Overview: The University of Oregon Police Department and the California Victim Compensation Board are pleased to announce the Leave No Victim Behind IV national training conference for 2019. The Leave No Victim Behind conference series will continue its focus on best practices for responding to mass violence and unique partnerships between law enforcement and victim services to assist victims of crime.

This year's conference theme is long term recovery of communities following mass violence incidents. The conference dates follow the second anniversary of the Route 91 Harvest Festival shooting in Las Vegas on October 1. Las Vegas was specifically selected as the conference location to allow participants the opportunity to observe how a community continues to meet the needs of victims, survivors and responders of a large-scale mass violence incident on a long term basis. Participants will hear from responders and victims of the Las Vegas Route 91 Harvest Festival regarding their recovery process over the last two years.

Conference sessions will include presentations on long term recovery from responders and victims of the Virginia Tech shooting, the bombing of Pan Am Flight #103 over Lockerbie, Scotland, the Boston Marathon bombing, and more recent incidents such as the Borderline Bar shooting in Thousand Oaks, CA. Speakers will share best practices, challenges and their personal experiences.

The conference agenda will also feature a panel of survivors of law enforcement officers who have lost their lives in the line of duty. Sadly, the nation has witnessed a discouraging trend in law enforcement deaths and communities are seeking assistance with responding to and coping with the aftermath.

Information regarding resources and technical assistance provided by the federal Office for Victims of Crime, school grants and non-profit organizations will also be presented.

Conference attendees will include law enforcement, victim service providers, first responders, community based organizations, campus officials, crisis response teams, emergency management professionals and behavioral health specialists. This year's conference is the fourth installment in the Leave No Victim Behind series and will build upon the excellence demonstrated in our prior conferences, which in the past have been supported by our local, state and federal partners, including the federal Office for Victims of Crime and the Oregon Department of Justice.

This one of a kind gathering of experts and responders provides essential training for the multiple professions that help victims and communities recover and heal from mass violence incidents. In

Instructors:

Overview: The U.S. Secret Service and the DHS-Cybersecurity & Infrastructure Security Agency (CISA) invite you to attend a FREE USSS National Threat Assessment Center (NTAC) Workshop on Individuals Exhibiting Concerning Behavior.

This training will describe how a comprehensive threat assessment program can help to prevent mass shootings, school shootings, workplace violence, and other forms of targeted violence that impact communities across the United States. Included is an overview of Secret Service methodologies for preventing assassinations, and a description of how this approach can be adapted to prevent other forms of targeted violence.

All content is based on the operational research conducted by the Secret Service's National Threat Assessment Center (NTAC), and will highlight the proactive approach of identifying, assessing, and managing individuals exhibiting concerning behavior. I want to bring to your attentions that this NTAC workshop will not be returning to Oregon for an extended period of time.

This is NOT training on active shooter response.

Special thanks and appreciation to Portland State University for hosting the NTAC Workshop, and the Oregon State Fusion Center for their partnership in hosting this important workshop.

Class Title: Performance Enhancement Imagery

Target Audience: For those looking to enhance their competence and confidence in any arena of performance through imagery, mental rehearsal, and visualization. Imagery is a simple, effective method of harnessing the power of the mind to enhance performance by focusing and directing the imagination.

Registration Deadline:

Contact: ; ;

Hours: 0800-1600 daily

Where: Bend Police Department, 555 NE 15th Street, Bend, OR 97701

Cost: see 'Registration'

Instructors: Brian Willis

Overview: During this course you will gain an understanding of what imagery is, how it works and why it is such a powerful performance enhancement tool. The comprehensive and interactive format of this training will allow you to learn simple methods for incorporating imagery into your training programs and your life.

The Performance Imagery Course covers:

The Mind: This component forms the foundation of the program and will explain how the mind works to process, store and retrieve information. It provides an in-depth understanding of the roles of the conscious and subconscious mind. Often, training programs and coaching sessions are focused at the level of the conscious mind, however in high stress events, rapidly evolving events or spontaneous events it is the subconscious mind that determines our response. This program provides participants with the tools to assist them in creating the most desirable subconscious mental programs in themselves, their officers or their athletes.

Performance Enhancement Imagery: This component makes up the greatest part of the course. It begins by examining exactly what imagery is, and why it is so effective. The key elements to conducting successful Performance Enhancement Imagery sessions along with the wide variety of ways Performance Enhancement Imagery can be used in training groups and individuals are covered in depth. In addition to learning how to use Performance Enhancement Imagery participants will be provided scripts to guide them through imagery sessions. During the course participants will develop their own scripts and practice developing and delivering an imagery session in a safe and supportive learning environment.

Self-Talk: The most important conversations we will ever have are with ourselves, about ourselves, in the privacy of our own mind. It is important that people become aware of their self-talk as it can be either positive and productive, or negative and destructive. Self-talk helps to establish and reinforce programs in the subconscious mind. Once people become aware of their self-talk they can change it to ensure it is most desirable.

The Power of Words: The emphasis throughout this course will be the use of positive based language to create expectations of success in yourself and others. Much of the language used in our everyday communication is negative based and it may be creating less desirable programming at the subconscious

Miscellaneous

10/28-10/30/2019

Class Title: Performance Enhancement Imagery level.

Imagery and Debriefings: Debriefings following law enforcement scenario training, actual calls or athletic events is a tremendous opportunity to learn from the experience and improve future performance. Imagery can play a vital role in creating effective and lasting learning through debriefings.

Imagery and Video: Many law enforcement trainers and coaches use videos in their programs. When used effectively and combined with imagery these videos can program officers and athletes for future success. When used inappropriately they can program officers for failure.

Performance Anxiety: Test and performance anxiety create a number of issues for law enforcement officers and trainers. One of the greatest areas of anxiety is firearms qualification. Performance Enhancement Imagery has helped hundreds of law enforcement professionals around North America overcome this anxiety and qualify easily and consistently. Performance Enhancement Imagery can also be used to help individuals who are anxious about written exams, promotional interviews and public speaking.

Once you learn the basics of Performance Enhancement Imagery you are only limited by your imagination as to how you apply it in your training.

Overview: Target Audience:

Below 100 (All active police, corrections, parole and probation (line staff and supervisors))

Mental Health (all public safety personnel)

Ethics (all public safety personnel)

The 4-hour Below 100 class is intended to influence law enforcement culture by providing innovative training and awareness by identifying the leading causes and current trends in preventable line of duty deaths and serious injuries. The vision of Below 100 is to eliminate preventable line-of-duty police deaths and serious injuries through compelling common-sense training designed to focus on areas under an officer's control. Below 100 has identified five key tenets by which we can improve officer safety-areas where we can make a difference. Below 100 isn't about statistics. It's about each and every officer, trainer, and supervisor taking individual and collective responsibility for the actions that contribute to safety. For those in a leadership position, Below 100 means supporting a culture of safety throughout your department. Make doing the right thing so ingrained in your personnel that it becomes the norm and not the exception. Just as importantly, hold accountable those who stray outside what should be common sense. Often, a private word with a misguided officer is all it takes to correct his or her misperception. Below 100 is committed to providing you the tools and resources you need to make a culture of safety thrive throughout your department.

A 2-hour Ethics class and a 2-hour Mental Health/Career Officer Survival and Resiliency class will be offered following this class. This is designed to help maintain the required certification maintenance hours within each specific discipline.

You will be required to complete the online registration form and identify which classes you will be attending.

Cost: $895

Instructors:

Overview: The examination and analysis of video evidence required dedicated software tools to ensure a thorough review has been conducted. A non-linear editor can assist with the process as well as provide additional tools and filters for producing derivative evidence and demonstrative results. One non-linear editor that can provide these tools and so much more is Adobe Premiere.

Adobe Premiere for Forensic Video Analysts is a 3-day workshop that assists the investigator in understanding the overall interface of Adobe Premiere as well as the advanced toolset and filters available for examining video evidence. While this powerful tool can be used to edit video files, the focus of this workshop will be on using Adobe Premiere in a forensic video analysis workflow with an emphasis on preserving the original evidence and documenting the steps used to produce results. Topics discussed in this workshop include:

- Understanding the forensic video analysis workflow with Adobe Premiere
- Utilizing Adobe Premiere to create timelines
- Processing techniques that enhance the quality of video evidence
- Methods for redacting video and audio for public release
- Producing derivative evidence and demonstrative products

Overview: This 40 hour advanced cell phone investigations course is open to any sworn investigator, crime analyst or fugitive operator processing fundamental knowledge of call detail records, and who want to advance their proficiency understanding call detail record meta data for successful investigations and trial presentations.

This course allows motivated investigators to understand the evidentiary value of call detail records and geolocation data. The class syllabus incorporates several case studies for attendees to investigate using meta data from each major provider and other sources of geolocation information. The case study workshops in this class allow students to experience the process of investigating call detail records from beginning to end, instilling knowledge and confidence to build a final case they feel confident testifying to in court. This course is always evolving, sometimes from one class to the next to keep up with the ever-changing world of cellular technology. The 40 hour advanced course has an extreme focus on best investigation practices and is a pre-requisite to the ZetX cell phone investigations Subject Matter Expert Certification Course.

Students are required to bring laptops with Microsoft Excel and Google Earth installed. Students will be required to work with call detail records and geolocation information throughout the course. Students are encouraged to review these applications and have a basic understanding of them prior to class. This course is designed to use lecture, case studies, and practical workshops to demonstrate and teach investigative techniques.

Topics Include:

- Provider Specifics
- Provisioning GPS Information
- Legal Concerns
- Meta Data Retention
- Undercover Operations
- Court Orders/Search Warrants

Cost: $95 non-members, $75 members

Instructors: Detective Robert Rookhuyzen, Washington County Sheriff's Office

Overview: Search warrants are vital to every investigator. Learn when they're required, how to efficiently write affidavits and get that evidence you need for your case. Tips and tricks will be shared on how to contact the right people at various organizations and web sites. Samples of search warrants and affidavits will be shared. As part of the class, the instructor will review the electronic process of preserving and obtaining records from Facebook, Instagram and Snapchat. This class is designed for every patrol officer/deputy, as well as new detectives. It is also a great refresher for people who already have some experience writing search warrants. After a review of search warrant concepts and the process of obtaining a search warrant, class members will write two search warrants (including one for Facebook) and an arrest warrant based on realistic practical scenarios. The instructor or a deputy district attorney will provide feedback on affidavits and search warrants written. Each student will leave the class with arrest and search warrant templates and forms to make search warrant writing easier when they return to their agency.

Instructor: Detective Robert Rookhuyzen, Washington County Sheriff's Office

Robert L. Rookhuyzen is a detective with the Washington County Sheriff's Office, currently assigned to the Violent Crimes Unit. He is also a member of the Washington County Major Crimes Team. Detective Rookhuyzen is a graduate of Brigham Young University. He started his law enforcement career in 2001 with the Washington County Sheriff's Office and was assigned to patrol for nine years. He served as a Field Training Officer and a member of the Washington County Crisis Negotiations Unit. He was promoted to Corporal in 2007 and Detective in 2010. He is a 2017 winner of the Federal Bureau of Investigations Director's Award for Distinguished Service to Victims of Violent Crime.

Use of Force

12/9-12/13/2019

Class Title: Use of Force Instructor Development Course: 40 hour module

Target Audience: Law Enforcement Survival Skills Instructors

Sponsoring Agency: Department of Public Safety Standards and Training

When: 12/9-12/13/2019

Registration Deadline: 5p 11/18

Contact: Scott Willadsen, DPSST Use of Force Coord.; (503) 378-6763; #mailto:scott.willadsen@state.or.us#

Hours: 0800-1700 all five days

Where: DPSST, 4190 Aumsville Hwy. SE, Salem, OR 97317

Cost: Free. Lunch provided.

Instructors: Coordinator: Coordinator Scott Willadsen

Overview: DPSST is offering a 40 hour Use of Force IDC that will include use of the MILO video simulator system. The focus of this course is on helping instructors prepare officers to use force reasonably. The course will include: case law updates, scientific research relating to the use of force, instructional strategies, and how the use of force relates to procedural justice.

The course will add to a law enforcement instructor's depth of knowledge in understanding use of force events, both legally and tactically. It will also help participants that are teaching others or evaluating students in making reasonable assessments and decisions during Use of Force incidents. Participants will review case studies utilizing video analysis, group discussion and work group exercises.

This course will utilize the MILO video simulator to demonstrate use of force research and case law. Currently DPSST utilizes the MILO video simulator system but these principals will translate to any use of force video simulator system. The video simulator system will be used to assess and discuss use of force lessons learned in the classroom. SEE NOTE BELOW

At the end of the 5-day class all participants will be qualified to run and evaluate use of force video scenarios at DPSST.

NOTE: This class DOES NOT replace the DPSST regional training program - MILO Instructor Course.

This class WILL NOT cover system set-up, system take-down, or initial system calibration.

If you wish to check out and use a portable MILO video simulator at your home agency you still must attend the regional MILO instructor class.

Pre-Requisites/Considerations:

1. The course will run from 0800 to 1700 hours each day, with a one-hour lunch break. You must attend all five 8-hour days in order to receive credit for the course.
2. This is an advanced course. Participants should be either a current Survival Skills Instructor or plan on becoming an instructor.
3. It is required that this class (or an equivalent) be taken prior to attending a DPSST's Use of Force (Force-on-Force) Scenario Instructor Development course, previously titled Confrontational Simulation.
4. There is a 24-hour shadow requirement with the course. The shadow hours will be in the Use of Force Scenario section of basic curriculum, utilizing your knowledge of Use of Force topics in a practical setting.

Use of Force

Overview: Developing Your leadership Brand to Create Exceptional Team Outcomes (16-Hour Online Course)

This course blends theoretical models of leadership with real-world insights to explain how to effectively implement team strategies, rules, and practices that lead to exceptional outcomes for the leader, team, organization, and community of stakeholders. Topics covered include: personal development, situational analysis, motivation, communication, conflict management, team development, culture, performance management, and the leader's brand. These are often called "soft skills" and are just as often noted as the most important skills of leadership – and the most challenging competencies any leader can develop. Upon completion of this course, participants will be able to:

- Explain the differences of management and leadership and the importance of each.
- Apply concepts from leadership theories to improve team and organizational outcomes.
- Identify the personal and organizational values that drive leadership style.
- Simplify complexity of situations to communicate effectively with diverse stakeholders.
- Establish a vision to enable continual improvement in times of change and constraints.
- Recognize and explain influencing factors of a team and organizational culture.
- Apply intrinsic and extrinsic motivation factors to increase engagement and outcomes.
- Overcome leadership issues and ethical dilemmas.
- Define an oath of positive leadership and associated leader rules and practices.

Online Course Features:

- Interactive web-based training
- Centered on real-world application of leadership theories and concepts Designed for the executive level professional
- Self-paced training that requires active participation in on-screen and off-screen activities

Overview: Effective leadership does not happen by chance. Whether you are a front-line supervisor or the chief executive of an agency, leading high-performance teams to accomplish the mission must be done with intentionality. Not by Chance Leadership will look at using the concept of transformational leadership as a way to help leaders become inspirational change agents that can help create a culture which breeds success at all levels of the organization.

Through guided discussion, case study, self-assessments and small group exercises, participants will learn:

- How leading yourself could be the most important factor in a leadership role
- Getting your team on the path to a shared vision
- Squeezing creativity out of ALL employees
- Communicating up and down the chain by answering the dreaded question "Why"
- Why creativity and collaboration are essentials for policing in the 21st Century
- Why treating people with value will build a culture of trust and honesty
- Taking ownership of everything we do

Overview: International Public Safety Leadership and Ethics Institute (IPSLEI) Leadership Development Program

The IPSLEI Leadership Development Program is a unique training opportunity that requires dedication and passion for learning. The course is designed to develop the leadership skills in current or imminent supervisors/managers to lead the future of public safety agencies in Oregon. Through a variety of learning methodologies such as written case studies, video analysis and interactive activities, students will not only study leadership but experience it within a learning environment. The program consists of four modules:

- Developing a Personal Philosophy of Leadership
- Leading Others Ethically
- Organizational Leadership
- Ethics and the Challenge of Leadership

The coursework is intense and demanding; completion will require the commitment of the student and their agency. Students will likely spend as much time working outside the classroom as they do in the classroom, with reading and writing assignments required for course completion.

Training hours earned in this program can be used to satisfy significant portions of the training requirements for Supervisory, Management or Executive certification through DPSST. Lower division undergraduate credit is available through Chemeketa Community College.

Instructors: Course Manager: Officer Brian Frazzini, Salem Police Department

Overview: The Oregon Drug Evaluation and Classification Program (DECP) have received national acclaim for its success in identifying the drug impaired driver. Advanced Roadside Impairment Driving Enforcement (ARIDE) was developed by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration and created to address the gap between Standardized Field Sobriety Testing (SFST) and the Drug Evaluation and Classification (DEC) Program. ARIDE is a 16-hour curriculum that provides officers with general knowledge related to drug impairment and promotes the use of certified Drug Recognition Experts. Additionally, ARIDE is an intermediate level impaired driving course with an SFST proficiency examination. The student should be fully conversant with the HGN procedural "mechanics" of HGN with the three clues of HGN and with the interpretation of those clues for assessing alcohol impairment. A major focus is on the examination of a drug-impaired suspect's eyes and the procedures of those eye examinations derive largely from HGN procedures. The successful completion of this course does not qualify the student as a Drug Recognition Expert (DRE).

Prerequisites: One year of law enforcement experience. The student registering for ARIDE should be familiar with the extent of the drug impaired driving problem and must have completed the basic Standardized Field Sobriety Testing (SFST), Drugs that Impair Driving, and a recent SFST refresher/update.

Registration: Email Oregon State Police at OSPDRE@osp.oregon.gov. Class size is limited to the first 30 students.

To be eligible, applicants must have a minimum of three years' experience in their field and have attended a 40 hour CIT program (16 hour CIT program for Tele Communicators). We will maintain a wait list for this class.

This 3 day training is the only specialized Best Practices for First Responder program authorized by the National Anger Management Association (NAMA). Upon completion, the graduate is eligible to apply to NAMA for the CCIS credential. Training includes:

- *Professional Certification Training in Crisis Intervention
- *Academic modules and scenario-based competency exercises
- *Introduction to CI Continuum of Force
- *Language and Engagement Procedures
- *Meaningful content in self-awareness, anger management, readiness for duty, and resilience
- *Evidence-based, best practices in de-escalation
- *Practical knowledge in brain-body activity of the Person-In-Crisis (PIC)

What our prior class participants said:

"Fantastic. Truly helpful training that can be utilized every day."

"Training focal point was officer safety, community safety and crisis intervention. Have not had this type of training during my law enforcement career."

"Everything we learned here is in some way helpful in my work, peer support team and personal life."

"Amazing! Best training I've ever been to! Dynamic, user friendly, informative and engaging."

Overview: The Oregon Emergency Management Association (OEMA) annual conference is more than just a conference. It's a community of professionals who experience the same challenges and seek the same solutions you do. Not only will you have access to expert industry speakers and exhibitors, but other attendees are an excellent resource for discussion about what you're experiencing and how they are dealing with it or overcame it.

After receiving and reviewing dozens of speaking submissions, consulting with industry experts who are at the top of their game, and working with the OEMA Executive Board, we are happy to announce the release of the agenda for the 2019 OEMA conference.

<https://www.regonline.com/builder/site/tab2.aspx?EventID=2541582>

By the numbers:

- 54 industry leading speakers to listen to
- 18 tantalizing breakout sessions to choose from
- 2 invigorating training sessions to attend
- 1 is the only choice you have for deciding to register for this year's conference

A mere sampling of some of the great presentations you will hear:

Keynote Speaker Dr. Lucy Jones will discuss What the History of Natural Disasters Can Tell Us About Our Future. Dr. Jones is a Climatologist and a renowned author.

Michael O'Hare with FEMA Region X will participate on a panel presentation for how the government plans to engage and support the private sector during a large incident.

Jay Wilson brings together a team of industry experts to talk about the nexus between seismic risk and climate change adaptation: examining Oregon's critical energy infrastructure hub

Call for Submissions

In response to the interest of our members, the theme of this year's conference is critical infrastructure. The nation's critical infrastructure, 80% of which is owned by the private sector, supports community lifelines and is essential to successful response and recovery.

The Conference Planning Committee is soliciting submissions for first-rate presentations on the newest and best practices in all phases of emergency management. The annual conference draws approximately 175 attendees, comprised of Emergency Managers from state and local governments, non-profit agencies, and the business community. In addition, there may be elected officials, federal agency representatives, and representatives of volunteer associations. Please consider sharing your expertise and knowledge!

The deadline for submission applications is May 1. Find an application and more information here: https://groupconcepts.formstack.com/forms/oema_speaker_application_copy

Overview: PER-229 Introduction to the Computer-Aided Management of Emergency Operations (CAMEO) Suite

The NCBRT is offering the following Department of Homeland Security (DHS) certified course: PER-229 Introduction to the Computer-Aided Management of Emergency Operations (CAMEO) Suite

This course provides training on the fundamental elements of the CAMEO Suite of programs as they relate to emergency situations. As such, it includes detailed technical information and hands-on practice of critical elements in the CAMEO system and its associated programs (CAMEO Chemicals, CAMEO ofm, ALOHA and MARPLOT). To better understand how the programs interface, participants are provided opportunities to practice key procedures that allow users to enhance planning and response activities associated with community risks. These exercises clarify the connections between the programs and how they can enhance emergency planning and response activities.

Professional Disciplines: Emergency Management Agency, Emergency Medical Services, Fire Service, Healthcare, Law Enforcement, Public Health, Public Safety Communications, Public Works

Hours: 0800-1700

Where: MCSO Training Facility, 2955 NE 172nd Pl, Portland, OR 97230

Cost: $545 per person

Instructors: Presented by Crisis Systems Management, LLC

Overview: The Crisis/Hostage Negotiation Course Level III (Advanced) will further enhance the knowledge and skills acquired in Crisis/Hostage Negotiation - Level I (Basic) Course or it's 40-hour equivalent and Crisis Hostage Negotiation Level II (Intermediate) or its 40-hour equivalent.

Third in a series of three progressive courses, this course prepares students for the most complex and challenging aspects of crisis negotiation - leading crisis negotiation teams and managing crisis incidents.

The course begins with policy development for crisis negotiation teams wherein students will learn critical elements of a legally sound crisis negotiation policy. Students will learn how to prepare selection policy, write oral boards, select applicants based on crisis negotiation core competencies, and reduce turnover on crisis negotiation teams.

Students will learn how to prepare case studies for presentation for in-service training as well as regional and state association conferences. Students will also learn how to plan, facilitate, and evaluate scenario - driving training in both team and organizational environments.

Every crisis negotiation team with a corrections facility within their jurisdiction must be prepared for negotiating with inmates. Students will learn inherent differences between the corrections environment and the community with regard to technique and strategy.

Each student will also participate as a member of a small group, responsible for developing and presenting projects in one of five topic areas: Case study preparation, team selection, training facilitation, scenario writing, or policy development.

TOPICS INCLUDE:

- Developing Policy for Crisis Negotiation
- Recruiting, Selecting, and Training Negotiators
- Planning, Facilitating, and Evaluating Scenario -driven Training
- Developing and Presenting Case Studies
- Conducting Operational Debriefings
- 20 Hacks for CNT
- Advocacy for Crisis Negotiation in a Modern Policing Environment

Overview: Region 5 Fall 2019 Seminar - RETIRED CHIEF KENT WILLIAMS - PERSONAL & PROFESSIONAL BREAKTHROUGHS FOR POLICE OFFICERS

Kent Williams is the owner of Breach Point Consulting and has been involved in law enforcement as a police officer for over 32 years, where he recently retired as Chief of Police for a Chicago area police department.

Through the development of Breach Point Consulting he has launched several courses, seminars and programs being taught on a national level, based upon the principles of Servant Leadership and how simple shifts in organizational perspective can profoundly reduce the stress, frustration and open anger expressed throughout the typical law enforcement agency. Chief Williams has been teaching leaders how to negate the toxic work climate which can be caused by what he has termed "The Universal Police Frustrations." These misunderstood stressors are created by the unique combinations of an effective police personality coupled with an efficient police culture. The mix if not fully understood can be very destructive to an agency's morale and reputation. It predictably places officers at risk for failed careers, marriages and relationships.

These efforts have led to ground breaking ways agencies can create healthier more productive and loyal work groups who remain highly dedicated throughout their careers. These principles have been assisting officer themselves create a deeper more meaningful vocation and developing a harmonious and rewarding personal life away from their career. His work on the predictable transitional issues confronting the police officer's family has led to speaking engagements designed to keep the family of a police officer emotionally and spiritually healthy.

In a chaotic and unpredictable world of plummeting moral standards our nation's police officers are facing stressors that can have predictable and profoundly negative impact upon their lives, careers and families. This seminar will assist those attending in gaining a distinctly different perspective on the unique and potentially problematic consequences of performing well within a law enforcement culture. Officers, Sergeants and those who assist them will reflect upon the traumas and triumphs associated with modern law enforcement and how these influence the pivotal balance between professional and personal relationships.

An experienced law enforcement executive and educator will guide law enforcement personnel in understanding a variety of best practice approaches in addressing these issues. A theme of personal

Where: Yamhill County Fairgrounds, Leslie Lewis Pavilion, 2070 NE Lafayette Ave., McMinnville, OR 97128

Cost: $225 non-members, $200 for members

Instructors: Joe Keil, Operation R.U.S.H.

Overview: Operation RUSH is a two-day criminal interdiction course which breaks down traffic stops into segments consisting of initial violation, location of stop and stopping sequence, exterior and interior indicators, legal options, roadside interviews, arrest and documentation. There is also hands-on vehicle searches in which vehicles are setup with the most up-to-date indicators and finds. K9 officers are encouraged to attend with their partners.

Every traffic stop is a story waiting to be told. From drug arrests to warrants to robbery suspects to serial killers all these suspects have been arrested during traffic stops. Criminals are most vulnerable while in transit, going from point A to point B. How will you write the pages of your story?

This class is designed to help you look beyond the traffic stop and recognize indicators of criminal activity such as paraphernalia associated with each type of drug. For example, the meaning of a bent paperclip or a twist tie and its relation to opiate use, in addition to understanding clothing like SRH, No Bad Idea, and many more.

Cost: see 'Registration'

Instructors:

Overview: This is a basic level course designed for law enforcement and corrections personnel, mental health professionals, supervisors/team leaders and commanders who are assigned to, work with, or oversee the functions of a crisis/hostage negotiations team. This course is also appropriate for law enforcement and corrections personnel who aspire to join a crisis/hostage negotiations team. This curriculum is designed to meet the standards set forth by the National Council of Negotiations Associations for a basic course of study for police crisis/hostage negotiators. Although it is a "basic" course, it represents a robust and comprehensive view of the most likely negotiation problems and best techniques to resolve them peacefully. It is suitable for experienced negotiators desiring a refresher course.

INSTRUCTIONAL GOALS

Upon completion of this course the attendee will be familiar with:

1. The legal and historical foundations of hostage/crisis negotiations and current practices in the field

Cost: Free

Instructors: Instructors provided by MCTC

Overview: The primary purposes of Highway Drug Investigations are to detect, interdict, and disrupt the continual flow of illicit drugs on the nation's highways. It is where the struggle for superiority of the nation's highways takes place; a contest between uniformed police officers and the most prolific and dangerous illicit drug traffickers in the world (i.e., Transnational Drug Trafficking Organizations). Emphasis is placed on Mexican drug trafficking organizations, the smuggling routes, transportation corridors, and distribution networks in the United States. Confronting the threat to national security, highway drug interdiction operatives stand as the vanguard in the nation's second line of defense against those who would export illicit activity, lawlessness, violence, and corruption into the country.

Moreover, comprehensive post-interdiction investigative methods and techniques are emphasized in order to further identify and debilitate ongoing illicit drug-trafficking schemes that have a nexus to highway drug interdiction stops (e.g., conspiracy investigations, government controlled deliveries of contraband, and other investigative methodologies designed to advance a criminal investigation).

COURSE OBJECTIVE

- Modus operandi of drug trafficking organizations
- Detection of drug-laden vehicles
- Weapons trafficking
- Vehicular contraband concealment
- Gathering of strategic drug intelligence
- Bulk currency seizures and investigations
- Effective strategies designed to disrupt the use of the nation's highway as a delivery/profit gaining system for illicit drugs and weapons

Prerequisites:

Registration: The course venue is being paid for by the Oregon-Idaho Training Initiative. Students will be responsible for associated travel, lodging and meal expenses. The course is limited to 50 students.

Overview: The internet provides investigators with the ability to ascertain information on subjects efficiently. Focusing on the individual(s) is not always the answer. Identifying actionable intelligence is an extremely important aspect in research to assist in the identification, movement, business associations, relatives, addresses / telephone numbers of individuals. Additionally, correct searches of social media platforms can assist in identifying suspects and witnesses in an investigation. In this class, you will learn how to utilize correct search patterns and open sources for social media platforms. For example, Facebook can be used to ascertain information on associations and pictures even if the "walls" are closed. Hashtag conversations can be followed - even over different social media platforms. This class will assist in learning the inside knowledge and approaches successful investigators gather from Open Source Intelligence.
