Oregon State University (OSU) is hosting its 44th annual Gerontology Conference online March 31st – April 1, 2021.

The OSU Gerontology Conference will be presented online using Whova, a virtual conference platform. Once you complete registration you will receive an email with instructions on how to gain access to the platform so you can attend the session virtually. For more information on Whova and to prepare yourself for the conference, please click here to view the attendee guide.

The OSU Gerontology conference is a two-day conference that features informative workshops and sessions by leading geriatric professionals addressing current information for health and human service occupations in a wide variety of disciplines. You will hear from renowned speakers on topic related to Alzheimer's, identification of stereotypes against ageism, perceptions on a multistage life, dementia etc.

You can find detailed information on the schedule and topics being discussed here. For more information regarding the continuing education credits (CEUS) being offered for attending this conference please click here.
