BENEFITS, TRIBAL GOVERNMENTS, CONTRIBUTIONS, & ASSISTANCE GRANTS

ORS 657B.010 through ORS 657B.110 establish benefit claim administration for Paid Leave Oregon. The following administrative rules add or clarify when overpaid benefits become uncollectible, limit the collection timeframe, update the process for claimants to request a waiver, and specify the timeframe within which a waiver request can be submitted. The rules below also clarify, based on SB 858 (2025), that any federal or state wage-replacement unemployment benefits will disqualify a claimant from Paid Leave Oregon benefits. The following rules also update the verification document standards for medical leave and bonding leave for placement of a child. Additionally, the proposed rules clarify the timeframes for employees providing late notice to employers for good cause and what is acceptable as good cause for late applications and weekly claims. Lastly, the model notice workplace poster rule is being amended to require employers to update the poster whenever a new poster becomes available.

ORS 657B.150 establishes requirements regarding employer and employee contributions and the maximum contribution rate. The department has proposed adopting and amending rules in accordance with IRS Revenue Ruling 2025-4 to allow allocation of contributions based on leave type.

All proposed administrative rules have an identifying action in their titles. If an administrative rule is being proposed for amendment, new and deleted language is shown in red below while current language not being changed is shown in black. If an administrative rule is being proposed for adoption, it will be shown entirely in red as all the language is new.

471-070-1010 – Benefits: Eligibility and Qualification for Benefits (amended)

(1) For an individual to be eligible to receive Paid Leave Oregon benefits, the individual must:

(a) Be one of the following:

(A) An employee;

(B) A self-employed individual who has elected coverage under ORS 657B.130 and in accordance with OAR 471-070-2010 and whose coverage is currently in effect; or

(C) An employee of a tribal government, where the tribal government has elected coverage under ORS 657B.130 and where the tribal government's coverage is currently in effect.

(b) Earn at least:

(A) $1,000 in subject wages, as defined in OAR 471-070-1000, in either the base year or alternate base year;

(B) $1,000 in taxable income from self-employment, as defined in OAR 471-070-2000, in either the base year or alternate base year; or

(C) $1,000 in a combination of subject wages and taxable income from self-employment in either the base year or alternate base year.

(c) Contribute to the Paid Leave Oregon Fund established under ORS 657B.430 in accordance with ORS 657B.150 and OAR 471-070-2030 during the base year or alternate base year, as applicable;

(d) Experience a qualifying purpose for benefits under ORS 657B.020;

(e) Have current Oregon employment or self-employment from which they are expected to be available to work but are taking leave from work as described in OAR 471-070-1015;

(f) Submit an application for benefits in accordance with all requirements under ORS 657B.090 and OAR 471-070-1100;

(g) Have not exceeded their maximum paid leave and benefit amounts under ORS 657B.020 and OAR 471-070-1030 in the active benefit year; and

(h) Have no current disqualifications from receiving benefits due to:

(A) The individual being eligible to receive workers' compensation time loss benefits under ORS chapter 656, or Unemployment Insurance benefits under ORS chapter 657 wage replacement benefits under a state or federal unemployment benefits program; or

(B) A director determination under ORS 657B.332 that the individual previously willfully made a false statement or willfully failed to report a material fact in order to obtain benefits.

(2) An individual may not exceed 12 weeks of paid leave per child for the purpose of caring for and bonding with the child during the first year after the birth or initial placement of the child or for the purpose of pre-placement leave, regardless whether a new benefit year starts during the first year following birth or initial placement or during the pre-placement process.

(3) An individual may not take the two additional weeks of leave for limitations related to pregnancy, childbirth, or related medical condition more than once per pregnancy, regardless of whether the individual has started a new benefit year.

Example 1: Juan files an application for benefits for seven weeks of paid leave and is approved by the department to care for a family member with a serious health condition and begins a benefit year on November 3, 2024. After returning from this leave, Juan has five weeks of leave remaining in the balance of their benefit year. In March 2025, Juan and their partner adopt a child. Juan submits an application for benefits to the department and is approved for the remaining five weeks of paid leave in the benefit year in order to care for and bond with the newly adopted child. Juan's benefit year expires on November 1, 2025, and Juan submits a new application for benefits to the department. Juan is approved for leave to care for and bond with the same child and starts a new benefit year. Because Juan already bonded with the same child for five weeks in the prior benefit year, Juan may only take leave to care for and bond with that child for up to an additional seven weeks in the new benefit year.

Example 2: Julie files an application for benefits and is approved for leave for their own serious health condition and begins a benefit year on September 15, 2024. Julie takes two weeks of leave to recover from the serious health condition and then returns to work. In June 2025, Julie gives birth to twins. Julie submits an application for benefits to the department and is approved for ten weeks of leave to care for and bond with the first twin. Julie's benefit year expires on September 13, 2025, and then Julie submits another application for benefits to the department and is approved for twelve weeks of leave to care for and bond with the second twin, starting a new benefit year.

Example 3: Winona decides to adopt a child and applies for pre-placement leave to arrange the adoption. Winona is approved for twelve weeks of pre-placement leave in April 2025. In April 2026, Winona's benefit year ends. In May 2026, Winona submits a new application for twelve weeks of pre-placement leave for the same child. Because Winona already took twelve weeks of pre-placement leave for the same child in the prior benefit year, Winona's application for benefits is denied. In September 2026, the child is placed in Winona's home through adoption. Winona submits a new application for bonding leave, and is approved for twelve weeks of leave to care for and bond with the adopted child.

Example 4: In April 2025, Leyla gives birth to twins. Julie Leyla submits an application for benefits to the department and is approved for six weeks of bonding leave to care for and bond with the first twin and for two weeks of additional pregnancy leave for limitations related to childbirth. In July 2025, Leyla submits another application for benefits to the department and requests 6 weeks of leave to care for and bond with the second twin and two weeks of additional pregnancy leave. The department approves Leyla for six weeks of bonding leave for the second twin, but denies the request for additional pregnancy leave, because it can only be taken once per pregnancy.

Example: Kendrick applied on June 1, 2028, for 12 weeks of consecutive family leave to bond with their new child starting on August 1, 2028. (5) A complete application for Paid Leave Oregon benefits may be submitted to the department up to 30 calendar days after the start of family, medical, or safe leave. Applications submitted after this timeframe will be processed as follows:

(b) If some of the leave occurred more than 30 days before the complete application was submitted, the period of leave that occurred more than 30 days before the application was submitted will be denied, except as provided in section (6) of this rule.

Example 1: Ikechi applied on April 15, 2029, for four weeks of consecutive medical leave starting on February 1, 2029. The application is denied because the entire period of leave occurred more than 30 days before the application was submitted.

Example 2: Larissa applied on November 1, 2029, for one day of intermittent family leave per week over a six-month period, starting on September 1, 2029. Larissa's requested leave dates from September 1, 2029, to October 1, 2029, are denied because those dates occurred more than 30 calendar days before the application was submitted. 471-070-1300 – Benefits: Written Notice Poster to Employees of Rights and Duties (amended)

(1) The director shall make available to employers a model Paid Leave Oregon notice poster that meets the requirements of ORS 657B.440.

471-070-1310 – Benefits: Employee Notice to Employers Prior to Commencing Leave (amended)

- (1) Except as provided in ORS 657B.040(5) for safe leave, an eligible employee must give notice to their employer when commencing a period of family, medical, or safe leave.
- (2) If the leave is foreseeable, an eligible employee must give oral notice at least 30 calendar days before commencing leave and an employer may require an eligible employee to give written notice at least 30 calendar days before commencing leave. Examples of foreseeable leave include, but are not limited to, an expected birth, planned placement of a child, or a scheduled medical treatment for a serious health condition of the eligible employee or a family member of the eligible employee.
- (3) If the leave is not foreseeable, an eligible employee may commence leave without 30 calendar days advance notice. However, the eligible employee or another person on behalf of the eligible employee taking leave must give oral notice to the employer within 24 hours of the commencement of the leave and must provide written notice within three days after the commencement of leave. Leave circumstances that are not foreseeable include, but are not limited to, an unexpected serious health condition of the eligible employee or a family member of the eligible employee, a premature birth, an unexpected adoption, an unexpected foster placement by or with the eligible employee, or for safe leave.
- (4) An employer may require a written notice to include:
 - (a) Employee's first and last name;
 - (b) Type of leave;
 - (c) Explanation of the need for leave; and
 - (d) Actual or anticipated timing and duration of leave.
- (5) Written notice includes, but is not limited to, handwritten or typed notices, and electronic communication such as text messages and email that is consistent with the employer's known, reasonable, and customary policies.
- (6) An employer that requires eligible employees to provide written notice before the eligible employee commences leave, must outline the requirements in the employer's written policy and procedures. A copy of the written policy and procedure must be provided to all employees at the time of hire and each time the policy and procedure changes and in the language that the employer typically uses to communicate with the employee. If the employer requires the employee to provide written notice, the policy and procedures must include a description of the benefit reduction under section (10) of this rule that may be imposed by the department for not complying with the employer's notice requirements.
- (7) An employee does not need to expressly mention the Paid Leave Oregon program when giving their employer written or oral notice under this rule.
- (8) The department will notify the employer pursuant to OAR 471-070-1320(1) when a claimant has applied for paid family, medical, or safe leave benefits. The employer may respond to the notice from the department within 10 calendar days from the date on the department's notice to report if the claimant did not provide the required notice under this rule. The employer may respond to the department's notice either online or by another method approved by the department.

(9) If the employer does not respond to the department's notice as described in section (8) of this rule within 10 calendar days from the date on the department's notice, the claimant's application for benefits shall be processed using the information available in the department's records.

(10) If the department determines that the claimant did not provide the required leave notice to the employer, the department may impose a benefit reduction by issuing a decision and reducing the first weekly benefit amount payable under ORS 657B.090 by 25 percent. The first benefit payment issued will be reduced by the entire amount of the reduction. If the first benefit payment issued is less than the entire amount of the reduction, the subsequent benefit payment(s) will be reduced until the entire reduction has been subtracted.

Example 1: Sanomi did not provide the required notice to their employer about taking consecutive family leave. Sanomi's weekly benefit amount is $140. Sanomi is taking leave from work for family leave for all the work days within the first week. The 25 percent benefit reduction equals $35 ($140 weekly benefit amount x .25 reduction). Sanomi's first benefit payment would have been $140, but will be reduced to $105 ($140 benefit payment - $35 reduction). Because the first benefit payment is more than the amount of the reduction, the entire reduction is subtracted from the first benefit payment.

Example 2: Joy did not provide the employer with the required leave notice about taking intermittent medical leave. Joy normally works an average of six work days in a work week and is unable to work one of those days each week due to taking medical leave. Joy's weekly benefit amount is $600, which is prorated to $100 per work day of leave ($600 weekly benefit amount / 6 days per week). The amount of the benefit reduction is $150 ($600 weekly benefit amount x .25 reduction). Joy's first benefit payment would have been $100 because one day of leave from work during that week is taken. However, the first benefit payment is reduced to $0 after the reduction amount is subtracted ($100 first week benefit payment - $150 reduction). The second benefit payment would have been $100 but the second benefit payment is reduced to $50 after the remaining reduction amount is subtracted ($100 second week benefit payment - $50 remaining reduction). The third benefit payment is not reduced as the entire amount of the reduction has already been subtracted from Joy's benefit.

(11) The claimant may appeal the imposition of the benefit reduction in accordance with ORS 657B.410 and applicable administrative rules.

(12) The employee may request a waiver of the benefit reduction for good cause. Good cause ~~exists~~will be found when the employee establishes, by evidence satisfactory ~~to the department~~evidence, that factors or circumstances beyond the employee's reasonable control prevented the employee from providing the required notice to the employer. Good cause includes, but is not limited to, an incapacitating serious health condition or a situation related to safe leave. ~~The waiver of benefit reduction will not be granted unless good cause exists and the employee provided the required notice to the employer within seven calendar days after the circumstances that prevented the employee from providing timely notice have ended, for which the employee provided notice to the employer as soon as was practicable.~~

(13) The department, in its discretion, may waive the imposition of the benefit reduction without a request for a waiver by the employee if the department determines that the employee had good cause for not providing notice to their employer(s) or applying the benefit reduction is against equity, good conscience, or administrative efficiency.

(14) If an employee receives their first weekly benefit payment, and the department subsequently determines that proper notice to the employer was not made by the employee, an amount equal to the 25 percent benefit reduction will be considered an erroneous overpayment, and that amount of the reduction may be collected from the employee in accordance with ORS 657B.332.

~~(68)~~ The Paid Leave Oregon program shall provide information to a claimant about the total federal and state personal income tax withheld for the calendar year from Paid Leave Oregon benefit payments on ~~the federal~~ Form 1099 no later than January 31st following the end of the calendar year.

(b) The claimant may be required to repay the amount of penalty and interest (if applicable);

(c) The director may secure the repayment of the overpaid benefits through the deduction from future benefits otherwise payable to the claimant under ORS 657B.100; ~~and~~

Interest that the claimant is liable for shall be paid and collected at the same time repayment of benefits is made by the individual, at the rate of one percent per month or fraction of a month. Interest will accrue, beginning on the first day of the month that begins 60 calendar days after the administrative decision establishing the overpayment becomes final.

(b) Recovery would be against equity, good conscience, or ~~or~~ administrative efficiency.

(3) The director may determine that recovery of overpaid benefits is against equity or ~~and~~ good conscience if the individual requesting a waiver has limited means to repay the benefits and has total allowable household expenses that equal or exceed 90 percent of the total household income, not including Paid Leave Oregon benefits received. The department will use the current year's Internal Revenue Service (IRS) Collection Financial Standards to determine total allowable household expenses. The date of the post-mark from the United States Postal Service, a date stamp from an Employment Department office, an embedded fax date, or the electronic filing date as described in OAR 471-070-0850, whichever is earliest, will be used to determine the date of filing.

(6) If a request for waiver is denied, the department will notify the claimant of its decision. The claimant may submit another request for waiver if their situation changes significantly enough to establish that recovery of the benefits would be against equity and good conscience. No subsequent request for waiver of benefits may be granted, unless the claimant satisfactorily demonstrates in writing the significant change in financial situation and provides supporting documentation.

(7) Overpaid benefits that have been recovered from the claimant prior to the filing of a waiver request will not be waived or refunded.

(9) In applying ORS 657B.332(5), a waiver will not be granted if the overpayment is a result of a ~~willful~~ false statement, ~~or a willful~~ failure to report a material fact or a misrepresentation as determined under ORS 657B.332(3).
