Please share this information with Personal Agents and Services Coordinators.

Please mark your calendars for the 9th Annual Case Management Conference for Services Coordinators and Personal Agents coming up on July 7 and 8, 2020 at Oregon State University. Join us for two days of free professional development, connection, and collaboration.

Each year, the conference planning committee, largely made up of SCs and PAs, reviews recommendations and makes improvements. In response, this year's conference theme is Start with Why: Promoting Whole Lives, focusing on the purpose of this work and its impact on people and families.

Session topics will include service equity, person-centered planning approaches, employment, transition, healthy relationships, community resources, systems collaboration, policy, self-care, and more. I'm impressed with the commitment of the planning committee over the years to provide training that is responsive and meaningful. Likewise, I'm impressed with the engagement and passion of conference attendees. I'm looking forward to joining everyone again this year!

The save-the-date flyer is attached. Lodging information is coming soon, and registration will open in April. Please save July 7 and 8, 2020 on your calendars, and stay tuned for more information!

Please make sure that your SCs and PAs are encouraged to attend. If you have any questions, please reach out to Caitlin Shockley at caitlin.shockley@dhsosha.state.or.us.

Sincerely,
