WorkSource Oregon Invites Job Seekers to AT&T Hiring Event in Tigard

TIGARD, Ore. — WorkSource Oregon invites job seekers to attend a hiring event with AT&T at its Tigard location on Thursday, March 19, 2026, from 10 a.m. to noon. AT&T staff will be on site to conduct interviews for field sales representative positions. Participants are encouraged to bring their resume.

“We’re excited to partner with WorkSource Oregon to connect talented job seekers with meaningful opportunities at AT&T,” said Joshua Glover, AT&T associate director of In-Home Solutions Northwest States. “Events like this help us meet people where they are, highlight the wide range of careers available in technology and telecommunications, and continue building a workforce that reflects the communities we serve.”

“This is a great opportunity for folks to connect directly with a hiring employer,” said Jim Pfarrer, director of Workforce Operations with the Oregon Employment Department. “This is the time to make a strong impression, and job seekers should come ready to talk about their strengths and experience. Our staff will be on hand to offer resume guidance and help applicants prepare for their interview.”

Successful applicants must have one year of commissions sales experience, a driver’s license, and a clean driving record. The positions are full-time and pay a base salary, plus an uncapped commission. New hires will receive eight days of paid training.

“WorkSource Oregon - Tigard is pleased to bring this exciting event to job seekers in the Portland metro area,” said Jeffrey Janssen, business and employment specialist. “Even if this event isn’t for you, we still encourage you to come into one of our centers. This is just one example of the many services we offer at no cost to help people find a job or get the training they need to be successful.”

The Oregon Employment Department and WorkSource Oregon are proud to partner with businesses and employers across the state in finding qualified employees. If you are interested in collaborating on a hiring event or learning more about our resources for employers, please contact EmployerServices@oregon.gov.
