NOTICE FILED DATE: 09/10/2020

RULE SUMMARY: The Department collects fees for the private security provider certification and licensure program. The forms of payment that are accepted are business checks, cashier's checks, money orders, and credit cards. It is not uncommon to receive a fee amount greater than the amount due (overpayment).

Before this rule change, the Department rejected and returned unprocessed any payment that included an overpayment. This caused delays in issuing certifications and licenses. This rule change establishes a Department process for overpayments to allow for more efficient processing of applications for private security certifications and licenses.

Overpayments will be handled in accordance with the rule. If the overpayment amount is $10.01 or more, the payment will be rejected and returned unprocessed to the payee for re-submission of the correct amount. If the overpayment amount is $10.00 or less, the payment will be accepted and processed. The payee may request a refund of the overpaid amount by submitting a written request.

In addition to establishing criteria for processing overpayments, the rule change included revisions for clarity and consistency. The rule revisions did not make any changes to existing fee amounts but did add administrative fees the Department charges for the training accreditation process, the range fee for the Private Security Firearms Instructor Course at DPSST, and the course fee for instructor applicants who choose to complete the DPSST Handgun Instructor Development Course, which had not been listed in the rule before.
