Instructors: Course Manager: Sergeant Ben Drongesen - Benton County Sheriff’s Office

Overview: The Oregon Drug Evaluation and Classification Program (DECP) have received national acclaim for its success in identifying the drug impaired driver. Advanced Roadside Impairment Driving Enforcement (ARIDE) was developed by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration and created to address the gap between Standardized Field Sobriety Testing (SFST) and the Drug Evaluation and Classification (DEC) Program. ARIDE is a 16-hour curriculum that provides officers with general knowledge related to drug impairment and promotes the use of certified Drug Recognition Experts. Additionally, ARIDE is an intermediate level impaired driving course with an SFST proficiency examination. The student should be fully conversant with the HGN procedural "mechanics" of HGN with the three clues of HGN and with the interpretation of those clues for assessing alcohol impairment. A major focus is on the examination of a drug-impaired suspect's eyes and the procedures of those eye examinations derive largely from HGN procedures. The successful completion of this course does not qualify the student as a Drug Recognition Expert (DRE).

Questions: Contact Sgt. Tim Plumme at tplumme@osp.oregon.gov or Audrey Guillory at AGuillo@osp.oregon.gov

Prerequisites: One year of law enforcement experience. The student registering for ARIDE should be familiar with the extent of the drug impaired driving problem and must have completed the basic Standardized Field Sobriety Testing (SFST), Drugs that Impair Driving, and a recent SFST refresher/update.

Registration: Email Audrey Guillory (DRE Program Assistant) of the Oregon State Police at ospdre@osp.oregon.gov. Class size is limited to the first 24 students.
Registration needs to be submitted to Audrey Guillory no later than June 26, 2020.

Hours: 0800-1600 each day

Where: ONLINE

Cost: $390 per attendee

Instructors:

Overview: This course provides public safety professionals of all ranks, sworn and civilian, with practical time-tested leadership lesson learned from the arena. The program has been developed to prepare today’s leaders to confront the new reality of heightened transparency and unprecedented expectations. As one of the nation’s most experienced police chiefs, Harry P. Dolan places a laser-like focus on specific leadership actions and traits that have led to success or failure when navigating challenging times. "We are not doomed to repeat history if we grow to understand that war stories may indeed be case studies. When combined with evidence-based research, these case studies and practical experience contain valuable leadership lessons."

Course Objectives:

- Understand the research on field leadership in public safety: Stop guessing and start applying what we know works
- Establish a solid understanding of performance motivational theory.
- Identify what great leaders do when bad things happen.
- Understand commander’s intent, unity in command and groupthink.
- Build and maintain professional ethics throughout the organization: Why the "taking care of the troops" philosophy doesn’t have to result in compromising high expectations.

Instructor: Chief Harry Dolan, CEO, Dolan Consulting Group. Harry P. Dolan is a 32-year police veteran who served as Chief of Police since 1987. As one of the nation’s most experienced police chiefs, he brings 25 years of public safety executive experience to Dolan Consulting Group. Chief Dolan began his law enforcement career in 1980 as a deputy sheriff in Asheville, North Carolina and served there until early 2982, when he joined the Raleigh Police Department, where he served as a patrol officer. In 1987, he was appointed Chief of Police for the N.C. Department of Human Resources Police Department, located in Black Mountain. He served as Chief of Police in Lumberton, N.C. from 1992 until 1998, when he became Chief of Police of the Grand Rapids Michigan Police Department. He served in that capacity for nearly ten years before becoming Chief of the Raleigh Police Department in September 2007. Chief Dolan has lectured throughout the US and has training thousands of public safety professionals in the fields of leadership and management, communications skills and community policing. Past participants have consistently described Chief Dolan’s presentations as career changing, characterized by his sense of humor and unique ability to maintain participants’ interest throughout his training sessions.

Overview: The FBI-LEEDA Executive Leadership Institute (ELI) is an innovative 4 1/2-day program designed for executive-level law enforcement leaders and those leaders aspiring to executive level leadership positions. ELI focuses on the emerging challenges facing 21st century police leaders, as well as planning and navigating the political waters of executive leadership. This highly interactive program follows the FBI-LEEDA "cops talking to cops" model of professional development where students will engage in guided leadership discussions with instructors and other students. The course first looks inward to identify the forces of change and emerging trends within law enforcement, such as the challenges of recruiting, hiring and leading different social generational cohorts and different cultural groups within the workforce. The ELI also presents leadership strategies that emphasize the importance of public trust and legitimacy, officer wellness, social and emotional intelligence.

Overview: The Department of Public Safety Standards and Training will be offering Emergency Vehicle Operations Instructor Development in 2020. Unlike previous years, this course will occur with a new scheduling format and series of course requirements. We will be offering a course that begins in the spring and another series of courses that begin in the summer.

EVOIC will occur in four separate segments and participants will receive certificates of completion for each segment. Segments #1 and #2 (EVOIC 1 and EVOIC 2) will be delivered at various regional training locations in a forty (40) hour block. Certificates of completion for "Principles of Adult Learning" and "Basic Vehicle Dynamics and Driver Behavior" will be issued upon completion of these segments.

The third segment (EVOIC 3) will be conducted on the dedicated facility at DPSST in Salem in a forty (40) hour block. A certificate of completion for Advanced Vehicle Diagnostics and Driver Evaluation" will be issued upon completion of this segment.

The fourth segment (EVOIC #4) is a shadowing requirement that personnel must complete in order to teach programs at DPSST in the Basic and Regional programs. The shadowing requirement can be met with a combination of up to 32 hours of regional training under the supervision of an approved (Academy-Certified) EVO Instructor, and training at the facility in Salem with Basic Police courses, or all of the time can be completed in Salem. DPSST Basic programs require personnel to be certified as instructors in the area of expertise. Personnel completing the shadowing program will be required to commit to providing instruction for DPSST as either a part-time employee of DPSST or through an agency-loaned process. Upon completion of the shadowing segment, personnel will be issued a certificate for completion of "Applied Diagnostics and Evaluation of Drivers."

Overview: The Department of Public Safety Standards and Training will be offering Emergency Vehicle Operations Instructor Development in 2020. Unlike previous years, this course will occur with a new scheduling format and series of course requirements. We will be offering a course that begins in the spring and another series of courses that begin in the summer.

EVOIC will occur in four separate segments and participants will receive certificates of completion for each segment. Segments #1 and #2 (EVOIC 1 and EVOIC 2) will be delivered at various regional training locations in a forty (40) hour block. Certificates of completion for "Principles of Adult Learning" and "Basic Vehicle Dynamics and Driver Behavior" will be issued upon completion of these segments.

The third segment (EVOIC 3) will be conducted on the dedicated facility at DPSST in Salem in a forty (40) hour block. A certificate of completion for Advanced Vehicle Diagnostics and Driver Evaluation" will be issued upon completion of this segment.

The fourth segment (EVOIC #4) is a shadowing requirement that personnel must complete in order to teach programs at DPSST in the Basic and Regional programs. The shadowing requirement can be met with a combination of up to 32 hours of regional training under the supervision of an approved (Academy-Certified) EVO Instructor, and training at the facility in Salem with Basic Police courses, or all of the time can be completed in Salem. DPSST Basic programs require personnel to be certified as instructors in the area of expertise. Personnel completing the shadowing program will be required to commit to providing instruction for DPSST as either a part-time employee of DPSST or through an agency-loaned process. Upon completion of the shadowing segment, personnel will be issued a certificate for completion of "Applied Diagnostics and Evaluation of Drivers."

We will not only share the lessons learned, we will also work through our instructor facilitated problem-solving situations to better prepare any communications professional for quick action. This 8-hour class is bound to be one of the best classes your staff ever attends. Trainers and Supervisors will learn how to coordinate an event and what notifications and resources may be necessary during large or small scale events. PSTC is America's most trusted in-service training provider. We do the homework to present the most professional classes that students can attend. We believe in Lessons Learned rather than &quot;shame on you&quot; and we honor the agencies that have handled events by sharing their accomplishments and their ideas for handling active shooter tragedies with quick, efficient, and compassionate action. This class is for any 9-1-1 or emergency communications professional. It is also in line with IAED protocols. Don't miss this opportunity to learn lessons, prepare for an active assailant event and be better educated for a &quot;high risk, low frequency&quot; event.</td>

Overview: NRA Law Enforcement Firearm Instructor Development Schools develop and enhance both instructor skills and firearm handling skills of all students so they can effectively teach their officers to win lethal encounters. These schools are intended for public and private law enforcement officers and military personnel who are currently assigned, or about to be assigned, duties as law enforcement firearm instructors.

The curriculum is designed to prepare students to develop and conduct safe, effective, reality-based and agency-related firearm training. Classroom instruction and practical exercises on the range provide a model for students to use in building their own agency programs. In addition, the school will enhance each student's firearm knowledge and handling skills. All classes and range exercises are conducted at the instructor level, with students conducting many of the range exercises to gain experience. Students are exposed to a wide variety of shooting techniques, training methods, and tactical philosophies, which allows them to choose what best serves their students.

Each of our Instructor Development Schools consists of a minimum of forty-four (44) contact hours during a five (5) day school. "Contact hours" refers to actual instructional time in the classroom and on the range, and does not include travel time between the lodging and training site, meal times, or range clean-up. Classes will be conducted from approximately 0730 to 1800 Monday, and 0800 to 1730 hours, Tuesday through Friday, plus one late night to accommodate reduced light shooting. 100% attendance and participation is MANDATORY for successful school completion. Students must demonstrate teaching and shooting proficiency and pass a written examination in all of the schools.

Overview: Instructors: Captain Brian Nanavaty (ret.) Indianapolis Metropolitan Police Department; Captain Nanavaty is a 33 year veteran of law enforcement and held a position of Professional Performance Manager for the IMPD prior to his retirement in 2017. His innovative officer wellness and development programs created a culture of health and resulted in a reduction of departmental disciplinary referrals by 40%. During his career, Nanavaty instructed thousands of officers, supervisors, executives and clinicians in the areas of personal and career survival.

Officer James Gray (ret.) Indianapolis Metropolitan Police Department; James Gray is a 23 year veteran of the Indianapolis Metropolitan Police Department, having spent the majority of that time on the street. He was a member of the SWAT team for 18.5 years and was assigned to the Firearms Range within the Training Division. Throughout his career, he was involved in numerous critical incidents, including three lethal police action shootings. He has attended numerous schools, including firearms, explosive breaching, SWAT, and executive protection. James has a B.S. degree from Indiana University.

In 2012, the Indianapolis Metro PD developed a comprehensive approach to responding to officer involved shootings (OIS) and other critical incidents, with a dual focus on investigation and maintaining officer health. This holistic response has resulted in officers receiving pre-incident inoculation, post incident health resources, completion of a mental health check-up, fulfillment of their investigative responsibilities and internal review, and returning to full duty in good health - usually within a two week period after the incident.

The model focuses on stress and trauma inoculation before the critical incident and responding to the officer post incident with a methodology involving triage and support resources. This preparation and response results in the officer being better equipped to survive a critical incident, assist investigators post incident, while also being pro-actively engaged in long-term healthy practices.

Course Objectives:
- Recognize, understand and address some of the physical, mental and emotional stresses that occur after an officer involved shooting or other critical incident
- Understand the benefits of implementing organizational strategies for educating and maintaining healthy employees in the aftermath of a critical incident
- Identifying the three responses that need to occur in the first 24, 48 and 72 hours after the occurrence of an officer involved shooting or critical incident to ensure the long term health of the officer and the agency
4/21-4/22/2020

Class Title: Navigating the Officer Involved Shooting & Critical Incidents

- Understand how an agency can reduce the stresses of a police action shooting for the officers involved, the department, and the community

Overview: Many investigations may be enhanced with evidence recovered by a Forensic Document Examiner. Bank robbery demand notes, bomb threats, sexually harassing notes, forged vehicle documents, forged checks or embezzlement records, suicide notes, forged or altered prescriptions, and documents related to homicide investigations are all examples of cases submitted to document examiners.

Handwriting, particularly signatures, are the most common type of cases submitted for examination. However, evidence gathered from other than handwriting are lesser known examination types a document examiner is capable of performing.

The class will provide insight related to handwriting beyond the surface layer we are familiar with on a daily basis. Discussions will take place regarding the features of our natural writing, indications of a simulated signature, tracings, and "cut and paste" fabrications. Additionally, non-handwriting examinations will be explored with information about the laboratory instrumentation used.

Jim Green, has over 30 years of experience, beginning with a 2½ year apprenticeship at the Eugene Police Department. Upon his retirement from the police department in 2000, he established his full-time private practice. Casework has taken him to Canada, Belize, Trinidad, Jamaica, as well as other countries and many states within the U.S.

Mr. Green is certified by the American Board of Forensic Document Examiners, the only privately examiner so certified in Oregon, and northwestern states. He maintains active memberships in three professional organizations. Publications include a chapter in two books and a research paper in the Journal of Forensic Science.

Overview: The Oregon Drug Evaluation and Classification Program (DECP) have received national acclaim for its success in identifying the drug impaired driver. Advanced Roadside Impairment Driving Enforcement (ARIDE) was developed by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration and created to address the gap between Standardized Field Sobriety Testing (SFST) and the Drug Evaluation and Classification (DEC) Program. ARIDE is a 16-hour curriculum that provides officers with general knowledge related to drug impairment and promotes the use of certified Drug Recognition Experts. Additionally, ARIDE is an intermediate level impaired driving course with an SFST proficiency examination. The student should be fully conversant with the HGN procedural "mechanics" of HGN with the three clues of HGN and with the interpretation of those clues for assessing alcohol impairment. A major focus is on the examination of a drug-impaired suspect's eyes and the procedures of those eye examinations derive largely from HGN procedures. The successful completion of this course does not qualify the student as a Drug Recognition Expert (DRE).

Prerequisites: One year of law enforcement experience. The student registering for ARIDE should be familiar with the extent of the drug impaired driving problem and must have completed the basic Standardized Field Sobriety Testing (SFST), Drugs that Impair Driving, and a recent SFST refresher/update.

Instructors: Course Manager: Trooper Ryan Clarke, Oregon State Police

Overview: The Oregon Drug Evaluation & Classification Program has received national acclaim for its success in identifying the drug-impaired driver. Officers trained as Drug Recognition Experts (DREs) are frequently called upon to differentiate between drug influence and medical and/or mental disorders. The certified DRE is a critical tool in combating the adverse impact of drug and alcohol impaired driving in our communities.

DRE School is demanding. To receive certification as a DRE, three phases of training must be completed. The following summarizes each phase:

ACADEMIC TRAINING (Phase I & II): This phase is conducted over nine days (72 hours). It includes courses in physiology, vital signs, standardized field sobriety testing (SFST), and extensive material on each of the seven categories of the drugs of abuse. The training includes three written examinations, an SFST proficiency examination and five written quizzes. Students must achieve a minimum of 80% on each examination, and must demonstrate proficiency in administering SFSTs.

CERTIFICATION PHASE (Phase III): After successfully completing the academic portion, the students must complete the certification phase. Certification Training is tentatively scheduled for June 16th-20th and June 23rd-27th, 2020 in Portland, OR. Students will only attend one of the training weeks in Portland. Depending on the size of the class, one week option will be canceled and the groups will combine. This is an additional five days of required training after phase 1 & 2. At this time, the above certification dates are the only dates available in Oregon for 2020. With the recommendation of the DRE State Coordinator, out of state certification training is an option, but will be at the expense of the student’s agency.

It is the student's responsibility to attend and complete the certification requirements within six months following DRE School. The requirements include: conducting a minimum of 12 drug influence evaluations while under the supervision of a DRE instructor; identifying subjects under the influence, and attaining a 80% toxicological confirmation rate. Written reports will be submitted to the DRE instructor observing the evaluation for review and approval. In addition, the student must maintain an accurate progress certification log, DRE rolling log and submit a curriculum vitae. Lastly, the student must pass a comprehensive final knowledge examination, and obtain the written endorsement from two certified DRE instructors and the DRE State Coordinator before obtaining certification and IACP credentials.

Overview: 2020 IACP Technology Conference Education Announced!

Join IACP in Portland, Oregon, May 12-14, for the 2020 Technology Conference to learn about best practices and innovative approaches to technology. Technology continues to play an increasingly important role in the daily work of law enforcement. While incorporating technology can enhance the safety, efficiency, and effectiveness of law enforcement, it can also present new challenges. The 2020 Tech Conference workshops will address a wide range of law enforcement technologies:

- Cybersecurity & Ransomware Plenary Session - Hear from law enforcement agencies that have been victims of ransomware attacks. Speakers will share lessons learned on how the attack impacted operations, their steps to recovery, and cybersecurity solutions to mitigate and defend against future attacks.

- Creating an Investigative Animation - On February 14, 2018, a gunman opened fire at Marjory Stoneman Douglas High School in Parkland, Florida, killing seventeen students and staff members and injuring seventeen others. As part of the investigation, media forensic specialists at the Pinellas County Sheriff's Office were tasked with creating an animation from various sources of evidence. Attendees will have a front row seat to the visual animation and will learn how it was created.

- Everything You Wanted to Know about Digital Evidence Integration but Were Afraid to Ask - Looking to enhance evidence tracking to ensure all investigators have a full picture of the case? Digital Evidence Integration (DEI) accurately links body worn camera videos to other evidence increasing officer and prosecutor productivity. Speakers will share their experiences, lessons learned, and discuss the future of DEI and its implementation in agencies across the United States.

- Roadmap to Mobility: How to Use Smartphones for In-Vehicle and In-Field Computing - Smartphones are now capable of being the computing device that supports in-car, in-station, and in-field police operations. This workshop will provide a detailed roadmap of how to launch a pilot program and transition to a smartphone-centric connected officer program.

The full workshop schedule is now available on the event page. To review the schedule, register, and book accommodations, please visit: www.theIACP.org/tech-conference.

Cost: Free. Meals and lodging are at the expense of the participating agency.

Instructors: Course Manager: Lieutenant Mike Iwai, Oregon State Police

Overview: The Oregon Drug Evaluation and Classification Program (DECP) have received national acclaim for its success in identifying the drug impaired driver. Advanced Roadside Impairment Driving Enforcement (ARIDE) was developed by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration and created to address the gap between Standardized Field Sobriety Testing (SFST) and the Drug Evaluation and Classification (DEC) Program. ARIDE is a 16-hour curriculum that provides officers with general knowledge related to drug impairment and promotes the use of certified Drug Recognition Experts. Additionally, ARIDE is an intermediate level impaired driving course with an SFST proficiency examination. The student should be fully conversant with the HGN procedural "mechanics" of HGN with the three clues of HGN and with the interpretation of those clues for assessing alcohol impairment. A major focus is on the examination of a drug-impaired suspect's eyes and the procedures of those eye examinations derive largely from HGN procedures. The successful completion of this course does not qualify the student as a Drug Recognition Expert (DRE).

Questions: Contact Sgt. Tim Plummer at tplumme@osp.oregon.gov or Audrey Guillory at AGuillo@osp.oregon.gov

Prerequisites: One year of law enforcement experience. The student registering for ARIDE should be familiar with the extent of the drug impaired driving problem and have completed the basic Standardized Field Sobriety Testing (SFST), Drugs that Impair Driving, and a recent SFST refresher/update.

Registration Deadline: 5/14/20

Hours: 0800-1600 (both days)
Where: Redmond City Hall, room #208, 411 SW 9th St. Redmond, OR 97756
Cost: $225.00

Instructors: Lieutenant Kevin Mailman

Overview: For law enforcement professionals, communication skills are the most important of all the skills and they are essential to flourish in this profession, especially today! Being an effective communicator leads to success in all aspects of a law enforcement career. Being a poor communicator can often result in poor interpersonal relationships, citizen complaints, and, possibly, injury or death. While officers, too often, view communication as a one-way activity meant to direct and control others, citizens complain that officers just don’t listen. This leads to frustration, improper communication, escalation and altercation.

This course will train officers how to be better communicators in the street and during routine and stressful situations. Officers will learn how to make more effective initial contact with citizens, motorists, emotionally-charged people, inmates, and even criminal offenders. Officers will be instructed on the importance of making a strong but "tactical" first contact and keeping situations from escalating. Through the use of video, roleplays and realistic scenarios, officers will be immersed into challenging situations so they "experience" and "feel" the most effective way to "calm down" someone and "avoid" the use of force. However, "officer safety" and "avoiding community complaints" will be the goal of this course. Officers will learn to listen "actively," speak "tactically," use the other person’s words to his/her advantage, and to "win people over" rather than "muscle or threaten" their way to solve problems. This fun and dynamic training course can help officers and agencies in a variety of ways.

Lieutenant Kevin Mailman Kevin is a 23 year Police veteran who attributes a great deal of his communication skills to his years investigating and interviewing gang members. Kevin’s rapport with gang affiliated inmates opened a spot for his assignment to the Worcester County Sheriff’s Office Gang Intelligence Unit in 2007. Today, Kevin serves as the agency’s primary intelligence repository for gang related activity and his program and procedures received National acceptance during the American Correctional Association Accreditation process in 2009.

Hours:

Where: West Linn PD

Cost: $249.00 (includes tourniquet and pressure dressing)

Instructors:

Overview: This 10-hour course covers the first few minutes of tactical casualty evaluation. Largely focused on the Care Under Fire / Direct Threat phases of care. This phase emphasizes efficient hemorrhage control, largely with tourniquets and patient movement.

Most penetrating injuries are not immediately life threatening. However, there are some injuries where death before the arrival of EMS is almost assured if not managed correctly and rapidly. If such injuries occur to you or another during an ongoing fight, recognition and concise management of the injuries is critical. From a law enforcement standpoint, this phase of care will necessarily be performed long before EMS could be on scene. If you carry a firearm this is the minimum level of tactical medical training you should have.

This course is designed to give you the knowledge and skill necessary to identify and manage those immediately life-threatening injuries, whether they occur to you or another individual, while you are still engaged in an ongoing tactical problem.

This class is completely consistent with current Tactical Combat Casualty Care guidelines as well as the guidelines for Tactical Emergency Casualty Care.

Tactical Casualty Care Subjects Covered:
- The true nature and myths of civilian gunshot wounds and realities of their medical management
- How to rapidly determine the relative seriousness of an injury and how that will affect your tactical treatment plan
- The concept of “care under fire” and how it differs from a non-tactical medical situation
- The safe and efficient use of improvised and Commercially available tourniquets
- Techniques for moving casualties to a safer environment
- Basic airway and ventilation assessment and management within a tactical setting
- Assessment and management of bleeding and shock
- Assessment and management of penetrating, blunt, as well as blast injuries.

No prior medical knowledge required.

Recommended training for active threat response.

Instructors: Course Manager: Sergeant Robert Hayes - Albany Police Department

Overview: The Oregon Drug Evaluation and Classification Program (DECP) have received national acclaim for its success in identifying the drug impaired driver. Advanced Roadside Impairment Driving Enforcement (ARIDE) was developed by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration and created to address the gap between Standardized Field Sobriety Testing (SFST) and the Drug Evaluation and Classification (DEC) Program. ARIDE is a 16-hour curriculum that provides officers with general knowledge related to drug impairment and promotes the use of certified Drug Recognition Experts. Additionally, ARIDE is an intermediate level impaired driving course with an SFST proficiency examination. The student should be fully conversant with the HGN procedural "mechanics" of HGN with the three clues of HGN and with the interpretation of those clues for assessing alcohol impairment. A major focus is on the examination of a drug-impaired suspect's eyes and the procedures of those eye examinations derive largely from HGN procedures. The successful completion of this course does not qualify the student as a Drug Recognition Expert (DRE).

Questions: Contact Sgt. Tim Plummer at tplumme@osp.oregon.gov or Audrey Guillory at AGuillo@osp.oregon.gov

Prerequisites: One year of law enforcement experience. The student registering for ARIDE should be familiar with the extent of the drug impaired driving problem and must have completed the basic Standardized Field Sobriety Testing (SFST), Drugs that Impair Driving, and a recent SFST refresher/update.

Overview: For law enforcement professionals, communication skills are the most important of all the skills and they are essential to flourish in this profession, especially today! Being an effective communicator leads to success in all aspects of a law enforcement career. Being a poor communicator can often result in poor interpersonal relationships, citizen complaints, and, possibly, injury or death. While officers, too often, view communication as a one-way activity meant to direct and control others, citizens complain that officers just don’t listen. This leads to frustration, improper communication, escalation and altercation.

This course will train officers how to be better communicators in the street and during routine and stressful situations. Officers will learn how to make more effective initial contact with citizens, motorists, emotionally-charged people, inmates, and even criminal offenders. Officers will be instructed on the importance of making a strong but “tactical” first contact and keeping situations from escalating. Through the use of video, roleplays and realistic scenarios, officers will be immersed into challenging situations so they "experience" and "feel" the most effective way to "calm down" someone and "avoid" the use of force. However, "officer safety" and "avoiding community complaints" will be the goal of this course. Officers will learn to listen "actively", speak "tactically", use the other person’s words to his/her advantage, and to "win people over" rather than "muscle or threaten" their way to solve problems. This fun and dynamic training course can help officers and agencies in a variety of ways.

Lieutenant Kevin Mailman is a 23 year Police veteran who attributes a great deal of his communication skills to his experience dealing with gang members, combined with his knowledge of, and passion for, gang intelligence. Kevin’s rapport with gang affiliated inmates, opened a spot for his assignment to the Worcester County Sheriff’s Office Gang Intelligence Unit in 2007. Today, Kevin serves as the agency’s primary intelligence repository for gang related activity and his program and procedures received National acceptance during the American Correctional Association Accreditation process in 2009.

Overview: Advanced Strangulation Training, Presented by the Training Institute of Strangulation Prevention

Strangulation has been identified as one of the most lethal forms of domestic violence and sexual assault: unconsciousness may occur within seconds and death within minutes. Strangulation is an ultimate form of power and control where the batterer can demonstrate control over the victim’s next breath: it may have devastating psychological effects or a potentially fatal outcome.

The Training Institute on Strangulation Prevention provides the most current and up-to-date curriculum on strangulation crimes from a multi-disciplinary perspective and these trainings have been recognized throughout the country as the premier source for information related to strangulation.

The focus of this training will be on how domestic violence and sexual assault professionals can SAVE LIVES and IMPROVE their response to strangulation crimes, the most lethal and serious cases in the context of domestic violence and sexual assault. Attendees of this training will learn how to: identify the signs and symptoms of non-fatal strangulation cases; understand and recognize the anatomy and medical aspects of surviving and non-surviving victims; investigate and document cases for prosecution; prosecute cases, including using experts in court; and, most importantly, enhance victim safety through trauma-informed advocacy services.

Please see Training Institute on Strangulation Prevention for more information on the Institute.
