

Plush Diamond S

BLM SIGNS designate the sunstone area boundaries. (Photos by Dennis Hill for the BLM)

STEEL POSTS protected by rock bases were used for the boundary of the sunstone reserve.

A number of improvements were made the weekend of May 25-28 at the sunstone area north of Plush by some 200 rockhounds who gathered there for a work session. They represented seven rockhound clubs from Oregon, Washington, California, Nevada, Utah and Idaho.

The whole effort was organized by the Oregon Council of Rockhounds, of which Oliver West is president. The work was done through the Lakeview Chapter of the Bureau of Land Management. Major organizers were Dennis Hill and Dennis Hill.

During the weekend, the volunteers set boundary

BAGS AND BARRELS of litter was collected in the sunstone area. (Photos by Dennis Hill, BLM)