Mining Journal July 30, 1941

The H. and H. Mines, operated by John C. Higgins and G. S. Hinsdale, both of 1303 Public Service Building, Portland, are continuing exploration work at the Champion mine in the Bohemia district near Disston, Oregon. A small crew has been started at the Musick mine in the same district to carry on the exploration work which had been discontinued last summer. If this work should disclose enough ore to justify it, a small mill may be built later this year. E. L. McNaughton, Disston, is mine superintendent.
