Public Comment	The Pacific City airport like other small airports along the coast provides recreational opportunities for small pilots from the surrounding areas. It also has a safety component by providing access to the Coast Guard helicopter and other emergency aircraft. There is a strong volunteer 501(c)(3) group, Friends of Pacific City Airport, that has formed to provide maintenance and amenities like the bicycle shed and toilets. With Pacific City experiencing an upgrade in facilities and services, losing the airport would be a step backwards. The airport has a long history of serving the public, and it should survive.
