DIRECTOR'S STATEMENT

2023 will be a year of changes for the state and for our agency. From a new Governor and several new legislators to a new State Aviation Board Chair and new members, to a new ODAV Director, the year ahead promises a new set of eyes, ears and energy to tackle some of our state's enduring challenges. ODAV weathered the challenges of the pandemic revenue loss while still maintaining core services, and I am confident our dedicated staff and volunteers will meet the challenges that 2023 will bring.

"SHE FLIES WITH HER OWN WINGS"

This will be my last annual report, as I will be retiring in April 2023. The past four years have flown by, and I will be forever grateful for the opportunity to return to Oregon and lead the Department of Aviation. I have been working for 52 years, with the last 40 of them managing airports across the country. I have had the privilege of working alongside some of the most dedicated and passionate professionals in the industry, and I continue to be impressed by their positive attitude and desire to make aviation and Oregon a better place for the next generation. The staff at ODAV deserves a special mention – they work incredibly hard (and on a shoestring budget) to provide the free or low cost services that Oregon airports depend on. And to the State Aviation Board members (who are all unpaid volunteers) who provide their time and expertise to help set the direction for the agency, my thanks for your service. Your guidance has been invaluable. I am not sure what the next chapter in my life will bring, but I know I am leaving the agency in good hands. "She flies with her own wings" is not only the state motto, but my personal mantra as well, and I hope that is how I will be remembered. Best wishes and thank you.
