

July 7, 2011

For more information:

Kimberly Dinwiddie, 503-731-8281, Kimberly.Dinwiddie@odot.state.or.us
Don Hamilton, 503-731-8265, Don.Hamilton@odot.state.or.us

TRAFFIC ADVISORY

Seattle to Portland bike route includes U.S. 30 this weekend

Estimated 10,000 bicyclists expected to travel on U.S. 30 from Rainier to Portland

Motorists and bicyclists are asked to travel with caution along U.S. 30 (Lower Columbia River Highway) between Rainier and Portland this weekend.

Approximately 10,000 bicyclists plan to take part in the Cascade Bicycle Club's 2009 Seattle to Portland ride this year. About 30% expected to cross the Lewis & Clark Bridge at Rainier on Saturday, July 9, and travel to Portland via U.S. 30; the remaining riders will cross the bridge on their way to Portland on Sunday, July 10. Riders will exit U.S. 30 at the St. Johns Bridge and proceed along city streets to Holladay Park.

For more information on the route and event, visit the event Web site:

<http://shop.cascade.org/content/events/stp>

##ODOT##