

New Lime Plant Has First Shipment

First carload shipment of ground agricultural limestone has been made from the Sullivan Lime company, Rogue River. The car is consigned to Green Berry, south of Corvallis.

Construction of the lime plant was started in May of this year by W. B. Sullivan, formerly of Salem, and H. B. Jorgensen, Silverton. F. I. Bristol of this city was associated in construction of the plant.

The plant's primary crusher was one used in construction of Shasta dam.

The lime rock is obtained on Foothills creek, and trucked to the plant built on a railroad siding at the city of Rogue River. The plant is the only one in Oregon exclusively manufacturing high grade agricultural lime, which tests 98 per cent.
