CORRESPONDENCE

Clinical Examination Agencies & Responses

At the April 24, 2020 meeting, the Oregon Board of Dentistry (OBD) clarified that the dental practice act allows it to accept the results of examinations administered by regional and national testing agencies or clinical board examinations administered by other states. This includes regional or national testing agencies plans to administer an Objective Structured Clinical Examination (OSCE) clinical board examinations to fulfill the clinical board examination requirement for dental and dental hygiene licensure in Oregon. The OBD requested that each testing agency submit the following information:

- What specific examination format(s) do you plan to utilize for dental and dental hygiene clinical licensure examinations in Oregon in 2020? If no plans in Oregon for 2020, please indicate that and disregard responding to the other questions.
- What date(s) do you plan to offer your exam(s)?
- Please provide a thorough overview of the exam(s), how many questions, what format (multiple choice, essay questions, manikin or typodont to be utilized, etc...)
- Will the exam(s) be conducted at the dental school or a dental hygiene school?
- Will the exam(s) be administered by your staff, licensed clinicians or testing site staff (or any combination)?
- Once a candidate takes the exam, how soon until they and the OBD are notified of the results?
- Describe the methodology for grading and scoring the examinations.
- Please provide a sample score sheet, indicating candidate passed or failed.

The board reviewed the information submitted by each testing agency, and no action was taken.

Dr. Fine reported that Board members are concerned, and that what the Board deems “clinical competence” should include some form of psychomotor/hands-on component. The Board understands that during this pandemic that direct patient care is hindered, but there are still concerns that the exams are not capturing a psychomotor component. The Board plans to discuss the issue further later in the meeting.

Ms. Martinez announced that the Board will later meet in a second Executive Session to discuss the DLOSCE, with a second Open Session scheduled for approximately 1:30 p.m.
