a remarkable venue, excellent conference provided meals and an exceptional line up of subject matter experts. Please register early and check back often to our website for updated information. Again, due to our history of selling out early we are opening our registration early at a reduced cost.

We look forward to seeing many of you at Leave No Victim Behind III.

Cost: $229.00

Instructors:

Overview: The vast majority of attacks on officers begin with communication: They Tell You it’s Coming. If you can predict it, you can prevent. Stopping violence before it starts is a learnable and necessary skill. Too often, officers are reactive to aggression rather than predictive. Preparing for a violent encounter requires that you quickly and accurately identify behaviors that indicate vicious intent. If done effectively, you have the power to influence outcomes.

How to Predict Violence & Influence Behavior begins by delving deeply into the science of Kinesics and the study of body language, stances, gestures and micro expressions. Using videos of recent attacks on officers, we analyze subtle movements, mannerisms and warning signs of the impending aggression. We will discuss how these same, proven skills can assist in getting confessions.

We then discuss the critical importance of your own behavior and how it can be affected by emotion and stress. Learn what science tells us about human behavior and how asking the right questions, actively listening and showing empathy can be the keys to controlling, redirecting and influencing others. Once learned, you can control the outcome of a potentially deadly encounter.

Old School ‘verbal defense’ classes train old school communication theory. This course was developed using today’s research in the science of human behavior and decades of real street experience.

This class will discuss:
✓ How the 5 Truths of Human Behavior will Help You Read the Signs ✓ Situational Awareness: You, The Subject and the Environment ✓ Statement Analysis: Knowing What They Don’t Know They’re Saying ✓ The Critical "Signs": Intent, Motivation and Hidden Meanings ✓ Spotting Lies: Active Listening and Asking the Right Questions ✓ The Eight Essentials to Getting Confessions ✓ Language and the Use of Force: Communicating Clearly ✓ Stay in the Moment! Avoiding Stress Induced Blindness ✓ The Power of Thinking Without Thinking

Overview: Threat Assessment Training for Student and Community Threats A Comprehensive System for Threat Management in the Community, K-12 Schools and College Campuses

For over a decade, the Willamette Valley Adult Threat Advisory Team and the Mid-Valley Student Threat Assessment Team have been well-functioning entities focused on the threat of violent behavior. Built from a collaborative, multi-agency structure, both teams operate a regional system that serves school districts, higher education institutions and the community. Over the years, the teams have developed an annual training for new members but have also offered their training expertise to other professionals interested in developing threat assessment systems or sharpening their assessment skills.

The training now takes place over a three-day time frame, beginning with participation in the Adult Threat Advisory Team meeting on Tuesday morning and ending with participation in the Student Threat Assessment Team meeting on Thursday afternoon.

Throughout the course, a multidisciplinary team (education, law-enforcement, mental health, campus security, Court staff, and parole and probation) will present the following:

*The basics of threat assessment including a survey of the research that addresses aggression and threat assessment as well as the recommendations of field experts and practitioners.

*The application of the research and recommendations into the use of higher education, K-12 and community threat assessment protocols.

*Training on the steps and developmental procedures necessary to implement a successful multidisciplinary, multi-agency threat assessment and management system on higher education campuses, in K-12 school districts and within the community.

*Multiple threat assessment labs and audience participation exercises.

Overview: The 5-day (40 hour) Advanced Crime Scene Documentation course combines the full course contents of both the Bloodstain Pattern Documentation course and the Shooting Incident Documentation course into one.

The Bloodstain Pattern Documentation course has been approved for 20 hours of certification/re-certification training credit by the IAI Crime Scene Certification Board. The Shooting Incident Documentation course has been approved for 20 hours of certification/re-certification training credit by the IAI Crime Scene Certification Board. Please visit the IAI Certifications page at tritechtraining.com for additional information.

BLOODSTAIN PATTERN DOCUMENTATION - This course is designed for the student who wants to learn how to correctly recognize, document, and collect bloodstains and bloodstain patterns for later analysis by a bloodstain pattern analyst. Students will be taught terminology, pattern recognition and documentation methods that will ensure the possibility that the patterns can be reconstructed and analyzed at a later date. Classroom presentations are supplemented with practical exercises and hands-on activities.

By the end of the training the student will understand the importance of properly documenting and collecting bloodstained evidence in the context of the overall event reconstruction.

SHOOTING INCIDENT DOCUMENTATION - This course teaches the student how to properly interpret physical evidence and to document the scene through note taking, diagramming, and photography. Use of rods, lasers, and protractors will be covered, as will the use of mathematics in determining bullet flight paths.

This is designed as an introduction to the 40-hour Shooting Incident Reconstruction course or as a standalone course for those students more concerned with documenting scenes as opposed to reconstructing them.

Course contents include shooting reconstruction concepts, defect characteristics, target surface considerations, chemical testing of defects, flight path rods, use of lasers, mathematics in shooting reconstruction, and hands-on exercises for each concept discussed.

Overview: The workshop will provide a forum for discussion and analysis of the city, county, state, and federal capabilities that would be deployed and/or activated to respond to a complex, coordinated, terrorist attack (CCTA) against multiple targets in the Eugene metropolitan area. Participants in the locally focused workshop will include personnel from city, county, regional, state, and federal entities in law enforcement, fire departments, emergency medical services, fusion center(s), emergency management, public affairs, medical communities, as well as other key stakeholders from the private sector. The workshop underscores the need for a whole community response and aims to:

Review existing preparedness, response and interdiction plans, policies, and procedures related to a CCTA;

Identify shortfalls in plans, operational capabilities, response resources, and authorities;

Identify federal, state, and local resources - including grants, training, exercises, and technical assistance;

Improve situational awareness, recognize best practices, and encourage information sharing among all stakeholders in the event of a CCTA;

Examine healthcare system and clinical challenges unique to a CCTA employing small arms and explosives;

Discuss a framework for immediate medical management of wounded in, or near, an attack site;

Identify and share best practices and lessons learned from case studies in medical preparedness and response; and

Examine the roles of the community and bystanders in a CCTA.

Additional participants include hospital/medical personnel and community groups.

Overview: Defensive Tactics Instructor: Integrated Combatives Problem-Solving TRAIN-THE-TRAINER By Cutting Edge Training LLC.

Outcome-based, gross-motor, simple yet effective "real-world" problem-solving: "We Functionalize Combatives Training For Your Officers!"

For the first time ever...a DT system allowing your officers to be effective if they are NOT martial artists, athletes, or bigger, stronger, and more capable than the suspects they arrest. This course provides every officer with the ability to maximize their existing attributes and skills in reasonably and effectively taking resisting suspect’s into custody.

This practical seminar provides your agency instructor with:

- Proven "Integrated Combatives Problem-Solving" featuring the "Universal Rules & Principles of Combatives"
- ZERO martial arts - no complicated Aikido/jujitsu/wrestling/strength-based techniques.
- Real world force response and suspect control from the average officer’s perspective with real world applications.
- World-class instruction by a world-class trainer and instructional staff.
- Instructors are taught to teach a gross-motor skill and principle-based course in achievable training concepts.
- A "non-technical," legally defensible, comprehensive defensive tactics system that really is, for the first time, useful for the average officer in real-world situations.

Use of Force
9/24-9/26/2018

Class Title: Use of Force IDC + Video Simulator Evaluator Course
Target Audience: Law enforcement survival skills instructors
Sponsoring Agency: DPSST and La Grande PD
When: 9/24-9/26/2018
Registration Deadline: 5p 9/10
Contact: Scott Willadsen; (503) 378 - 6763; scott.willadsen@state.or.us

Overview: Use of Force Instructor Development Course plus Video Simulator Evaluator Course: 24 hour module

DPSST is offering a 24 hour Use of Force IDC and video simulator evaluator module: The focus of this module is going to be; dispelling use of force myths, case law updates, use of force research and how they apply to Use of Force situations. It will examine the decision making, physiological and psychological responses to use of force situations of officers.

The course will add to a law enforcement instructor's depth of knowledge in understanding use of force events, both legally and tactically. It will also help participants that are teaching others or evaluating students in making reasonable assessments and decisions during Use of Force incidents. Participants will review case studies utilizing video analysis, group discussion and work group exercises.

This course will also teach instructors to run and evaluate use of force scenarios in a video simulator system. Currently DPSST utilizes the MILO video simulator system but these skills translate to any use of force video simulator system. The video simulator system will be used to assess and discuss the use of force lessons learned in the classroom. Participants will also learn how to trouble shoot and fix many common video simulator issues.

At the end of the 3-day class all participants will be qualified to run and evaluate use of force video scenarios at DPSST.

NOTE: This class DOES NOT replace the DPSST regional training program - MILO Instructor Course. This class WILL NOT cover system set-up, system take-down, or initial system calibration. If you wish to check out and use a portable MILO video simulator at your home agency you still must attend the regional MILO instructor class.

Pre-Requisites/Considerations:

1. The course will run from 0800 to 1700 hours each day, with a one-hour lunch break. You must attend all three 8-hour days in order to receive credit for the course.

2. This is an advanced course. Participants should be either a current Survival Skills Instructor or plan on becoming an instructor.

Instructors: Coordinator Scott Willadsen

Class Title: Investigation of Use of Force Command - Supervisors and Trainers

Overview: Tracking - Trending - Investigation of Use of Force Command - Supervisors and Trainers "You can't manage what you don't measure."

In this two day program the training will introduce techniques and concepts of how to track, trend and investigate use of force incidents. Topics will cover training curriculum development, use of force reporting and review to investigations. This overview concentrates on multiple issues ranging from daily officer citizen complaints to investigative issues involving physical to deadly force encounters. Instruction uses lecture and case review. This is essential training for anyone who reviews, conducts training, or investigates police use of force incidents.

INSTRUCTIONAL OBJECTIVES:
Legal applications of use of force - What is being reported
Early Intervention tracking for use of force
Reducing liability in use of force by deploying de-escalation strategies and documentation
Reducing liability and increasing officer safety by deploying tactical strategies
Strategies on responding to individuals that are considered special populations
How to avoid an "Eric Garner Incident"
What to look for when tracking police use of force
Training curriculum selection and review
Coordination and strategies dealing with multiple officer engagements
Training measurements and performance - You can't manage what you don't measure.
Video recording issues regarding viewing and reporting

LARRY A. SCHURIG is the Executive Director of the Use of Force Review Unit for the Cook County Sheriff's Office (CCSO). Mr. Schurig initiated the Use of Force Review Unit in September of 2011 and created the unit that reviews all reported Use of Force incidents which involve Cook County Sheriff's Department employees. The Correctional Department houses 8,000 to 11,000 inmates in the correctional facility on a daily basis. Due to the magnitude of violent detainees in the facility on a daily basis, the department experiences Use of Force incidents. The development, strategies and review processes created by Executive Director were even recognized by the Department of Justice.

Class Title: Building Analytical Capacity: A Free Executive Workshop

Target Audience: see 'Overview'

Sponsoring Agency: The International Association of Directors of Law Enforcement Standards and Training, with support from the U.S. Department of Justice and Bureau of Justice Assistance

When: 8/14-8/15/2018

Registration Deadline:

Contact: markdamitio@iadlest.org

Cost: Free

Where: Portland Police Bureau, 1111 SW 2nd Avenue / 14th Floor: Wayne Sullivan Room, Portland, Oregon 972

Overview: The "Crime Analysis for Chief Executives" two-day workshop seeks to assist top commanders in identifying how to support actionable analysis within their own departments and use that analysis to drive operations. Workshop attendees are provided with the very comprehensive guidebook on "Building a Model Crime Analysis Capacity: 50 Steps for Law Enforcement Professionals." The instructors guide the executives through the development of a customized plan to establish or enhance analysis within their own departments.

Department CEOs are encouraged to attend the workshop with agency teams consisting of the commander as well as supervisors and analysts so that they can work together to develop a plan that addresses specific challenges within their own departments and also determines how to best address local crime issues and make the most of available resources. Prior to the workshop, attendees are asked to complete an "agency inventory worksheet" detailing the department's technology and analysis capabilities so that the workshop can be best customized to address needs and challenges.

The workshop is free and free follow-up technical assistance is available to all participating agencies.

Learn...

What to expect from crime analysts

How to make effective use of crime analysis
How to best support and manage a crime analysis capability
Methods to improve data quality, policy, and training
How to develop effective CompStat models
Successful implementation of philosophies like hot spot policing and intelligence-led policing from your peers around the nation!
All instructors have direct experience at the analyst, supervisory, or executive level.

Hours: 0800-1700

Where: Washington County Sheriff's Office, 215 SW Adams St, Hillsboro, Oregon

Cost: $195.00

Instructors: Chief Harry P. Dolan (Ret.)

Overview: This course provides public safety professionals of all ranks, sworn and civilian, with practical time-tested leadership lessons learned from the arena. The program has been developed to prepare today's leaders to confront the new reality of heightened transparency and unprecedented expectations. Chief Harry P. Dolan (Ret.) places a laser-like focus on specific leadership actions and traits that have led to success or failure when navigating challenging times. "We are not doomed to repeat history if we grow to understand that war stories may indeed be case studies. When combined with evidence-based research, these case studies and practical experience contain valuable leadership lessons."

Understand the research on field leadership in public safety: Stop guessing and start applying what we know works.
- Establish a solid understanding of performance motivational theory.
- Identify what great leaders do when bad things happen.
- Understand commander's intent, unity in command and groupthink.
- Build and maintain professional ethics throughout the organization:
- Why the "taking care of the troops" philosophy doesn't have to result in compromising high expectations.

Highlight: 2018 Keynote: Dr. Bryant T. Marks, Sr.

Implicit Bias and Cultural Competence for Crisis Intervention Teams

Dr. Bryant T. Marks, Sr. is a minister, researcher, trainer, and award-winning educator. His personal and professional mission is to develop the knowledge, wisdom, and skills of others that will allow them to reach their full potential and live their lives with purpose and passion. Dr. Marks is the Founder and Chief Training Officer of the National Training Institute on Race and Equity and he is a professor in the Department of Psychology at Morehouse College. He served on President Obama's Board of Advisors with the White House Initiative on Educational Excellence for African Americans and as senior advisor with the White House Initiative on Historically Black Colleges and Universities.

His Presentation Will Include:

- Overview of implicit bias research and key findings
- Innovative, engaging, and motivational delivery of content
- Highly interactive and introspective exercises
- Small group dialogue of sensitive topics related to working with males of color as a case study
- The use of compelling videos, images, and other media
- Overview of national, industry-specific data disaggregated by race and gender
- A discussion of implicit bias from the target’s perspective
- Anonymous audience polling and display of results in real-time. Responses are used as a basis for discussing sensitive topics and to allow participants to see how their attitudes or experiences compare to others.

Instructors: Readiness And Emergency Management For Schools (REMS)

Overview: Readiness And Emergency Management For Schools (REMS) - Developing Emergency Operations Plans (EOPs) / IHE 101 Train-the-Trainer (TtT) Training

The REMS TA Center, in partnership with the U.S. Department of Education, (ED) Office of Safe and Healthy Students (OSHS), is pleased to offer the "Developing Emergency Operations Plans (EOPs) IHE 101 Train-the-Trainer (TtT) " (IHE 101 TtT) Training by Request (TBR). This on-site, 8-hour TBR presents important Federal guidance on emergency management planning for IHEs.

Our nation’s postsecondary institutions are entrusted to provide a safe and healthy learning environment for students, faculty, and staff who live, work, and study on campus. Faced with emergencies ranging from fires, tornadoes, floods, hurricanes, earthquakes, to pandemic influenza and other infectious diseases, and active shooter situations, this is no easy task. It is critical for IHEs to plan ahead to help ensure the safety and general welfare of all members of the campus community.

In June 2013, the Obama Administration released the Guide for Developing High-Quality Emergency Operations Plans for Institutions of Higher Education (IHE Guide) which provides an overview of Federal guidance on IHE emergency management planning. The IHE Guide, produced by ED; the U.S. Departments of Education; Justice, led by the Federal Bureau of Investigation; the U.S. Department of Homeland Security, led by the Federal Emergency Management Agency; and U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, incorporates lessons learned from recent events, as well as years of emergency planning work by the Federal government, to present a recommended process, important content elements, and key considerations for higher ed emergency operations plan (higher ed EOP) development.

This six step planning process is designed to help IHEs develop a plan, conduct a comprehensive review of their entire plan, or conduct periodic and incremental reviews of a plan’s components. The planning process discussed during the IHE 101 TtT TBR is flexible and can be adapted to accommodate an IHE’s unique characteristics and situation.

Instructors: Presented by Crisis Systems Management, LLC

Overview: Crisis/Hostage Negotiation - Level I (Basic) addresses the fundamental tasks of a successful crisis negotiator. This course will prepare you to work as part of a coordinated negotiation team and handle a variety of crisis situations including hostage takers, barricaded subjects, and potential suicide victims.

The effective Application of active listening skills and the Behavior Influence Stairway Model will be discussed at length and reemphasized throughout the progression of all three courses. You will learn the different phases of the negotiation process, from the introduction to the surrender, and specific strategies and techniques to be used along the way. We will discuss when negotiation may not be the best solution, what items are negotiable and non-negotiable, and what to do in non-response situations.

The management of intelligence and information is a critical aspect of mitigating any law enforcement threat and you will learn specific techniques for managing the flow of information during a crisis.

You will also gain a basic understanding of the psychological motivations of persons in crisis and learn to recognize the characteristics of emotionally disturbed persons. You will learn about personality disorders which are most commonly encountered during a crisis incident as well as strategies for affecting a positive outcome.

Challenging, team-oriented, scenario-driven practical exercises are an integral part of the course and will allow you the opportunity to practice and refine your crisis negotiation skills.

Overview: Knight Defense proudly presents Dr. Mike Shertz MD/18D of Crisis Medicine to deliver: 48-hour Tactical Combat Casualty Care Course (TCCC)

TCCC launched a total reassessment of practices with one common goal: Decrease Preventable Combat Death at the point of wounding. These new strategies based on historical wounding patterns in combat also bear a particular relevance to the operators of Tactical Law Enforcement who share many operational parallels with their military counterparts.

Instead of the civilian-based approaches of the past, integrated strategies specific to combat realities continue to emerge. Compared to standard pre-hospital treatment modalities, which are fundamentally based on blunt trauma, TCCC distinguishes itself from the norm by focusing primarily on the intrinsic tactical variables of penetrating trauma compounded by prolonged evacuation times.

Today, TCCC has become the standard of care for the tactical management of combat casualties within the Department of Defense and is the sole standard of care dually endorsed by both the American College of Surgeons and the National Association of EMT’s for casualty management in tactical environments.

TCCC is built around three definitive phases of casualty care:

Care Under Fire:

Care rendered at the scene of the injury while both the medic and the casualty are under hostile fire. Available medical equipment is limited to that carried by each operator and the medic.

Tactical Field Care:

Care rendered once the casualty is no longer under effective hostile fire. Medical equipment is still limited to that carried into the field by mission personnel. Time prior to evacuation may range from a few minutes to many hours.

Tactical Evacuation Care (TACEVAC):

Class Title: 48-hour Tactical Combat Casualty Care Course (TCCC)

Care rendered while the casualty is evacuated to a higher echelon of care. Any additional personnel and medical equipment pre-staged in these assets will be available during this phase.

Topics will include, but are not limited to:
* Wounding patterns seen in tactical operations
* Care priorities during the care under fire, tactical field care, and casualty evacuation phases
* Hemorrhage control options - tourniquets, wound packing, and hemostatic agents/dressings
* Airway management positioning, airway adjuncts (nasal pharyngeal, King LT), surgical airways
* Management of penetrating chest trauma - needle decompression, occlusive dressings
* Proper use of intravenous / intraosseous access, appropriate administration of Hextend and IV fluid
* Casualty movement - manual carries, drags, evacuation with Talon II and Skedco litters
* Role of pain management and antibiotics in a tactical environment

Overview: Oregon's 2018 Statewide Traffic Incident Management Annual Conference

The Oregon Department of Transportation (ODOT), Oregon State Police (OSP) and Federal Highway Administration (FHWA) invite you to the 2018 Traffic Incident Management Annual Conference.

Across Oregon we continue to advance multi-agency, cross-disciplined Traffic Incident Management (TIM) strategies. Our collective efforts, in partnership with our response partners, are aimed at enhancing the overall safety and efficiency with which we manage roadway incidents. Continued progress is dependent upon enhancing cross-discipline, interagency coordination, collaboration and communication - to effectively perform as a team, we must plan, train, evaluate and grow as a team. Our annual statewide conference is an opportunity to do just that. Each year representatives from fire and rescue, law enforcement, towing, EMS and transportation gather to discuss updates on TIM strategies, activities and technology. We hear valuable lessons from other states, share successes and concerns, network with response professionals, and explore implementation of select TIM strategies that will advance safe, quick clearance of roadway incidents right here in our communities.

Instructors: Richard Goerling and Pete Kirchmer

Overview: This is a 3-Part training program that leads towards becoming a peer coach for performance and resilience. Graduates of all three phases of this training program will be capable of championing mindfulness as a preventative approach to health and wellness and as a path toward performance optimization— at work, at home, and in the community. Peer Coaches will fit seamlessly into existing CISM and Peer Support systems.

Peer Coaches can integrate seamlessly into existing leadership and training constructs within a public safety agency- operations, training, administration, etc. Peer Coaches will be able to build mindfulness training models, collaborating with community, regional and national certified trainers to tailor resilience and performance training to meet the unique needs of their organization. Peer coaches will be equipped to integrate mindfulness training sessions into the regular rhythms of their organization, ensuring skillful instruction and resourcing others so peers can continue their own mindfulness practice.

Participants in this training program must complete the following to earn the designation of a Peer Resilience Coach:

1. Module I: 3-day intensive - mindfulness skill building
2. Module II: 12-week Distance Learning- study, mentorship and personal practice
3. Module III: 3-day intensive - mindfulness for performance, movement and mindful nutrition, and coaching skills
4. Pracçum - local project of training/educaçon

Peer Coaches will be required to complete ongoing professional education to maintain affiliation as a Peer Coach.

Increasing Resilience in Police and Emergency Personnel by Stephanie M. Conn
Resilience Training

11/16-11/18/2018

Class Title: Mindfulness-based Resilience Immersion Training

Target Audience: Police, fire, emergency telecommunication, corrections, emergency management, other public safety, and military personnel

Sponsoring Agency: Bend Police Department

When: 11/16-11/18/2018

Registration Deadline: 10/15/18

Contact: Richard Goerling; richard@mindfulbadge.com

Hours: 1500-2200 Fri; 0700-2200 Sat; 0700-1400 Sun

Where: Rock Springs Ranch, Bend, Oregon

Cost: $875 includes instruction, food and lodging

Instructors: Richard Goerling and Brian Shiers

Overview: Mindfulness is a category of mind training that explores the three different modes of attention and trains them to enhance new forms of concentration, self-awareness, and situational awareness to enhance all cognitive, emotion regulation, tactical, and interpersonal skills. This training is an examination into the science and experience of mindfulness as it relates to resilience, warrior-humanitarian ethos, and human performance optimization. These skills provide the foundation to thrive through adversity and trauma and the wisdom to understand strategies for recovery, pliability and striving toward sustained post-traumatic growth.

Experiential & instructional

This is an intensive introduction to the science of the mind and cognitive conditioning through mindfulness meditation and mindful movement. Opportunities for experiential practice through guided and individual meditations and mindful movement are supported with lectures/discussions throughout each training day. This training is a partnership between the Mindful Badge Initiative and the Bend, Oregon Police Department.

Prerequisites: None

Registration: Deadline to register: October 15, 2018. To register:

Attire: Comfortable clothing, jacket, walking shoes. Dress for winter in Oregon.

Class Needs: Stadium blanket, water bottle, note taking materials, yoga mat

Lodging: Provided at the training venue.
Ballistic Shield

12/10-12/12/2018

Class Title: Ballistic Shield Instructor Development Course
Target Audience: Agency firearms instructor
Sponsoring Agency: DPSST

When: 12/10-12/12/2018

Registration Deadline: 11/10/18

Contact: Noel Aher, DPSST Firearms Program Coordinator; 971.718.6503; naher@dpsst.state.or.us

Hours: 0800-1700

Where: DPSST, 4190 Aumsville Hwy SE, Salem, OR 97317

Cost: Free. Lunch provided to all.

Instructors: DPSST Staff

Overview: The ballistic shield has been traditionally reserved for use by specialist teams, and there is very good reason that they choose to deploy them. As the expectation grows for front line officers to push forward and deal with events that would in days gone by require a ‘swat’ response the equipment we provide to those officers has changed dramatically. Although ballistic shields are more likely than ever before to be made available to patrol officers, the training available for their use has remained scarce.

This 24 hour training class will introduce the concepts for use and training others in effective practical deployment of a ballistic shield by a lone patrol officer, or a small group.

Participants will complete and teach live fire range drills & force on force scenario training.

DPSST will provide shields for use during the class, participants are welcome to bring their department issue shields if available for consistency.

Prerequisites: Students must be able to pass PQC-1 on day one to continue in the class. Those unable to do so will be asked to enroll in a later IDC. There will be a single attempt of a cold qualification completed first thing on day one.

Registration: Deadline to register: 11/10/2018
Apply now if you are interested we may stop accepting applications at any time. To register: Applications will be taken on a first-come, first-served basis. Limit one application per agency to start. If submitting more than one application, please prioritize by indicating priority number on each application.

Registration forms may be obtained from DPSST’s website: at: http://www.oregon.gov/dpsst. On the right side of your screen hover over the Criminal Justice link, select Training, and then click on the Regional and Advanced Training link. Click on the Course Registration App. link located on the left side of your screen.

Scan and e-mail completed application to: dpsstregional@state.or.us. Registration questions contact Jennifer, DPSST, jennifer.otterlee@state.or.us

Attire: Comfortable range clothing to include eye protection and a brimmed hat. Long sleeves are recommended each day. Ear protection is provided by DPSST. The majority of the class will be on an indoor range, with the force on force component completed outdoors.

Class Needs: A reliable semi-automatic duty handgun chambered in either 9mm, .40cal, 45acp or .357 sig. A duty
