

ADPC Recovery Committee
Strategic Priorities 2026-2030

Draft

Background/Mission

The ADPC Recovery Committee collaborates closely with ADPC staff and other partners to advance recovery-related work across the state.

The ADPC Recovery Committee strives to manage the timely development, implementation, and maintenance of a statewide system that creates recovery-oriented systems of care (ROSC). The Committee leverages the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) definition of a ROSC. The central focus of a ROSC is to create an infrastructure or “system of care” with a full range of community-based services to ensure individuals and families have the support they need to build resilience for improved health, wellness, and quality of life.

Comprehensive Plan Priorities

The Recovery Committee proposes expanding the availability of recovery friendly spaces, addressing the stability and sustainability of the recovery system, and ensuring seamless transitions across levels of care by focusing on the following priorities. In prioritizing these activities, the Recovery Committee envisions expanding access, services, and supports to all Oregonians, regardless of demographics, geography, or stigma associated with seeking care.

- 1. Expand the number of Recovery Community Centers (RCCs) across Oregon to ensure equitable access through culturally diverse program offerings irrespective of geographical constraints. Expanding access to Recovery Community Centers is critical to providing appropriate long-term levels of recovery support no matter where someone may be on the continuum of care. The Committee defines RCCs as peer-run drop-in centers for people in recovery from SUD. The centers maintain daily community-based and peer-run recovery supportive activities and one-on-one peer support services. The Recovery Committee will work with local, regional, and statewide leaders to develop a strategy that ensures the sustainability of the RCCs while focusing on financing, service array, geographic disbursement, culturally responsive practices, and the use of the latest evidence of effectiveness in the field.

2. Ensure adequate recovery housing is in place for Oregonians seeking support based on a wide range of levels of care and priority population designations.

Ensuring adequate recovery housing is vital for Oregonians seeking support across a wide range of substance use disorder (SUD) acuity levels and priority population designations. The Recovery Committee is committed to developing clear and recognized definitions for distinct recovery housing categories that align with varying levels of care needs. These definitions will be essential for securing state funding, establishing consistent service standards, and expanding supportive housing models statewide.

The Committee's efforts will focus on:

- Identifying and defining appropriate housing categories that correspond to the full spectrum of SUD recovery needs.
- Advocating for these definitions to be recognized and adopted by the state to facilitate funding and operational support.
- Expanding recovery housing capacity to meet the needs of individuals requiring different levels of care.
- Ensuring equitable access to recovery housing for priority populations.
- Promoting trauma-informed care practices to foster stable, supportive environments.
- Encouraging collaboration between landlords, housing providers, and service organizations to ensure successful tenancies and long-term stability.

By implementing clear recovery housing categories and expanding capacity, individuals can be better supported on their recovery journeys and there will be improvements to overall outcomes for Oregonians impacted by substance use disorders.

3. Standardize Peer Recovery Support Services across the system to build a skilled and sustainable peer workforce. Establishing a strong and sustainable peer recovery support services (PRSS) system requires clear definitions, core competencies, and alignment across health care and recovery settings. The Recovery Committee will collaborate with stakeholders to create a unified approach that ensures consistency, effectiveness, and long-term integration of PRSS into recovery and health care systems across Oregon.

Outcomes Anticipated

The Recovery Committee believes that, when taken together, these priorities will expand access to Recovery Community Centers, strengthen recovery housing, and standardize Peer Recovery Support Services, creating a more sustainable and effective recovery system across Oregon.
