

The existing Wild Rogue and Kalmiopsis Wilderness areas and the Wild and Scenic River corridors of the Illinois, Rogue and Smith define the Park area. These 225,000 acres are already protected for their natural values. By including the largely undisturbed old growth forest which connects these designated area, a logical Park site can be drawn for further study.

SISKIYOU NATIONAL PARK

JUST WHO NEEDS IT?

NOT-- the 3000+ Southern Oregonians that will loose jobs because of timber cutbacks--loggers, mill workers, log haulers, lumber haulers, chip haulers, building construction workers.

NOT--the miners that will loose claims and livelihood when the park is closed to mineral entry.

NOT--Southern Oregonians that are on fixed incomes---their taxes are already higher than they can afford. Taxes will raise without O & C timber revenues.

NOT--our children--already faced with school closurers. Again timber money is needed

NOT-- the welfare department. It is already strained from a depressed economy.

NOT--people having private lands within the boundries of the proposed area. They stand to loose their homes and land

NOT-- hunters that have hunted deer, elk, bear, and coon in this area for years. National Park will be a game refuge no matter what is said otherwise.

IF IT IS NOT TO BE

IT IS UP TO ME!

We have a variety of tourist attractions in Southern Oregon. Why do some folks feel that the tourist dollars are better than the residents?

We have in this locality

- THE OREGON CAVES NATIONAL MONUMENT
- JET BOAT TRIPS
- HIKING TRAILS
- HISTORIC LANDMARKS
- MUSEUMS
- KALMIOPSIS WILDERNESS
- CRATER LAKE NATIONAL PARK
- NATIONAL WILD AND SCENIC RIVERS
- SHAKSPEARIAN FESTIVAL
- OREGON COAST(two hours drive)
- SISKIYOU NATIONAL FOREST
- THE BEST FISHING IN THE NORTHWEST

just to name a few

Why isn't this enough for those that promote tourism? What about the people that live here? Why must we compete for our lands?

National Parks are great, but not when they deprive local people of their lands and livelihoods. It is time to take a closer look into this situation.
