Instructors: Course Manager: Sergeant Ben Drongesen - Benton County Sheriff’s Office

Overview: The Oregon Drug Evaluation and Classification Program (DECP) have received national acclaim for its success in identifying the drug impaired driver. Advanced Roadside Impairment Driving Enforcement (ARIDE) was developed by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration and created to address the gap between Standardized Field Sobriety Testing (SFST) and the Drug Evaluation and Classification (DEC) Program. ARIDE is a 16-hour curriculum that provides officers with general knowledge related to drug impairment and promotes the use of certified Drug Recognition Experts. Additionally, ARIDE is an intermediate level impaired driving course with an SFST proficiency examination. The student should be fully conversant with the HGN procedural "mechanics" of HGN with the three clues of HGN and with the interpretation of those clues for assessing alcohol impairment. A major focus is on the examination of a drug-impaired suspect's eyes and the procedures of those eye examinations derive largely from HGN procedures. The successful completion of this course does not qualify the student as a Drug Recognition Expert (DRE).

Questions: Contact Sgt. Tim Plummer at tplumme@osp.oregon.gov or Audrey Guillory at AGuillo@osp.oregon.gov

Prerequisites: One year of law enforcement experience. The student registering for ARIDE should be familiar with the extent of the drug impaired driving problem and must have completed the basic Standardized Field Sobriety Testing (SFST), Drugs that Impair Driving, and a recent SFST refresher/update.

Registration: Email Audrey Guillory (DRE Program Assistant) of the Oregon State Police at ospdre@osp.oregon.gov. Class size is limited to the first 24 students.

Overview: This engaging 7.5-hour course prepares for the first few minutes of casualty evaluation in a high-risk environment. This course is designed to give you a plan to identify and manage those immediately life-threatening injuries and the knowledge and skills to implement it, while you are still engaged in an ongoing tactical problem.

The course largely deals with the Care Under Fire - Direct Threat phase of an event, where any medical care is provided while the responder and casualty are in an ongoing situation that is a direct threat to life (active shooter or active violent incident, building collapse, fire, secondary explosives, etc). This phase requires efficient hemorrhage control, largely with tourniquets, and patient movement.

Overview: NAFTO is proud to offer some outstanding training at our 2020 3-Day National Conference in Spokane, Washington. This year’s training is specifically designed for Field Trainers working in Patrol, Detention, Communications, and Emergency Medicine. NAFTO is working to prepare your Field Training Unit for the challenges of 21st Century Policing by providing comprehensive and client-oriented curriculum. This year, NAFTO presents course topics including De-escalation, 21st Century Policing, Communication, Remedial Training, Standardization, Interpersonal Skills, Emotional Intelligence, Instructor Development, Reducing Liability, and Program Defensibility.

Keynote presentation by John Bostain of Command Presence
"Why Do We Know What We Think We Know?" - John Bostain
John Bostain is the President of Command Presence, LLC. John has committed the last 23 years to law enforcement, 20 of which have been as a law enforcement trainer. He has presented nationally and internationally on contemporary law enforcement topics such as dynamics of officer/citizen encounters, use of force, human performance factors, and instructor development. In 2012, he became the recipient of the prestigious Trainer of the Year Award as selected by Law Officer Magazine. He’s certified as a Force Analyst by the Force Science Institute (FSI) and holds a B.S.Ed in Adult Education from Valdosta State University.

General Session Course by Deputy Chief Kyle Sumpter of Federal Way Police Department
"Deadly Force Principles" - Deputy Chief Kyle Sumpter
Deputy Chief Kyle Sumpter was a patrol officer, major crimes detective, firearms instructor, and responsible for his department’s firearms and deadly force training. He was a SWAT officer and commanded the largest team in the state. He organized and commanded a regional team of detectives responsible for investigating officer-involved shootings. He gives training around the state and serves as an expert witness in police litigation.

Cost: Free. Meals and lodging are at the expense of the participating agency.

Instructors: Course Manager: Sergeant Caleb N. Ratliff

Overview: The Oregon Drug Evaluation and Classification Program (DECP) have received national acclaim for its success in identifying the drug impaired driver. Advanced Roadside Impairment Driving Enforcement (ARIDE) was developed by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration and created to address the gap between Standardized Field Sobriety Testing (SFST) and the Drug Evaluation and Classification (DEC) Program. ARIDE is a 16-hour curriculum that provides officers with general knowledge related to drug impairment and promotes the use of certified Drug Recognition Experts. Additionally, ARIDE is an intermediate level impaired driving course with an SFST proficiency examination. The student should be fully conversant with the HGN procedural "mechanics" of HGN with the three clues of HGN and with the interpretation of those clues for assessing alcohol impairment. A major focus is on the examination of a drug-impaired suspect's eyes and the procedures of those eye examinations derive largely from HGN procedures. The successful completion of this course does not qualify the student as a Drug Recognition Expert (DRE).

Questions: Contact Sgt. Tim Plummer at tplumme@osp.oregon.gov or Audrey Guillory at AGuillo@osp.oregon.gov

Prerequisites: One year of law enforcement experience. The student registering for ARIDE should be familiar with the extent of the drug impaired driving problem and must have completed the basic Standardized Field Sobriety Testing (SFST), Drugs that Impair Driving, and a recent SFST refresher/update

Registration: Email Oregon State Police at OSPDRE@osp.oregon.gov. Class size is limited to the first 25 students.

Registration confirmations will be emailed to those who register. Special Consideration: Anyone attending will adhere to the processes stipulated by the Governor’s mandate for Oregon reopening due to COVID.

Instructors: Harry Dolan, Matt Dolan, Brian Nanavaty

Overview: No public safety organization can function without well trained first-line leaders. The first-line supervisor is the most influential position within the organization. Their role, therefore, demands strong leadership, self-confidence, competence, management skills, and an understanding of how to influence their subordinates, the organization, and the community.

This training utilizes existing research findings on effective field leadership and management within law enforcement agencies to provide tools for success for first line supervisors. Attendees will be introduced to the fundamentals of first line leadership, personnel management, coaching techniques to improve officer performance and confront officer misconduct-all with an emphasis on what successful leaders do to improve morale and organizational effectiveness.

- Evidence-based police field leadership
- Performance coaching
- Creating a motivated workplace and improving morale
- Confronting undesirable field performance
- Making discipline stick for the benefit of the team member and community
- Legally confronting toxic employees
- Ethical police leadership
- Supervisor liability

Overview: Command Presence. The Transformational Trainer - Transforming Good Instructors into Great Ones

Regardless of subject matter expertise, the role of the trainer is to enhance the performance of their officers. The Transformational Trainer is an instructor enhancement program designed to help you focus on the "how to train" not just the "what to train". This program is designed to challenge instructors to think differently about law enforcement training in an effort to improve officer performance in the field. Through guided discussions, case studies, video analysis, self-assessments and small group exercises, participants will explore:

- Characteristics of the Transformational Trainer
- The Science of Learning: Making it "Stick"
- Generational Differences and Communication Styles
- Human Performance and Decision Making
- A New Look at Student Feedback
- Eliminating Death by PowerPoint

Overview: Officers should recognize the importance of developing baseline behavior when conducting inter-views. If the officer doesn’t know how the person behaves or responds when telling the truth, it will be difficult to detect deception. Detailed information will be presented on proper ways to establish baseline behavior. Officers will also learn how to identify deception in written statements based on the individuals lack of self-reference, use of verb tense, and their use of equivocation.

   Officers will learn how to recognize and understand various verbal and non-verbal cues of deception reliably. The instructor will illustrate various verbal and non-verbal indicators of deception using video-recorded interviews of actual witnesses and suspects. Practical scenarios will also be used to reinforce the lecture.

Instructors:
Overview: This 10-hour course covers the first few minutes of tactical casualty evaluation. Largely focused on the Care Under Fire, Direct Threat phases of care. This phase emphasizes efficient hemorrhage control, largely with tourniquets and patient movement.

Most penetrating injuries are not immediately life threatening. However, there are some injuries where death before the arrival of EMS is almost assured if not managed correctly and rapidly. If such injuries occur to you or another during an ongoing fight, recognition and concise management of the injuries is critical. From a law enforcement standpoint, this phase of care will necessarily be performed long before EMS could be on scene. If you carry a firearm this is the minimum level of tactical medical training you should have.

This course is designed to give you the knowledge and skill necessary to identify and manage those immediately life-threatening injuries, whether they occur to you or another individual, while you are still engaged in an ongoing tactical problem.

This class is completely consistent with current Tactical Combat Casualty Care guidelines as well as the guidelines for Tactical Emergency Casualty Care.

Tactical Casualty Care Subjects Covered:
- The true nature and myths of civilian gunshot wounds and realities of their medical management
- How to rapidly determine the relative seriousness of an injury and how that will affect your tactical treatment plan
- The concept of “care under fire” and how it differs from a non-tactical medical situation
- The safe and efficient use of improvised and Commercially available tourniquets
- Techniques for moving casualties to a safer environment
- Basic airway and ventilation assessment and management within a tactical setting
- Assessment and management of bleeding and shock
- Assessment and management of penetrating, blunt, as well as blast injuries.

No prior medical knowledge required.

Recommended training for active threat response.

7/10-7/11/2020

Class Title: Advanced Roadside Impairment Driving Enforcement (ARIDE)
Target Audience: Full-time certified police officers
Sponsoring Agency: Oregon Drug Evaluation and Classification Program, ODOT-TSD, Clatsop County Sheriff’s Office, and the Oregon State Police
When: 7/10-7/11/2020
Registration Deadline: 7/1/20
Contact: see 'Overview';
Hours: 0800-1700
Where: The Best Western Plus: 414 N Prom, Seaside, OR 97138
Cost: Free. Meals and lodging are at the expense of the participating agency.
Instructors: Course Manager: Sergeant Robert Hayes - Albany Police Department
Overview: The Oregon Drug Evaluation and Classification Program (DECP) have received national acclaim for its success in identifying the drug impaired driver. Advanced Roadside Impairment Driving Enforcement (ARIDE) was developed by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration and created to address the gap between Standardized Field Sobriety Testing (SFST) and the Drug Evaluation and Classification (DECP) Program. ARIDE is a 16-hour curriculum that provides officers with general knowledge related to drug impairment and promotes the use of certified Drug Recognition Experts. Additionally, ARIDE is an intermediate level impaired driving course with an SFST proficiency examination. The student should be fully conversant with the HGN procedural "mechanics" of HGN with the three clues of HGN and with the interpretation of those clues for assessing alcohol impairment. A major focus is on the examination of a drug-impaired suspect's eyes and the procedures of those eye examinations derive largely from HGN procedures. The successful completion of this course does not qualify the student as a Drug Recognition Expert (DRE).

Questions: Contact Sgt. Tim Plummer at tplumme@osp.oregon.gov or Audrey Guillory at AGuillo@osp.oregon.gov

Prerequisites: One year of law enforcement experience. The student registering for ARIDE should be familiar with the extent of the drug impaired driving problem and must have completed the basic Standardized Field Sobriety Testing (SFST), Drugs that Impair Driving, and a recent SFST refresher/update

Registration: Email Audrey Guillory (DRE Program Assistant) of the Oregon State Police at ospdre@osp.oregon.gov. Class size is limited to the first 24 students.
Attire: July 10th - Agency uniform or business casual (No Jeans)
Class Needs: Face mask to be used during the SFST proficiencies for safety protocols related to COVID-19. All other training materials are provided by the Oregon Drug Evaluation and Classification Program.

Kathy is a professional visual tracker, with over 20 years of experience. She is a student and instructor for Joel Hardin Professional Tracking Services and Visual Tracking and Training Incorporated, as well as a court recognized expert in visual tracking. She has testified as an expert in tracking evidence in murder, robbery and rape cases. Detective Decker regularly instructs classes with Dr. Kathy Taylor (Forensic Anthropologists for the KCMEO) on buried human remain detection. During her tenure with KCSO Detective Decker has utilized K-9's trained in HRD as well as tracking/trailing as part of her crime scene investigation.

Anthony Lorange, Lincoln County Sheriff’s Office (Ret.)
Anthony Lorange retired after 25 years as a police officer in Oregon. During his last 12 years he was assigned as a detective on a regional narcotics task force.
For 20 years he has been a member of the Lincoln County Sheriff’s Office Search & Rescue team. During which time he trained / deployed a human remains detection K9 and currently serves as the team’s lead tracker and designated visual tracking trainer.
He is a professional tracker, with over eight years of experience. His certification and continued training is through Joel Hardin Professional Tracking Services and Visual Tracking and Training Incorporated. He has utilized his tracking training to investigate incidents that have included missing persons, suicides, burglaries, attempted murder and DTO grows.

Ron Glaus, Polk County Sheriff's Office
Ron is a semi-retired Forensic Psychologist who joined the Polk County (Oregon) Sheriff’s Office completing the Sheriff’s Reserve Academy in 1986. He provided psychological services to law enforcement agencies across Oregon including: pre-employment, special teams and, fitness for duty

Cost: $225.00

Instructors: Lieutenant Kevin Mailman

Overview: For law enforcement professionals, communication skills are the most important of all the skills and they are essential to flourish in this profession, especially today! Being an effective communicator leads to success in all aspects of a law enforcement career. Being a poor communicator can often result in poor interpersonal relationships, citizen complaints, and, possibly, injury or death. While officers, too often, view communication as a one-way activity meant to direct and control others, citizens complain that officers just don’t listen. This leads to frustration, improper communication, escalation and altercation.

This course will train officers how to be better communicators in the street and during routine and stressful situations. Officers will learn how to make more effective initial contact with citizens, motorists, emotionally-charged people, inmates, and even criminal offenders. Officers will be instructed on the importance of making a strong but "tactical" first contact and keeping situations from escalating. Through the use of video, roleplays and realistic scenarios, officers will be immersed into challenging situations so they "experience" and "feel" the most effective way to "calm down" someone and "avoid" the use of force. However, "officer safety" and "avoiding community complaints" will be the goal of this course. Officers will learn to listen "actively", speak "tactically", use the other person’s words to his/her advantage, and to "win people over" rather than "muscle or threaten" their way to solve problems. This fun and dynamic training course can help officers and agencies in a variety of ways.

Lieutenant Kevin Mailman is a 23 year Police veteran who attributes a great deal of his communication skills to his experience dealing with gang members, combined with his knowledge of, and passion for, gang intelligence. Kevin’s rapport with gang affiliated inmates, opened a spot for his assignment to the Worcester County Sheriff’s Office Gang Intelligence Unit in 2007. Today, Kevin serves as the agency’s primary intelligence repository for gang related activity and his program and procedures received National acceptance during the American Correctional Association Accreditation process in 2009.

Overview: Advanced Strangulation Training, Presented by the Training Institute of Strangulation Prevention

Strangulation has been identified as one of the most lethal forms of domestic violence and sexual assault: unconsciousness may occur within seconds and death within minutes. Strangulation is an ultimate form of power and control where the batterer can demonstrate control over the victim’s next breath: it may have devastating psychological effects or a potentially fatal outcome.

The Training Institute on Strangulation Prevention provides the most current and up-to-date curriculum on strangulation crimes from a multi-disciplinary perspective and these trainings have been recognized throughout the country as the premier source for information related to strangulation.

The focus of this training will be on how domestic violence and sexual assault professionals can SAVE LIVES and IMPROVE their response to strangulation crimes, the most lethal and serious cases in the context of domestic violence and sexual assault. Attendees of this training will learn how to: identify the signs and symptoms of non-fatal strangulation cases; understand and recognize the anatomy and medical aspects of surviving and non-surviving victims; investigate and document cases for prosecution; prosecute cases, including using experts in court; and, most importantly, enhance victim safety through trauma-informed advocacy services.

Please see Training Institute on Strangulation Prevention for more information on the Institute.

Overview: The FBI‐LEEDA Executive Leadership Institute (ELI) is an innovative 4 1/2-day program designed for executive‐level law enforcement leaders and those leaders aspiring to executive level leadership positions. ELI focuses on the emerging challenges facing 21st century police leaders, as well as planning and navigating the political waters of executive leadership. This highly interactive program follows the FBI‐LEEDA “cops talking to cops” model of professional development where students will engage in guided leadership discussions with instructors and other students. The course first looks inward to identify the forces of change and emerging trends within law enforcement, such as the challenges of recruiting, hiring and leading different social generational cohorts and different cultural groups within the workforce. The ELI also presents leadership strategies that emphasize the importance of public trust and legitimacy, officer wellness, social and emotional intelligence.

Instructors:

Overview: The Dare to Be Great leadership workshop addresses barriers, which often get in the way of achieving organizational excellence and provides a framework for changing the way you think about leadership, and strategies for pushing decision making down to the appropriate levels in the organization. The workshop also explores the concept of Finite and Infinite Games and how they apply to leadership and to law enforcement organizations. Strategies for developing an Infinite Mindset in an organization, and as a leader will be examined during the workshop. You will leave the workshop with clearly identified takeaways and action steps you can implement when you return to the workplace as well as strategies and tools to help you become a better leader. The goal of the workshop however, is for you to walk away with more questions than answers. It is those questions regarding culture, your role in changing the organization and future steps to make you a better leader, which will help you on your journey be the leader your family, your personnel, your organization, your community and your profession need you to be, and deserve you to be and to help you create a culture of leadership in your organization.

Instructors: FBI-LEEDA

Overview: The FBI-LEEDA Supervisor Leadership Institute (SLI) is a foundational 4½-day course that helps prepare the next generation of police leaders for their critical first steps in police leadership. Supervisors and managers at higher levels will benefit from the topics covered in this course, appreciating how first line supervisors are critical to the success of the organization. To lead others, we must first know ourselves and SLI takes us on that part of the leadership journey. Among the modules covered in this course, students will find out how the DISC factors, Dominance, Influence, Steadiness and Compliance, can predict your behavior towards others in day-to-day interactions. The students will thoroughly examine the concepts of credibility, accountability and motivation, while becoming familiar with aspects of liability and discipline that are vital to leadership at all levels of the organization.
