DREDGE RESUMES WORK ON UPPER NORTH FORK

The Triangle Construction Company dredge on Upper North Fork of Burnt River has resumed operation after being down for repairs for about a month. The dredge has already mined about a mile of river gravel since early summer.

The Triangle Construction Company has suspended operations on Snow Creek in the Greenhorn district of Grant County on account of the road being closed by deep snow. The dragline dredge was started last summer and operated until the first of December. W. J. Smith and E. H. Smith of Boise, Idaho, are the operators.
