Enterprise, Ore. — WorkSource Oregon will celebrate the relocation of its Enterprise center with a July 14 ribbon-cutting ceremony at its new office.

The Enterprise WorkSource Oregon center moved into its new location at 401 NE First Street, Suite G, from its previous location inside the Oregon Department of Human Services building. The relocated center provides a more accessible space for job seekers, workers, employers, and community partners to connect with WorkSource Oregon services.

Job seekers can access computers for work search activities, meet with staff, get help exploring job opportunities, and connect with training providers and other workforce resources. The center also supports employer services, Veteran services, and programs connected to Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) employment and training services.

“This move strengthens our ability to serve Wallowa County job seekers and employers in a space that is easier to find, easier to access, and better suited to the work happening there every day,” said Jim Pfarrer, director of the Oregon Employment Department’s Workforce Operations division. “WorkSource Oregon centers are community hubs, and this location gives people a place to connect with staff, technology, training resources, and employment support all in one place.”

The Wallowa County Chamber of Commerce will host the ribbon-cutting ceremony, providing a table with more information and water for the public. The event is open to job seekers, employers, community partners, and members of the public.

“We encourage all community members to come and see our news space,” Area Manager Matt Wilson said. “We can help you find a new job, a new career, or if you’re hiring, we can help you find the right person to meet your needs.”
