

10 Benefits of OregonBuys

As the state prepares to transition to the new OregonBuys eProcurement system, we're looking forward to the improvements the system brings.

Here's a snapshot of the top 10 benefits:

1. Automation of manual processes
2. Online vendor responses
3. Broader distribution of Solicitations
4. Ability to clone past solicitations
5. Electronic management of Solicitations
6. Distribution of Bid / Solicitation to vendors
7. Improved search capabilities
8. Robust reports
9. No more lost documents
10. Online access available 24/7 from any device

Get to Know These OregonBuys Terms

Master Blanket Purchase Order (MBPO)	A contract that allows for releases (i.e. price agreements, contracts that are ongoing, cross biennial, or those with renewal potential, etc.)
Open Market Requisition	A requisition used to by agencies to send requests to DAS for services on their behalf or to request approval of a Special Request
Bid Solicitation	The document used in OregonBuys to issue Opportunities (RFP, ITB, RFQ, etc.) or Notices (informational, Intent to Participate, etc.)
Opening Date (on a Bid)	The date currently known as the "Closing" date in ORPIN
Amendment	A formal change to an approved Bid Solicitation
Change Order	A formal change to an approved MBPO or Purchase Order

Phase 1 procurement process in OregonBuys:

