About the Oregon Disabilities Commission:

The Oregon Disabilities Commission advocates to secure economic, social, legal and political justice for individuals with disabilities through systems change.

In order to carry out its mission, the commission:

- Identifies and hears the concerns of individuals with disabilities and uses the information to prioritize public policy issues which should be addressed.

- Publicizes the needs and concerns of individuals with disabilities as they relate to the full achievement of economic, social, legal and political equity.
- Educates and advises the Department of Human Services, the Governor, the Legislative Assembly and appropriate state agency administrators on how public policy can be improved to meet the needs of individuals with disabilities.
