

Record Courier, Baker
Oct. 6 1958

DREDGE MOVED

Prairie City — The England and Hilliard "doodle bug" dragline and washing plant is being moved from near Baker to Dixie creek near the J. Drewett land. The dredge was located at the lower end of Sumpter valley for several months operating part of the time. Last week it was tied up on the Sumpter state highway because of lack of clearance, although it was expected a permit for its movement was to be issued by weekend. The same crew that operated the plant near Baker has moved here.

Eastern Oregon News, Baker
September 23, 1938

MOVE TO DIXIE CREEK

English and Hilliard, who have been operating a shovel dredge in the lower end of Sumpter valley near Mason siding, have closed the work there and are moving their plant to Dixie creek near Prairie City.