Excerpts from the DOJ Public Records and Meetings Manual:

PUBLIC MEETINGS Page 155

4. Public Attendance The right of public attendance guaranteed by the Public Meetings Law does not include the right to participate by public testimony or comment.

PUBLIC MEETINGS Pages 1-7

Q. Does the Public Meetings Law grant me the right to testify before a public body?

A: No, the Public Meetings Law only guarantees the public a right to monitor the meetings of public bodies; it does not grant members of the public the right to interact with public bodies during those meetings.
